ORIGIN III WRAP

NSW WIN THEIR FIRST ORIGIN DECIDER AT SUNCORP SINCE 2005

KELLY HOLLIS

NSW triumphs in a historic State of Origin decider at Suncorp, breaking a 19-year drought with a thrilling 14-4 victory in front of more than 52,000 fans.

In a thrilling conclusion to the 2024 State of Origin series, the New South Wales Blues emerged victorious over the Queensland Maroons with a 14-4 win at Suncorp Stadium, securing their first series win since 2021 and their first decider victory at this iconic venue since 2005. The game had all the hallmarks of a classic Origin encounter—intense physicality, strategic brilliance, and the kind of drama that keeps fans on the edge of their seats.

Michael Maguire's Blues took the field as named, while Billy Slater made some last-minute changes, moving Ben Hunt, Lindsay Collins, and Jeremiah Nanai to the bench and bringing Harry Grant, Felise Kaufusi, and Moeaki Fotuauka into the starting lineup. The sold-out crowd at Suncorp Stadium, predominantly supporting Queensland, gave the NSW side a frosty reception as they ran out onto the field.

From the first whistle, both teams displayed remarkable intensity in attack and defence, setting the tone for a brutal 80 minutes. The first half was marked by two players being sent to the sin bin, one of whom was not even named in the side—a bizarre situation summed up by the commentary: "He's in a suit and in the sin bin." Despite holding the majority of possession, NSW struggled to capitalise on their opportunities, making more errors than Queensland. However, they maintained better discipline, conceding only two penalties to Queensland's five. The score was a tight 2-0 at halftime, thanks to a last-minute penalty goal by Valentine Holmes.

The second half saw NSW quickly level the score with a sideline penalty goal from Zac Lomax. It took another 17 minutes for Queensland to regain the lead with another penalty kick from Holmes. The game's first try came shortly after, with Jarome Luai breaking through the defence and setting up Bradman Best, who skillfully evaded his Newcastle Knights teammate Kalyn Ponga to score. Lomax's successful conversion pushed NSW to a four-point lead. A ruck infringement penalty kept NSW in possession, allowing Mitchell Moses to extend their lead with another try, which Lomax again converted. This gave NSW a 10-point buffer with just 12 minutes left on the clock. The final minutes of the game were a nail-biting affair, with both sides making errors and giving away penalties. Mitchell Moses left the field with a suspected torn bicep three minutes from full-time, adding to the drama.

The NSW chant began to overpower the Queensland supporters as the clock wound down, signalling the Blues' impending victory. NSW held on to win the decider, becoming just the third NSW team to do so at Suncorp Stadium.

Dylan Edwards was named player of the game, having racked up 242 running meters and seven tackle breaks. Angus Crichton received the Wally Lewis Medal as the player of the series, recognised for his standout performances across all three games. The victory marked a successful first year for coach Michael Maguire and ended Queensland's recent dominance in the State of Origin series.

NRL ROUND 20 WRAP

RAIDERS BREAK LOSING STREAK OFF THE BACK OF WARRIORS WOES

ANDYP

The Raiders staved off a spirited comeback from the Warriors to claim their first victory in five games, sneaking by 20-18.

In what was an error-ridden game, it was the Raiders who came out of the gates firing first. Jamal Fogarty made sure everyone watching knew he was back with only his second bomb of the game, causing Taine Tuaupiki to knock on, giving them prime position early in the Warriors quarter, and in no time, Hudson Young took his frame to the line and got results in the 6th minute. The Warriors looked to hit back after the try but lost their way, giving the Raiders back-to-back penalties. Fogarty took advantage of the space up the middle again, finding Hudson Young present and fast going over for his second at 10 minutes in.

At the 13-minute mark, the Warriors were dealt a blow, with Tuaupiki having to leave the game with a Category 1 concussion, causing a re-shuffle. The Warriors tried to get an attack going but were not coming up with anything troubling. Fogarty's boot again was causing trouble for the Warrior's back three as Dallin Watene-Zelezniak knocked on, giving the Raiders top-field position. A penalty for stripping was too close to the goalposts for the Raiders to pass on and Jamal Fogarty made it 14-0 after slotting a penalty goal over at the 18 minute.

