LOMAX BREAKS AMOS' RECORD AS DRAGONS BREATHE FIRE

AJ LUCANTONIO

Forty-four unanswered second-half points from the St George Illawarra Dragons have seen them top the half-century for the first time at WIN Stadium since 2017, to defeat the battling Wests Tigers in Wollongong tonight while Zac Lomax broke Amos Roberts' record for most points in a single match.

The Tigers started with intent and delivered opening points after just 5 minutes of play. Following an early 40/20 from Api Koroisau, the Tigers set up camp in the Dragons attacking zone and had several chances including Jahream Bula going close to scoring. From the ensuing play, Jayden Sullivan put a clever cross-field kick in and in his maiden NRL start, Alex Lobb crossed for his maiden NRL try. Koroisau was unable to add the extras but it was an impressive Tigers start.

Wests were playing such an expansive style of football in the early stages causing the Dragons defence to be turned around early on. St George Illawarra's defence was further caught napping following a right hand shift, Charlie Staines offloaded it well to Jahream Bula to find the space in open field before linking up with Jayden Sullivan who finished off the movement he started as the former Dragons had their own way in the opening 20 minutes. Koroisau converted for a 10-0 lead.

After earning the first penalty of the match, the St George Illawarra Dragons had some field position and worked their way back into the game after forcing some errors from the Tigers. A clever cross-field kick from Ben Hunt found a swarm of Tigers players lacking the desire to get the ball, fortunately for the hosts, Tyrell Sloan batted it back to Kyle Flanagan to get the Dragons back into it at the 23 minute mark.

Five minutes later, Moses Suli caught a couple of shocking Tigers defenders offside and bumped away from a couple of tacklers to break away. Suli found Lomax who stepped past a couple of would be defenders to level the scores, Lomax's conversion gave the Dragons their first lead of the night.

Despite a crazy end to the half, with both sides playing end to end footy, some push and shove and Flanagan being denied for a double movement, the scores stayed the same right up to the change of ends. Two late Tigers penalties gave them a late chance, Sullivan dug deep into the line to find Alex Seyfarth who redeems himself for the penalty that he conceded minutes earlier and gets the lead back for the visitors on the break.

St George Illawarra capitalised on a slow second half start from the Tigers to cross first. A nice shift saw Flanagan deliver a wonderful pass to Suli get through a yawning gap exposing the poor edge defence of the Tigers. Suli got it away to Mat Feagai to cross for the try. Lomax added the extras for a four point lead. The Dragons soon got an extra man and a converted try lead when Jayden Sullivan was sin-binned for a professional foul, Lomax added the penalty goal for a 20-14 lead.

Capitalising on the extra man advantage and some real elementary mistakes including Solomon Alaimalo mistaking the rules around the sideline. St George Illawarra went down the Sullivan edge to cross. Hunt caught all the defenders on the right edge napping as he delivered a wonderful pass to Luciano Leilua to cross. Lomax converted for a 26-14 lead. Ben Hunt added further salt in the wound with a clever individual try to make it 32-14.

WIN Stadium, Wollongong / Dharawal

The Tigers kept making mistakes and it was their undoing in the second half. Despite having Sullivan return, the young side made another mistake and Leilua pounced on the grubbier kick to cross for his second. Despite their best efforts, Wests' couldn't trouble the scorer in the second half after Seyfarth was denied for a double movement with 15 to go. From that penalty, Jacob Liddle caused havoc in the middle linking up with his middles to send Flanagan away before finding Mat Feagai for his second. Lomax added to his try tally of 2024 with his second. To add further salt into the Tigers wound, the conversion doinked off the upright to bring up the half century. Some last minute trickery saw Hunt do a reverse banana kick to Max Feagai and finds Lomax to cross for a hatrick break the record for most points in a match for the Dragons.

RABBITOHS ROMP PAST TITANIC TITANS

JUSTIN DAVIES

South Sydney Rabbitohs won back-to-back games in their 46-12 win against Gold Coast Titans at Robina Stadium on Saturday afternoon.

It was a big statement win for the Rabbitohs who picked up back-to-back wins for the first time in the 2024 season and it was built off the work from their spine players led by Latrell Mitchell and Cody Walker.

The Rabbitohs showed their intent from the opening set where they went nearly the full length. It took them eight minutes to get on the board when Damien Cook stepped through and sent Latrell Mitchell over.

They continued to march forward with the ball, making metres at ease. Cody Walker provided a superb ball to find Jacob Gagai who had acres to roam on the wing and touched down for 10-0.

Gold Coast Titans hit back with a spectacular effort of their own. Alofiana Khan-Pereira was released down the wing, he turned the defenders inside out before getting the hosts on the board.

At points, this game felt like a basketball game with the up and down nature of the football. Souths had the better finish with some quick hands put Richard Kennar over for 16-6.

The Rabbitohs led 22-6 going into half-time after a precise kick. It was placed well enough to force Alofiana Khan-Pereira to spill it right to Walker who got an easy score.

Both sides had opportunities early in the second half to strike. Michael Chee-Kam had a score chalked off due to an error while Beau Fermor went closest for the Titans but the Rabbitohs defense held firm.

It was a banner afternoon for Mitchell who might have staked his claim for a New South Wales spot. This time, he played provider for Thomas Burgess to rumble over from close range for 28-6.

Souths kept piling on the points late in the contest. Jack Wighton had the Titans line retreating with a strong carry then Peter Mamouzelos engaged the markers before Davvy Moale crashed over.

David Fafita had a running battle with Walker all afternoon. The big man got some personal revenge with a rampaging run which saw him bump off the five-eighth to score.

The Rabbitohs put the icing on the cake late in the contest. Chee-Kam had another effort ruled out by the bunker but a few tackles later, Wighton was able to get it down and we got a ceremonial conversion from Jai Arrow to make it 40-12.

They had one final shot to throw at the tired Titans defence who had given up the ghost. The kick fell to Wighton who invented a pass to Walker who strolled over for his second of the afternoon.

COWBOYS FLATTENED AT HOME AGAINST A REFRESHED WARRIORS SIDE

BETH NICHOLLS

Both sides saw a plethora of star players return from Origin duties [Cowboys] and injuries [Warriors], although the Cowboys just couldn't get the job done against an almost clinical Warriors side.

The first half saw an untidy game of play from the Cowboys, with the side struggling in both defence and attack.

The Warriors got their first four-pointer in the 8th minute through Charnze Nicoll-Klokstad off the back one of the many Cowboys errors.

Continuing to put on a powerful display of attack, the Warriors scored another three unanswered tries in the 13th, 18th and 32nd minute respectively. The side looked cohesive in both their attack and defence, looking refreshed after their Round 13 bye.

Finally, the Cowboys managed to strike back in the 37th minute after a linebreak from Tom Dearden and perfectly timed pass to Scott Drinkwater.

Chalk and cheese would be the phrasing to describe these two teams in the first half. The Warriors playing a clean, direct, and tidy game, being able to easily add on the points. On the other side, the Cowboys are compounding on errors, and just not being able to hold the ball nor have a solid line of defence, the fatigue clearly hitting them.

Having a refreshed halftime break, the Cowboys had a strong start to the second half, improving their ball play and minimising the errors, but they weren't putting on the points to show it.