The following 20 minutes was a see-sawing of errors between the two teams as the count mounted. The Warriors did keep getting chances, but white line fever was troubling them, and their last ball decisions were not the best. But the Warriors turned some defence into an attack after a mistake by Tom Starling gave them the ball back from an ill-fated offload, and a six again added to the momentum. The pressure on the line finally paid off as Roger Tuivasa-Sheck got the chocolates in the 37th minute.

The Warriors came out on fire in the second half, making a huge break down the middle off kickoff; it got the Warriors in a good position and seemed to unhinge the Raiders over the following few sets. A high ball from the Warriors gave Jamal Fogarty a taste of his own medicine as he dropped the ball close to the line. The Warriors took advantage, and Kurt Capewell, fresh from Origin Three, went over getting the Warriors right back in the game.

The Raiders went down to the Warriors quarter but fumbled their chance; with a scrum feed and then a six again, the Warriors momentum was too much, and Mitch Barnett, still warm from an Origin series win, showed no signs of fatigue, barnstorming over the line to put the game at a deadlock of 14 all at the 60-minute mark.

But, with the loss of Pompey to a leg injury and Tuaupiki to an HIA, the fatigue was starting to set in. The Raiders pushed another attack and in the 70th minute, Xavier Savage went over to break the deadlock. It was short-lived, as the Warriors rolled the dice on a short kick-off, coming up trumps. The Raiders were caught off guard, and a rampaging Addin Fonua-Blake stormed over to give his side belief. After already missing two shots at goal, Chanel Harris-Tavita lined up for what would give the Warriors a chance to take the game to golden point. But he was just out of form and missed, which saw the game run out to full-time at 20-18 for the green machine.

The Warriors seemed to lack cohesion at the end of sets, which was a shame because they were finding the meters in the middle. They started too slow, and they had to play catch up. 38 missed tackles to 21 also wouldn't have helped. Addin Founa-Blake made 200 meters, while his fellow prop Mitch Barnett made 160. There was some considerable effort in the middle by the Warriors, with Wayde Egan making easy yards on several runs. Roger Tuivasa-Sheck made an impact from the back, and if he had gotten more ball, it might have been a different story for the Kiwi team.

Hudson Young was back to some of his best form, scoring two tries, running nearly 100 meters, and making 47 tackles; he was in beast mode. Joesph Tapine and Tom Starling also put in stellar performances in the middle. Zach Hosking made another impression off the bench, and its good to see him bouncing back from injury. And if anyone bounced back, it was Jamal Fogarty. His kicking game made a massive difference in tonight's games and gave the Raiders the advantage with the opportunities he was getting from highball.

Even Ricky Stuart said his boys were lucky to win. The Warriors ended up scoring more tries, 4 to 3. But it was the lack of conversion kicking that gave the Raiders the game and the two points. Stuart was all praise for Warriors coach Webster, though, with only 15 men and two Origin players returning, it was a big call for him to get the team as competitive as they were tonight.

RABBITOHS ROLL ON (AND DARE TO DREAM)

ROB CROSBY

Tries took precedence over tackles as the South Sydney Rabbitohs outscored the Wests Tigers 42-28 in a high-scoring affair in Gosford.

Continuing a dominant record over the joint venture with their eighth win from nine clashes this decade, the Rabbitohs fought back from a deficit midway through the second half to run out convincing winners before a crowd of 16,284 in Damien Cook's 200th NRL appearance for the club.

The win was the Rabbitohs sixth from their past seven matches and keeps the foundation club in contention for an unlikely top eight finish.

The Rabbitohs made their attacking intentions known early with Davvy Moale (6th minute) powering over and Cody Walker (10th minute) swooping on a fortuitous grubber to put the hosts up 10-0 in even time.

Having conceded ten tries in their most recent outing and having their defence exposed early on, the Tigers flipped the script with two tries in as many minutes after Tallyn Da Silva split the Rabbitohs through the middle to link with Lachlan Galvin (16th minute) and Da Silva (18th minute) scurried over from close range to take a 12-10 lead.