Dallin Watene-Zelezniak then opens the points scoring for the Warriors in the second half in the 52nd minute, after a crusher penalty on the last tackle of their previous set.

The 60th minute saw both Chanel Harris-Tavita and Chad Townsend sin binned, leaving both sides down a man.

A slightly improved second half from the Cowboys compared to the opening half was not enough, continuously spending time on the Warriors line and unable to come up with points.

In a miracle play in the 68th minute, Watene-Zelezniak manages to keep his foot in the field of play to bat the ball back, for Charnze Nicoll-Klokstad to score a double.

Scott Drinkwater kicks off the 20-metre restart for the Cowboys to then get their first points of the second half in the 73rd minute through Braidon Burns.

Queensland Country Bank Stadium, Townsville / Wulgurukaba

The Warriors clearly wanted to finish in style, scoring another try in the last three minutes, to make the final score line 42-12.

In the end, the Warriors came out on top, as the well deserving winners of the clash, having an excellent game in attack and defence.

Looking ahead to next round, the Cowboys take on the Raiders away from home and the Warriors take on the Storm back across the ditch at home. The Cowboys bye in Round 16 could not come fast enough for them, with the tiredness clearly hitting them, with their attack and defence struggling. Despite missing many key players the Warriors continue to show their dominance, which will only improve with the eventual return of players.

NO NICHU EQUALS NO WORRIES; SHARKS BURST BLOWS BRONCOS AWAY

JOSH ROBERTSON

An eleven minute burst right after half time has seen the Cronulla Sharks take an important 22-12 comeback victory over the Brisbane Broncos at Suncorp Stadium.

The Broncos opened the scoring just after the tenth minute when Jordan Riki was able to keep the ball alive and Kotoni Staggs made a long run before Billy Walters and Pat Carrigan finished things off.

Hitting back a few minutes later, the Sharks proved to the Broncos why you need to wrap the ball up as on last tackle, Cronulla elected to run the ball and keeping the ball alive, the Sharks were able to score through Sifa Talakai.

The Sharks had the majority of possession and field position but they saw the scoreboard going up against them as the Broncos were able to snatch a late try with some luck as Jock Madden's kick was spilt by Braydon Trindall and the home-side was able to clean it up and Tyson Smoothy scored.

Staring down an unexpected 12-4 deficit at half time, the Sharks proved a point as they were able to run in three unanswered tries inside the first eleven minutes of the second half.

The Broncos were in all sorts to start the second half as they looked trapped in quicksand as they couldn't go anywhere and the Sharks had all the momentum as a lost ball saw the Visitors go right and stepping off his right foot, Sione Katoa was able to slice through soft defence.

Ball control wasn't the friend of Brisbane and a lost ball from Kotoni Staggs put the Sharks into good position and again a soft defence was penetrated by a hard run from Braydon Trindall who just through a dummy and split the defence between Pat Carrigan and Brendan Piakura.

The trifecta of tries for the Sharks saw Tristan Sailor's poor night at the back continue as a simple kick was spilt by the Broncos replacement fullback perfectly for the ball to land in the arms of the Sharks and Blayke Brailey was able to get over.

It was all Blue, Black and White in the second half as the Broncos didn't even get close to scoring and although they didn't score for the last half hour, the victory was never in doubt for the Sharks.

Next week, the Broncos will need to buck up their ideas when they have a clash against South Sydney who are growing in confidence whilst the Sharks have a Thursday night battle against the Dolphins at Shark Park.

DEFENCE TAKES A BACKSEAT AS STORM HOLD OFF KNIGHTS

ROB CROSBY

A barrage of tries either side of halftime has paved the way for the Melbourne Storm to extend their dominant record over the Newcastle Knights with a 36-28 victory.

Posting their 11th win from 13 clashes against the Knights at AAMI Park, the Storm crossed for five tries in a 20 minute passage either side of halftime before holding off a fast-finishing Knights side.

In a match which saw both teams make a host of positional changes prior to kick-off, Newcastle debutant Fletcher Sharpe appeared to open the scoring midway through the first 40 only for the bunker to rule the fullback lost control in attempting to score.

The Storm quickly capitalised on their good fortune through Nick Meaney (17th minute), who burnt his former club with pace to collect his 50th career try.

An uncharacteristic error inside the Melbourne half saw Jackson Hastings swoop on a loose ball and link with Dylan Lucas (21st minute) in support to lock the scores up at 6-all.

The Knights withstood multiple repeat sets on their try line and appeared to strike a major blow with Sharpe (30th minute) slicing through at the other end of the field to put the visitors in front.

Turning a six-point deficit into a six-point lead in the final moments of the first half, Jahrome Hughes (38th minute) burrowed underneath the black dot before a chip kick by Grant Anderson off the kick-off allowed Meaney (40th minute) to put the Storm ahead at the change of ends.

An error by Nelson Asofa-Solomona from the kick-off saw Lucas (41st minute) slide over for his first career double, however the joy was short-lived as Tyran Wishart (47th minute) sliced through to extend the Storm's lead beyond a converted try.

The Storm continued to keep the points flowing with Xavier Coates (54th minute) producing an airborne four-pointer and Wishart (60th minute) supporting a break by Anderson to establish a 34-16 advantage.

A try to Dane Gagai (65th minute) gave the Knights a glimmer of hope which grew into a spark when Enari Tuala (76th minute) made amends for an earlier blemish by collecting a first tackle cross-field kick from Jackson Hastings to set up a grandstand finish.

AAMI Park, Melbourne / Wurundjeri

The Knights' hopes of an unlikely comeback were extinguished when Tyson Frizell was sent to the sin bin on the final play of the game; Nick Meaney added a penalty goal to give the Storm a 36-28 victory to the delight of 20,269 supporters in attendance.

Next week, the Storm will travel to Auckland on Saturday to face the Warriors, while the Knights will return home for a Sunday afternoon clash with the Panthers.

PENRITH POUNCE ON MANLY IN TRYSORING FEAST

TIM COSTELLO / DAN NICHOLS

Penrith's Brian To'o and Manly's Tommy Talau have had field days on the wing in a high scoring contest that saw the Panthers finish 32-22 winners at Penrith Park this afternoon.

The scoring took 12 minutes to open, with To'o diving over out wide off a superb shift from Jarome Luai and Daine Laurie.

Around the 20-minute mark, Manly - specifically Talau - turned the game on its head. In the space of seven minutes, the Sea Eagles winger had a hat-trick and the game was turned on its head - visitors suddenly ahead 12-4.

With four tries scored and not a conversion in sight, it was over to Penrith to improve the scenario - something they did with two for To'o which produced two from two conversions from Alamoti. To'o's hat-trick completion put the hosts ahead 16-12 after it was looking a bit dire just a few minutes earlier.

Leading by four at the start of the second half, Penrith improved their position to six clear with a 46th minute penalty goal after a hair pull by Manly's Nathan Brown. Sunia Turuva continued the pattern of players with surnames starting with 'T' scoring tries at the 52 minute mark and put a ten-point buffer on things for his side.

The gap became even more comfortable for the home team, Liam Henry scoring on the hour mark and making things a bit dark for Manly. Not even Talau's fourth try a few minutes later - narrowing the gap to 28-16 - could prevent the Penrith onslaught, and when Turuva picked up his second at the 67th minute, it was well and truly game over.

Ten minutes from time, Jason Saab did his level best to keep the game alive after a shift to the right from his Manly backline, but it proved nothing more than consolation as Penrith held firm for the remainder to be ten-point winners and remain at pace with leaders Melbourne and Cronulla.

Penrith head up the M1 next Sunday to visit Newcastle, while earlier the same afternoon Manly will welcome the Dragons to Brookvale Oval.

NRL ROUND 14 WRAP

KING CRICHTON STARS IN BULLDOGS WIN

ANDREW FERGUSON

An immense crowd of almost 46,000 turned out to watch a brilliant game of football between two old rivals, with the Bulldogs prevailing with a late try.

Bulldogs started strong and made a promising run down the right side before a Stephen Crichton inside ball was ruled forward. The Dogs then gave away 3 consecutive penalties in less than 2 minutes to invite the Eels down into the Dogs red zone.

Then on the 6th minute, Eels shifted right. They didn't have the numbers, but Blaize Talagi got outside his opposite and dived over to score in the corner. Mitchell Moses converted.

The Bulldogs got a reprieve in the 12th minute when Bryce Cartwright threw a woeful pass into touch. From the ensuing scrum, the Dogs shifted the ball right to Crichton who strolled in for a soft try. Matt Burton failed to convert from the sideline.

The Dogs again exploited the Eels left side in the 19th minute. This time Crichton uses his pace to get outside the defender, draws the cover and then gets a great offload to Blake Wilson, who comes back infield and scores. Burton converted.

In the 22nd minute it looked as though Deajarn Asi had got himself a try but the Bunker ruled that Crichton had a hand under the ball and thus, he had denied the Eels winger a try.

Sean Russell looked to have scored in the 30th minute, but the bunker again denied the Eels, after they found a knock-on by both Connor Tracey and Clint Gutherson when contesting a bomb in the lead-up.

The Eels weren't to be denied a third time. Moses on the last shaped to kick, dummied and then exploded through a small gap, flicked out the back to Cartwright who drew the defence before passing to Viliami Penisini, who scored back on the inside. Moses converted.

In the 39th minute, Burton hoisted up a monster bomb. As it came back down Gutherson fell over, the ball bounced sharply to the right into the waiting arms of Wilson who scored. The Bunker though rules that a host of Dogs players were offside who were involved in the play and the try was disallowed.

Moses had a shot at field goal on the stroke of halftime, but failed.

5 minutes after play resumed, the Eels extended their lead. Close to the Dogs line, the Eels produce a shortside play to Dylan Brown who dropped a short flat ball to Kelma Tuilagi who burst through a gap and scored. Moses converted.

The Bulldogs were denied a try to Bronson Xerri due to a forward pass from Toby Sexton in the 52nd minute, then 2 minutes later Kiraz almost gets to the line before losing the ball, then in the 58th minute Jacob Preston very nearly scored off a kick but grounded the ball on the dead ball line. A minute later, Blake Wilson went on a great run through the middle from deep inside his own half and gets well inside the Eels half before throwing a forward pass.

The Dogs finally added to their score in the 68th minute when they shifted to the right again, this time Connor Tracey got around and then sliced through the defence before turning the ball inside to Crichton who crossed for his second try. Burton converted.

With 5 minutes remaining in the game, Tracey got outside and then flew past Asi, drew the fullback and then sent a great ball to Wilson who scored. Burton converted.

The Dogs held onto their lead to record a well-earned victory.

WOMEN'S ORIGIN II WRAP

QUEENSLAND STEAL A LAST MINUTE WIN TO TAKE THE FIRST THREE-GAME WOMEN'S ORIGIN SERIES TO A DECIDER!

KELLY HOLLIS

25,782 rugby league fans braved the torrential rain at McDonald Jones Stadium for Game II of the Harvey Norman Women's State of Origin Series, and boy - did they experience a great game of football.

The first ten minutes saw consistent footy, with both teams completing at close to 100% despite the conditions. The crowd was rewarded for their commitment to turning up in the rain with some big hits, dazzling runs and creative football.

The Sky Blues opened the scoring in the 25th minute with Keely Davis crossing the line and Rachel Peterson adding the extras. Despite valiant attempts by both sides to get over the line before the break, the score remained 6 - 0 at half-time.

The team stats at half-time showed just how close the game was. The QLD side were leading all team stats across the sheet, but it was the Sky Blues with more points on the board. Isabelle Kelly and Emma Tonagato led the run metres with 118 and 99m respectively, and Tamika Upton led the Maroons with 74m.

The second half started just as quickly as the first finished, with both sides showing that they weren't going to let the crowd down. In a similar fashion to the first half, there were big hits, and both sides were shifting the ball around trying to find some space through - but the rain and fatigue were starting to cause a bit of havoc, with completion rates dropping quickly. The Sky Blues held quite a bit of possession throughout the second half, with more than double the number of play the balls in their red zone - but they were unable to capitalise on their opportunities.

It was in the 54th minute that the next points were added to the scoreboard. This time, the Maroon's side opened their account through a crisp pass from veteran Ali Brigginsshaw to Shenae Ciesiolka, who crossed out wide. Lauren Brown was unable to seal the conversion, and the game went into the last 15 minutes with the Sky Blues leading by 2 points.

Jessica Sergis got NSW on the front foot with a classy strip, providing her side with amazing field position. Some quick hands saw the ball shift across the field, resulting in Tiana Penitani crossing to push the score back out to 10 - 4 before the kick. Rachel Peterson lost her footing in the slippery conditions, and the kick was waved away, leaving the difference a converted try with 10 minutes on the clock.

McDonald Jones Stadium, New Lambton / Awabakal

A sneaky kick from the kick-off saw Queensland get the ball back, and they went straight on the attack. A minute later, Tarryn Aitken scored alongside the goal posts. Lauren Brown made no mistake with the kick this time, and everyone was in for an absolute grandstand finish. It was in the 68th minute that Queenslander Lauren Brown slotted a field goal to push the Maroons out to take the lead for the first time in the game and ultimately to come out on top. The incredible finish leads us to the first decider in Women's State of Origin as both sides head to Townsville in 3 weeks to see who lifts the shield!

MATCH PREVIEW

Kelly HOLLIS

The Dolphins head to Sydney for the first time in 2024 as the Sharks and Dolphins go head-to-head in a battle of the fins!

The Cronulla Sharks will host the Dolphins on Thursday night at PointsBet Stadium in what promises to be an electrifying clash. The Sharks come into this game on the back of a remarkable comeback against the Broncos, overturning a halftime deficit to win 22-12. This performance was exactly what coach Craig Fitzgibbon needed after consecutive losses to Penrith and Parramatta. Despite the absence of NSW halfback Nicho Hynes due to a calf injury, the Sharks' outside backs shone brightly. Sione Katoa, Kayal Iro, Jesse Ramien, and Ronaldo Mulitalo all ran over 150 meters, with Mulitalo also celebrating his 100th NRL appearance. With Hynes set to return, the Sharks will look to solidify their position in the top four before a Round 16 bye, followed by matches against the Bulldogs, Titans, and Wests Tigers.

The Dolphins, currently sitting fourth on the ladder, will be well-rested following their Round 13 bye. However, their recent form has been shaky with narrow losses to the Warriors and Raiders. This will be their first trip to Sydney this year, having previously left Queensland only twice. Coach Wayne Bennett remains confident in his squad's depth and the impact of players like Hamiso Tabuai-Fidow, who had an outstanding State of Origin performance. With Felise Kaufusi set to start in the front row and Kodi Nikorima returning to the number six jersey and taking on the captain's role in Jesse Bromwich's absence, the Dolphins are geared up to challenge the high-flying Sharks in what should be a thrilling encounter.

WHO TO WATCH: Interchange prop Royce Hunt will be a key player to watch for the Sharks. In the game against the Broncos, Hunt came off the bench just before halftime and made a significant impact with his powerful runs and intense defence, forcing errors from the opposition. The Samoan international covered 78 meters and managed six tackle breaks in his 24 minutes on the field. His physical presence and ability to lift his team will be crucial as the Sharks face the Dolphins.

Hamiso Tabuai-Fidow, fresh off a standout performance in State of Origin, is poised to be the Dolphins' game-changer against the Sharks. The Hammer aims to replicate his devastating form that saw him dismantle the NSW Blues. In his Dolphins jersey, Tabuai-Fidow has already scored eight tries in just seven games, averaging over 160 meters per game. His speed and attacking prowess make him a formidable threat.

FAVOURITE: It's a match that's hard to predict, adding to the excitement. The Sharks are the current favourites with the bookies, given the home-ground advantage. However, Bennett's Dolphins, a team known for their unpredictability, aren't one to be taken lightly. This unpredictability adds a thrilling element to the match, making it a must-watch for all rugby league fans.

MY TIP: Given that they are coming off the bye and it's just the first time they've headed down to Sydney, you'd expect the Dolphins to be fresh and ready to go. I think the weather may greatly impact this game, and it's predicted to be chilly and potentially wet. If the rain eventuates, we've seen Cronulla get 'up, up' in the wet at PointsBet Stadium before. Cronulla by 8.

SQUAD UPDATE WED 7:50PM | LATE MAIL THU 6:50PM
VISIT LEAGUEUNLIMITED.COM FOR UPDATED TEAMLISTS

The National Rugby League (NRL) is proud to continue its partnership with the Mark Hughes Foundation (MHF) to kick off the eighth annual Beanie for Brain Cancer Round this week across Round 15 of the NRL Telstra Premiership.

Holding a special place in the NRL calendar each year, Beanie for Brain Cancer Round brings together Rugby League clubs, players, and fans alike to raise crucial funds for brain cancer through the sale of beanies online, at NRL matches and select retail outlets.

More than one million beanies have been sold since the first Beanie for Brain Cancer Round, helping MHF raise more than $30 million for brain cancer research and patient support.

NRL CEO Andrew Abdo said the generosity and support of the Rugby League community has made a difference in the lives of many Australians living with brain cancer.

"Beanie for Brain Cancer Round is an inspiring example of the power of the Rugby League community," Mr Abdo said.

"When Rugby League unites behind an important cause, amazing things happen. We are proud of the contribution the game has made in assisting Mark and his team to combat this disease.

"One million beanies sold is an incredible achievement over the first seven years, and this year we are calling on Rugby League fans to help us take this fight to another level. The contribution of people across all parts of the game is having a real impact on so many lives."

The concept carries on the legacy of its creator, Nine's executive producer of NRL, the late Matt Callander who lost his brave battle with brain cancer in 2017.

MHF Founder Mark Hughes, said: "One of the great things in rugby league is it offers so many different opinions. It's this type of passion from the fans that makes it so special.

"When it's time for Beanie Round, this changes. We become united as one big team. We can all agree on one thing and we all want to help make a difference, by supporting brain cancer. It doesn't matter what team you support, we are on the same side and ready to take on our opponent - brain cancer. This is so much more important than a win or a loss.

"The momentum that keeps building, thanks largely to this round, is a game changer. Whilst we haven't won a premiership yet, we are setting the foundations for a better future and giving hope to brain cancer patients and families. We can't do this alone, and our focus is expanding our national and international research partnerships to fast track a solution.

"On the field, it's a competition. But when it comes to curing brain cancer, it's all about collaboration. By purchasing a beanie, you are part of the movement and we are so grateful to the entire rugby league community for being a part of this, as we continue to tackle brain cancer together."

Sportsbet will continue its long running support by donating $1000 for every try scored across the round. A partner of MHF since the inception of Beanie for Brain Cancer Round, just 17 tries in the round will mean Sportsbet has donated more than $500,000 to date.

Sportsbet CEO Barni Evans said the week was a testament to what the Rugby League community can achieve when it pulls together.

"Sportsbet is extremely proud to once again get behind the NRL and Mark Hughes Foundation for Beanie for Brain Cancer Round in 2024.

"It's incredible to think that this year will bring up the $500,000 mark in donations since the first ever edition back in 2017. It's a great demonstration of what the Rugby League community can do when it comes together and Sportsbet couldn't be prouder to help raise money and do more for what is such an important cause."

Beanie for Brain Cancer Round 2024 features matches in Sydney, Canberra and Auckland and will culminate in Newcastle where Hughes' former club the Knights host reigning Premiers Penrith at McDonald Jones Stadium on Sunday 16 June.

The Big Three trek will once again take place alongside Beanie for Brain Cancer Round with 64 trekkers set to walk 150 kilometres from Sydney to Newcastle over three days raising funds and awareness for brain cancer.

In Australia, Brain Cancer kills more children than any other disease and more people under 40 than any other cancer. Supporters are being urged to help raise much needed funds by buying a beanie or donating to the Mark Hughes Foundation. More information is available at markhughesfoundation.com.au.

Beanies are also available online from all Lowes Australia stores, participating NSW/QLD/ACT IGA Australia stores or online at markhughesfoundation.com.au.

Brain Cancer facts:

- Survival rates have increased by only 1% over the last 30 years
- Kills more children than any other disease
- Only 2/10 people diagnosed will live more than 5 years
- Kills more people under 40 than any other cancer
- Receives less than 5% of federal funding for cancer research
- One person every 5 hours is diagnosed in Australia

MATCH PREVIEW

Aidan EDGECOMB

Two of the most intriguing teams in the comp meet for the first time in 2024, with the North Queensland Cowboys travelling to the nations capital to play the Canberra Raiders.

The Cowboys started the year flying out of the blocks, winning their first three games and mimicking the purple patch they enjoyed in the middle of their 2023 campaign.

The strong start wasn't maintained, however, as the side riddled with Origin stars has slumped to a lowly twelfth, with questions on Todd Payten's future getting louder, particularly following their 42-12 defeat to the underdog Warriors in round 15.

Canberra come off the bye, enjoying the two points catapulting them into fifth, in a season where Ricky Stuart's men defied expectations to be seven wins from thirteen games, despite nigling injuries to some of their stars. The tenacious competitors continue to write off the critics, but the Cowboys can be unpredictable, and despite their success, the Raiders have a habit of dropping games they should win.

With a near unchanged 17 from their victory a fortnight ago, the hosts are confident for a convincing win the edge them closer into a top four spot. They're bolstered only by the return of Hudson Young, who pushes Ata Mariota to the bench and Simi Sasagi to the reserves.

For the visitors, their team sheet looks far cleaner than it did against the Warriors, with the removed complication of Origin providing a more straight forward lineup for North Queensland. Murray Taulagi slots back onto the wing, as does Reece Robson at hooker. Jordan McLean returns from a calf injury to start in the front row, pushing Griffin Neame to the bench. Origin star Jeremiah Nanai moves to the run on side, and Kulikefu Finefeuiaki moves to the interchange.

WHO TO WATCH: When he's good, he's near unstoppable, but Marquee centre Valentine Holmes has struggled in 2024 by his own lofty standards, with some poor defensive showings and attacking performances where he's struggled to unlock his full potential. Canberra struggle with conceding big at times, and Holmes will no doubt look to capitalise on this.

With young halves Jake Clifford and Thomas Duffy coming through, pressure is mounting on former club captain Chad Townsend to step up. With there being no doubt he's in the twilight of his career, it's now or never for Chad to prove he's got more to give in the NRL.

In an interesting matchup, his opposite number Kaeo Weekes is making the halfback jersey his own in Jamal Fogarty's absence. Originally dubbed to play fullback or 5/8, Kaeo's versatility and ability to step up has been admirable. Winning the play making duel against such an experienced campaigner will no doubt do wonders for his confidence.

As Cameron Murray returns from injury, Hudson Young and his Origin future has come into question. He's been a prolific try scorer at Canberra, crossing for 7 tries this season. With the Cowboys having questionable edge defence at times, Hudson has a golden opportunity to stake his claim for further representative honours.

FAVOURITE: Canberra are clear favourites to win at home.

MY TIP: Despite boasting one of the strongest sides on paper, the Cowboys look clunky and disjointed. An away trip to Canberra will surely prove too much. Raiders by 2.

MATCH PREVIEW

Rhys SULLIVAN

After back to back losses that have led many people to question their standing as a premiership contender, the Broncos will look to bounce back on the road against a Souths side that looks to have put a slow start to 2024 behind them.

The Rabbitohs 46-12 thumping of the Titans showed they are a different team to the one that was rooted to 17th place in the first third of the season. Latrell Mitchell was at his brilliant best, with a try and three try assists to go with a strong kicking game, and he'll be looking to replicate that performance as he pushes for NSW selection. It wasn't just Mitchell of course - Jack Wighton had a try and try assist, Cody Walker picked up a TA alongside a brace, while Davy Moale, Tom Burgess and Richard Kennar all had four pointers to compliment strong performances.

The Bunnies are getting even stronger as well, with captain Cameron Murray set to return from the bench at the expense of Siliva Havili after a hip injury sidelined him since Round 9.

The Broncos meanwhile struggled mightily against the Sharks, Pat Carrigan and Payne Haas were both at their best, combining for 249 metres and 78 tackles while the former also bagged a rare try. But the rest of the team struggled mightily, with Ezra Mam, Selwyn Cobbo and Tristan Sailor really struggling to make any impact on the game, while their bench forwards were steamrolled by Cronulla.

The Broncos have also only made one change - Xavier Willison replaces Fletcher Baker, having missed the Sharks game to be at the birth of his child.

These two teams met in Round 2 of the season, where Brisbane ran out 28-18 winners. But that Brisbane team had star performances from Reece Walsh and Adam Reynolds, neither of whom are playing in the reverse fixture.

Cobbo, Carrigan and Haas will need to replicate the strong performances they had that night for the Broncos to win in this one, while a stronger performance from Walker and the presence of Wighton could give the Bunnies an edge they didn't have then.

Brisbane's recent slide has seen their attack slide to an average of 25 points per game, good enough for 5th in the NRL. Their defence meanwhile is now leaking 21 points a game, which ranks 8th. Souths for comparison are 13th and 17th respectively, however that attacking number is beginning to rise and the defensive side, heavily impacted by blowouts earlier in the season, is slowly falling.

WHO TO WATCH: The return of Cameron Murray, even if it is off the bench, is a massive boost for the Rabbitohs. He wasn't at his best to start the season, averaging his fewest running metres since 2018 through his first 8 matches and the worst tackle efficiency of his career. But his leadership is intangible to the Bunnies, and with an Origin jersey on the line expect him to do whatever he can to hit the ground running.

The Broncos need Ezra Mam to step up if they want to win this one. He's been a bit of a mixed bag since halves partner Adam Reynolds tore his bicep, with strong performances against the Eels and Sea Eagles followed up by quiet performances against the Titans and Sharks. With no Reynolds or Reece Walsh, Mam playing at an elite level is almost a non-negotiable if the Broncos want to win football games.

FAVOURITE: The Broncos are the preferred choice to win in this one.

MY TIP: This is either going to be a statement win by the Broncos, or the match where the masses realise the tide has truly shifted against them. I'm going to pick the former. Broncos by 8.

MATCH PREVIEW

AJ LUCANTONIO

NRL Cellar Dwellers do battle for pride!

In a match fitting of the 3pm Saturday timeslot, it's time to prepare the tanks for the NRL's ultimate Tank Bowl in Round 15 between the Wests Tigers and the Gold Coast Titans coming to you from Leichhardt Oval.

The Wests Tigers are the NRL's punching bag, the moment something goes wrong, they are widely ridiculed for it. Fresh off a long losing streak and with an injury toll getting longer instead of shorter it's becoming a real possibility that Benji Marshall's men are set to collect their third wooden spoon on the trot. They have shown glimpses of promise, their start against the Dragons was so strong, putting together two quick tries and having the better of play. However, in areas that have let them down so frequently was where they lost the game. Poor discipline, poor handling and ineffective tackling saw the game go away from them last week.

To beat the Titans, they will need to return to the form they had earlier in the season as they return to where they collected win number 1. They need an all-round 80 minute effort to defeat the Titans in this contest. Jahream Bula will need to get his hands on the ball more in the absence of Lachie Galvin and Jayden Sullivan as he can be explosive against a leaky Titans defence. They also need to hold their nerve and stay disciplined, it's been the big critique from Benji this season and has flagged changes for this clash.

Speaking of changes, onto team news. Jahream Bula will line up in jersey 21, the 1 jersey has been retired in the memory of Keith Barnes this week. Also, Brent Naden moves to centre, Charlie Staines to wing in place of Solomon Alaimalo. Aidan Sezer and Api Koroisau form a new look halves combo with Tallyn Da Silva the new hooker. Fonua Pole starts at the back-row spot with Alex Seyfarth back to the bench while Solomone Faataape comes onto the bench. Adam Doueihy is a sneaky addition to the reserves.

Gold Coast have had a bizarre season, you look at their ladder position and you would consider it to be a disappointment but in between they have put together some enthralling attacking football. Just at times this season due to a lack of personnel in the halves, the execution hasn't been enough placing pressure on an already fragile defensive unit which has leaked 29.33 points per game this season.

To beat the Tigers, they simply need to keep their nerve in defence. The Tigers have the competition's worst attack scoring just 15 points per game so if the edges can communicate well and the middle defends tight, then the Titans will be able to expose the new look edges for the Tigers. Brian Kelly and Alofi Khan-Perereria have been a great combination on the left setting AKP up for 8 line-breaks in the last three matches. Jayden Campbell will be better after a quiet game back from injury last start as well.

Onto team news for the Coast. Phil Sami returns from a hamstring injury in the centres which means Beau Fermor returns to the back row and Keenan Palasia goes back to the interchange. Jacob Alick is the man to drop out of the 17.

WHO TO WATCH: For the Tigers, it comes back to Aidan Sezer. Sezer has missed substantial game time after a dangerous tackle in Round 9 and it has cost his team significantly. His experience has been sorely missed during this extensive losing streak, and you have a feeling that a more experienced voice is exactly what the home side needs. Look for Sezer to bounce back with a point to prove in this one.

For the Titans, the focus is on David Fifita. Fifita has been in the headlines all season about his future, backflip on the Roosters then snub from the QLD Origin squad. Despite all these distractions, he is having a terrific season having 10 linebreak assists, 19 offloads as well as tackling above 93% efficiency for the first time since arriving on the Coast. He is also getting involved in attack running well over 150m a game, expect Fifita to have an absolute field day against the Tigers.

FAVOURITE: Gold Coast have the bookies money in this one. Gold Coast have a 4-1 record at Leichhardt including wins in their last four trips there. The Tigers haven't beaten the Titans in Sydney since 2011!

MY TIP: Keeping it short and sweet, the Titans should win well. The Tigers have way too many outs and are hurtling towards having the wooden spoon safely under lock and key. Titans by 14.

MATCH PREVIEW

Beth NICHOLLS

The Storm travel across the ditch looking to keep their first-place spot, whilst the Warriors are looking to go back-to-back-to-back-to-back in wins for the first time this year.

The Warriors defeated the Cowboys away from home last weekend in clinical fashion, with the final score being 42-12. This follows an extended stint of many key players missing from the squad who are slowly making their return. After a rough start to the season the Warriors currently sit in 10th place with six wins, six losses, one draw and one bye.

Shaun Johnson finally makes his return for the Warriors, after suffering a pec injury during Round 10. This shifts Te Maire Martin back into five-eighth position, and Chanel Harris-Tavita drops to the bench at expense of Freddy Lussick. Suffering a hamstring strain also in Round 10, Roger Tuivasa-Sheck is named among the extended squad but is unlikely to play until Round 16.

Down in Melbourne, the Storm gained their ninth win on the season, managing to down the Knights in a 36-38 battle, however they weren't at their absolute best. The Storm currently sits in first place, on an equal amount of points with the Sharks, the only thing currently separating the two are their three point margin in points differential.

With Reimus Smith suffering a concussion against the Knights, he is unable to play, so Dean Jeremia comes into the centre for his first game of 2024. Other than this, the Storm make no other changes.

These sides previously met in Round 2 this year, and the game ended in memorable fashion when the Warriors were up by 12 points, and miraculously the Storm scored 12 points in the final two minutes, with an unbelievable corner try from Xavier Coates.

The stats majorly lean in favour of the away team, with Melbourne having won their last 15 clashes against the Warriors, and the home side not having claimed a win against the Storm since 2015.

WHO TO WATCH: Moving back to the five-eighth role, after filling in for SJ at halfback, Te Maire Martin has had an excellent season so far. Playing in every Warriors game since Round 5, he has made eight try assists, nine line break assists, four forced dropouts, whilst also scoring two of his own tries.

Spending most of the games in number 14 jersey, Tyran Wishart is currently filling in at five-eighth whilst Cameron Munster is sidelined, and this comes after filling in at halfback when Jahrome Hughes was out injured. Wishart had a cracker of a game against the Knights last week, scoring a double, making one try assist and one linebreak.

Hopefully we'll see the incredible finisher, Xavier Coates, also get a try or two this weekend, having already racked up nine tries in his last five games against the Warriors, and eight tries this year, including a hat trick in Round 8.

FAVOURITE: The Storm are just minorly favoured to get the win over the Warriors and move into the double-digit number of wins for the season.

MY TIP: Despite the growing form of the Warriors, I still see the Storm winning this one. With SJ only just returning, I'm thinking it might take a second for the spine to click again, whilst the Storm have played several games with Faalogo at fullback and Wishart in the halves. Melbourne by 8.

MATCH PREVIEW

Lachlan McINTYRE

Smithless Easts head West to face poor Parramatta

Saturday night will see the Parramatta Eels play host to the Sydney Roosters with the business end of the competition drawing near. The Roosters will be well-positioned coming off a bye, whilst the Eels are making a relatively short turnaround having played on the King's Birthday public holiday.

The Eels will be feeling down after missing a key opportunity to build some momentum after they went down in a nailbiter to the Bulldogs on Monday. The 22-18 loss all but disperses any sense of confidence that Parramatta managed to garner the week earlier when they beat the high-flying Sharks, so they face a tough challenge in getting up for this game.

Maika Sivo returns to his wing position after missing last week with a hamstring injury. Wiremu Greig has missed out on the 17, with Daejarn Asi also dropping from the starting side but maintaining a spot on the bench. Ryan Matterson has been named in the reserves and could be a late inclusion to the 17.

Coming off a bye last week, the Roosters would have had plenty of time to reflect on what went wrong their last time out back in round thirteen. Despite a string of strong performances, Easts were caught out by a Cowboys ambush at Allianz, failing to convert a half-time lead into competition points. Going down by two 18-16 courtesy of a 73rd minute Drinkwater penalty goal, the 6th placed Roosters will need to bounce back in order to maintain their spot in the eight come the end of the round.

The Roosters will benefit from the return of their origin contingent, meaning they will be fielding a much stronger side than two weeks ago. Sitali Tupouniua, Blake Steep, Siua Wong, and Michael Jennings are the players making space in the 17. But the big news is the absence of Brandon Smith, who has received a breach notice for missing a team meeting and whose number nine jersey has been taken by the returning Connor Watson for this Saturday.

The Sydney Roosters have won eight of their last ten games against the Eels.

WHO TO WATCH: Brendan Hands looks to have the number nine role locked up at Parramatta after getting the nod over Joey Lussick a few weeks back. With Lussick still in the reserves, this week will mark Hands' third game as starting hooker in the NRL 17 this year, all of them consecutive. Hands spent a few years playing reserve grade with Penrith before joining their Western Sydney rival the Eels in 2022 and making his first grade debut in 2023. With so much at stake for the Eels in every game, Hands will need to keep improving each week in order to fend off teammate Lussick.

Connor Watson is the opposing hooker for this Saturday, and he is standing in the shoes of Brandon Smith for the Roosters. Smith has been stood down internally for this weekend, giving Watson the perfect opportunity to prove his worth following a period on the sideline with a throat injury. The 28 year old utility has plenty of experience, and with Smith's future at the Roosters seriously in doubt, Watson would like to prove he's the man for the number nine jersey week in week out.

FAVOURITE: The Sydney Roosters are the comfortable favourites following the Eels' unconvincing performance last time out.

MY TIP: The Roosters have shown themselves to be a very good footy side for the most part, and despite their hiccup against the Cowboys I think they will get back on track this Saturday. Roosters by 14.

MATCH PREVIEW

Rob CROSBY

More than hopefuls: can Sea Eagles, Dragons be the real top eight deal?

The Manly Sea Eagles and St George Illawarra Dragons will look to break away from a pack of teams vying to play finals football when they face off in a crucial contest on Sunday afternoon.

Grouped among ten teams separated by just four premierships points, the two Sydney rivals, who missed the finals in 2023, have shown signs of great promise along with consistent shortcomings during the first half of the season.

Sliding down the ladder following a form slump that has yielded one win in well over a month, the Manly Sea Eagles will be hoping the rare opportunity to play at home in daylight hours reaps rewards.

Causing Penrith grief before ultimately going down 32-22 away from home last Sunday, coach Anthony Seibold has been forced into changes with Nathan Brown starting in place of Josh Aloiai (suspension) and Ethan Bullemor joining the bench.

The Sea Eagles have won four out of five matches at 4 Pines Park this season, along with three out of four daytime matches at home during Seibold's tenure.

The St George Illawarra Dragons will be eyeing off three straight wins when they make their first appearance on the northern beaches in five years.

Posting their highest score in well over a decade with a 56-14 annihilation of the Wests Tigers last Friday, coach Shane Flanagan has retained the same squad with Luciano Leilua starting ahead of Raymond Faitala-Mariner in the second-row.

The Dragons have won only one of their past six visits to 4 Pines Park, yet hold a slender advantage over the Sea Eagles in all meetings this decade with four wins from six clashes.

WHO TO WATCH: Making the most of a career lifeline by appearing in every game this season, unassuming forward Corey Waddell will bring up 50 games for the Sea Eagles on Sunday afternoon. Returning to Manly after spending the past three years plying his trade with Canterbury-Bankstown, the 27-year-old has performed a reliable role averaging 22 tackles and 75 running metres as a middle and edge forward. Named on the bench despite Haumole Olakau'atu being under an injury cloud, look for Waddell to come into contention for a starting position in his milestone match.

Taking the step from talented young gun to long-term first grader, Tyrell Sloan will be keen to build on his newly inked deal with a win in his 50th game for the joint venture. Enjoying a stellar season with eight tries, six try-assists and 36 tackle breaks, the 22-year-old fullback has reaped the rewards of Shane Flanagan's regime to rank among the most improved players in the competition. Scoring four tries in three matches against the Sea Eagles – his best strike rate against any team in the league – look for Sloan to add to his tally as the Dragons strive to record their first win on the northern beaches since 2017.

FAVOURITE: Sea Eagles are favoured to continue their strong record at home and get the job done in the first meeting between the two sides at the venue formerly known as Brookvale Oval in five years.

MY TIP: The Dragons have been good enough to win most of the games they should over the first half of 2024. If they are serious about featuring in September for the first time in six years, this is the type of game they need to win. Dragons by 7.

MATCH PREVIEW

Andy P

Knights need to oil their joints against a purring Panthers pack ready to pounce.

McDonald Jones Stadium will host the final game of Round 15 as the Newcastle Knights dig in to stop a third loss in a row, while the Panthers look to galvanise their position near the top of the ladder.

Coming off the back of a loss to the Melbourne Storm 36-28, the Knights will be looking to turn their gritty style of footy into a win and head off a mid-season slump. Although disappointed not to come away with a win, Knights coach Adan O'Brien was pleased this team was able to put 28 points on a top-four team. O'Brien felt the scoreline was a reflection that the halves combination of Jackson Hastings and Jack Cogger were clicking and even challenging what the opposition put to them.

The game also gave the Knights pathway programme a platform to showcase Fletcher Sharpe at fullback. The 20-year-old took to the NRL like a fish in water and will be rewarded with the number 1 jersey. With a baptism by fire against a team like the Storm, Sharpe will dust off the burn marks and ready himself for another challenge, which the coach believes he is ready for. The Knights will welcome back Bradman Best from a hamstring injury, and Daniel Saifiti will take his place on the bench after knee problems. Another protege of the Knights program who made us all sit up and look, David Armstrong, has been named in reserves as he comes back from a quad injury.

In what was a try fest last round for the Panthers against the Manly Sea Eagles, coach Ivan Cleary said there were plenty of things done right by the team, especially coming back from the loss of confidence when Manly was hitting back in the 32-22 victory for Penrith. A testament to the Panthers club was the stepping up of Daine Laurie to fill the boots of injured Origin star Dylan Edwards. Laurie racked himself up 344 meters and helped the Panthers gain the front foot after the relentless Manly attacks. The combination of Jack Cole and Jarome Luai proved fruitful, and coach Cleary was pleased with how the Origin stars that made the field last round backed up, with Brian To'o solidifying his status as one of the best wingers in the league with a hat trick, over 200 meters gained and 14 tackle busts.

The Panthers will welcome back Origin hitman Liam Martin to the reserves, as well as Dylan Edwards being named as number 1, pushing Diane Laurie to the bench.

WHO TO WATCH: Plenty of eyes will be on Fletcher Sharpe as he is asked by the club to take charge of the number 1 jersey against last year's premiership winners. The confidence shown by Newcastle in its up-and-comers is good, and with players like Sharpe and Armstrong answering the call, the future looks bright if they can hold on to them. Dane Gagai had a blistering performance against Melbourne last round, and the veteran centre will be looking to inspire his team down their right side and hopefully draw enough attention from the Panthers to leave holes for Sharpe. Bradman Best will likely be up against Izack Tago, and the battle on that edge will be a good watch as Best will be keen to show he is in the conversation for Origin. Dylan Lucas and Leo Thompson have been putting their hands up for the work in the middle and will have to bring the A game against one of the better packs in the comp. The energy these two bring to the middle for Newcastle will be key for them to allow the halves to build a platform to swing out wide.

Dylan Edwards will be hungry to show that he is over his injury and prove his worth for the NSW jersey. One of the hardest-working fullbacks in the game, the Panthers will be pleased to have the sound head of Edwards directing at the back, closing up some of the gaps in their right edge that the Sea Eagles exposed last round. Brian To'o will bring fire to his side of the field, and the odds are in favour of the Origin winger putting at least one try on the Knights. He will also cause trouble with some nuggety, bullocking runs. The Panthers' back row combination of Luke Garner, Liam Henry, and Lindsay Smith brings energy to the middle and edges, which will keep the Knights' pack busy. Cleary has used these players to great effect during interchanges, keeping the opposition on their toes and the Panther's momentum charging.

FAVOURITE: Even with the home-ground advantage, the Knights haven't beaten the Panthers at home since 2015. Over the last three games, this and the Knights' leaky defence puts them underdogs in the Sunday clash.

MY TIP: The Knights have shown they can be a gritty side and stick it to the top teams. But gritty play can come unstuck against top teams in the last 20 minutes of a game. And with a team like the Panthers, you will have to hope you stay within and try to push for a win. This game will open up for the Panthers with the return of Edwards and the halves of Luai and Cole clicking. Panthers by 10.

CHALLENGE CUP FINALS WRAP with ROB McHUGH

MENS FINAL: WIGAN WARRIORS 18 WARRINGTON WOLVES 8

With two of Super League's form sides meeting in the Challenge Cup final, expectations were high for a classic encounter. The two sides duly delivered as an intense battle ended with Wigan lifting the famous old trophy at Wembley.

Both sides had plenty to play for coming into the game. For Warrington coach, Sam Burgess, there was an opportunity to lift silverware at the first opportunity in a fledgling career. For Wigan coach, Matt Peet, the chance to hold all four trophies concurrently for the first time since St Helens achieved the remarkable under Daniel Anderson feat in 2007 and emulate some of the great Wigan sides of the early 1990s. Ultimately, it was Peet and Wigan who came out on top.

An impeccably observed minute's silence before the game only served to charge the atmosphere in the stadium further, as fans paid tribute to Rob Burrow, with the kick-off time pushed back to 15:07 in a break with tradition to honour Burrow. Warrington's opening defensive set was fierce, and Wigan was soon down to twelve men. In the second minute, Matty Ashton carried the ball into the tackle and slipped as he approached the defender, Mike Cooper. The referee deemed that, although Ashton had slipped, there was sufficient force in Cooper's swinging arm to justify a yellow card.

But both sides were down to twelve men from the resulting set, as Matt Dufty caught Liam Marshall high after Wigan had recovered the ball from an attempted Josh Thewllis offload. This ramped the crowd to a fever pitch, and the intensity on the field matched the ferocity of the crowd. The resulting round of applause for Rob Burrow in the seventh minute was almost deafening, given the action on the field. One thing is for sure, he would have loved this encounter. Warrington had started the game fast and were ramping up the pressure on the Wigan line. Liam Farrell was penalised for offside on the fifth tackle of a defensive set, giving the Wolves an easy opportunity to open the scoring. Thewllis duly kicked the penalty to give the Wire a deserved early lead. A penalty for offside against Ben Currie gave Wigan precious field position and served to relieve the pressure Warrington had built. The Warriors made the most of the field position to score the game's first try in the 17th minute. Bevan French, who is so deadly near the opposition line, threaded a precision grubber kick in-goal. Young centre, Zach Eckersley, in the side for the suspended Adam Keighran, collected the ball to touch down. Harry Smith was on target with the conversion to give Wigan a 6-2 lead. Wigan then began to turn the screw. Ashton dropped a spiralling bomb under no pressure to give Wigan a brilliant field position, with a scrum 15 minutes from the Warrington line. George Williams then knocked on from an attempted interception to give Wigan another set of six near the Warrington line. From the first play, French received the ball from the base of the scrum and dummied over to score Wigan's second try. Smith added the conversion to give Wigan a 10-point lead after 23 minutes. At this point Warrington looked shell-shocked, having largely dominated the opening exchanges. However, the game began to settle into a rhythm after the frenetic opening exchanges. Although Warrington had gained a foothold in the game, a series of unforced errors in Wigan territory blunted their attacking threat. French went close for Wigan on the stroke of half-time but had his effort ruled out for a double movement, making the score 12-2 at the break.

Warrington forced the pace right from the start of the set, forcing a Wigan knock-on ten metres out after Ashton attempted an offload. This gave Warrington a great field position right from the whistle. However, Wigan's defence held firm and, this time, they were able to force Ashton into touch to avert the danger. Wigan's high kicks were causing all sorts of problems for Warrington, as Dufty failed to take another after 50 minutes. This gave Wigan another set of six near the Warrington line, however, they were unable to convert the chance. Their commitment in defence could not be questioned, however, the challenge was creating a meaningful chance at the other end. The uneasy stasis on the scoreboard was finally broken after 56 minutes, as Wigan's inspirational captain, Liam

Farrell, went over to score. Farrell ran a great line to receive the pass thirty metres from the line. He rounded full-back, Dufty, and crashed over to score, despite the best efforts of Matty Nicholson in defence. Harry Smith made no mistake with the conversion to make the score 18-2 and give Warrington a mountain to climb. A high shot from Farrell gave Warrington a set of six deep in Wigan territory, from which they forced a goal-line dropout. It was their first meaningful pressure of the second half, and you felt that if they did not convert this opportunity, they would never score. However, Dufty stepped up, cutting inside, and wrong-footing the defence to give the Wolves hope. Thewllis added the conversion and suddenly Warrington had hope. However, that hope was fading as each second ticked by and, with Warrington forcing the play, errors crept into their game again. A Warrington knock-on gave Wigan a good position to try for a drop goal, however, Harry Smith kicked wide, uncharacteristically. However, it did not matter, as Warrington were unable to force a way through the Wigan defence. Wigan were deserved winners on the day and stand on the verge of creating another dynasty. With a young core and incredible strength in depth, they will take some stopping in the other big games at the end of this season.

WOMENS FINAL: ST HELENS 22 LEEDS RHINOS 0

St Helens retained the Women's Challenge Cup, in a repeat of the 2023 final. However, this year, the Saints were completely dominant, defeating the Leeds Rhinos in a clinical display. The Leeds side was resolute and determined, however, they lacked the cutting edge of a well-coached Saints side, who were good value for their victory.

The opening exchanges were a tense affair, with neither side wanting to make a mistake. In the seventh minute, the ground rose in unison to pay tribute to Rob Burrow in an emotional tribute to the great man. Leeds then thought they had opened the scoring in the 14th minute, only to have the try ruled out. The Saints' defence failed to deal with a kick through, with Phoebe Hook dropping the ball near the Saints' line. However, Liv Whitehead was unable to take the opportunity, knocking on with the try line begging. St Helens then took control, thanks to Faye Gaskin. Picking up the ball close to the Leeds line, Gaskin threw a brilliant dummy, wrong-footing the Leeds defence and allowing her to open the scoring. Gaskin then converted her own try to give the Saints a 6-0 lead after 25 minutes. The Saints did not need long to extend their lead, as Phoebe Hook got on the scoresheet. Hook dived into the corner to finish off a short-side play, with half-back Zoe Harris throwing a brilliant miss pass to put Harris in to score. Gaskin missed a difficult kick from the touchline to make the score 10-0 and give the Rhinos a mountain to climb. The Rhinos were fortunate to finish the game with a full complement on the field after a high shot from Shona Hoyle was punished with a penalty, but nothing more.

Saints were straight back on the front foot in the second half, and only needed five minutes to extend their lead, through centre, Luci McCollm. McCollm took in a short pass before bursting through the Leeds line to score from around ten metres out. Gaskin was again on target with the conversion to give the Saints a 16-0 lead after 45 minutes. Whilst Leeds tried to apply pressure to the Saints line, in reality, they never posed a sustained scoring threat, and a series of errors meant that they surrendered what few opportunities they created. St Helens would score the final score of the game in the 71st minute, sealing an incredible fourth consecutive Challenge Cup win. Chantelle Crowl crashed onto a short ball near the Leeds line and barged over for a try. The try was sent upstairs for confirmation from the Video Referee, as there was a potential obstruction in as Crowl ran through, however, the officials deemed that no obstruction had taken place. It was a well-deserved final score for the Saints who were the better side on the day. Faye Gaskin added the final conversion to make the final score 22-0 and drive the final nail into the Leeds coffin. Leeds fought hard but were left to rue missed chances at the end of a bruising encounter. Zoe Harris was deservedly named player of the match after a brilliant display.