Richie Kennar was ruled out of the match after a bullocking kick-off return by Stefano Utoikamanu, however the reshuffled backline - which saw Cook shift to centre - did little to dissuade the Rabbitohs as Alex Johnston (26th and 35th minute) crossed for a double.

A spectacular passage of play as the halftime siren sounded saw Jahream Bula (40th minute) score after Luke Laulilii burst down the sideline and find support to narrow the score to 22-18.

A penalty goal by Cook early in the second half gave the Rabbitohs a converted try buffer that was short-lived when Charlie Staines (47th minute) produced a spectacular put down just inside the corner post.

The lead changed once again when a grubber by Latu Fainu ricocheted into the arms of his brother, Sione Fainu (55th minute), who barged underneath the black dot for his second career try.

Having produced a diamond to set up a try on halftime, Laulilii came up with a rock by dropping a pass on his goal line which saw Walker (60th minute) collect his second of the day.

Industree Group Stadium, Gosford / Darkinjung

The Tigers hopes of a comeback were dashed when Peter Mamouzelos (64th minute) barged over and were extinguished fully when Aidan Sezer was sent to the sin bin for a hip drop on Jye Gray.

Gray (72nd minute) showed no ill effects to collect the final try of the afternoon as the Rabbitohs finished as 42-28 victors.

BRISBANE KEEP FINALS HOPES ALIVE WITH CRUCIAL WIN

AIDAN EDGECOMB

Both Brisbane and Newcastle practically needed a win to fight to keep their finals hopes alive and with Origin stars backing up for both teams and the return of Adam Reynolds for Brisbane, we were running headfirst into a matchup bound to have some fireworks.

The first 20 minutes ebbed and flowed, with golden attacking chances squandered as both sides pierced through the heart but never killed. Billy Walters looked busy in the middle for the Broncos, and eventually came up with a nice pass to his halfback who combined with Ezra Mam to put Deine Mariner over in the corner.

Walsh back proved the critics wrong by running the ball with purpose and allusion and was eventually able to take advantage of weak Newcastle scrum defence to score, with his dominant half continuing through a short ball to Deine Mariner close to the line, scoring his second try of the match.

Up 18-0 at halftime, Brisbane looked to put a big score on the hosts as Reece Walsh continued to play like he had a ball on a string, with yet another slick short pass to the barnstorming Brendan Piakura who crashed over. Only 51 minutes in, the Broncos led by 24 and showed no signs of slowing down.

It was a few handy penalties to the Knights which got them back in the contest, as momentum finally began to swing back their way after a few sets attacking the Broncos line slowly wore the visitors down, until it was Jack Hetherington's turn to charge onto a short ball and shrug off the defence to score.

They continued to apply pressure, set after set but Brisbane held strong. Eventually, the ever-present Deine Mariner found some space coming out of his own end and linked up with Ezra Mam who finished a length of the field try that looked so much like what we saw from the high flying 2023 Broncos. It was 30-4 and Brisbane were all over Newcastle.

With an apparent leg complaint to halfback Jackson Hastings, returning five-eighth, Tyson Gamble attempted to take control of the Knights attack, and it was through his boot that they were granted their second try - with Matthew Croker sprinting onto a chip kick that went deep into Brisbane's in goal, grounding the ball just before it crossed the dead ball line.

Although victory remained out of reach, the hosts were defiant and determined to put up a fight in front of their home crowd. An inspired Dylan Lucas run set up Greg Marzhev with plenty of space on the next play, which he took with glee, scoring in the corner.

Despite the Broncos dominance throughout the majority of the contest, Newcastle clawed their way back, only going down 30-14 with a much more respectable scoreline which leaves them with a fighting chance to still chase top eight footy.

STORM EYE MINOR PREMIERSHIP WITH COMPREHENSIVE WIN OVER RIVALS

LACHY MACCORQUODALE

In what was labelled as a blockbuster prior to kick-off, the Storm reminded the rugby league world that the Roosters aren't in their league. It marks another loss suffered by the Roosters at the hands of the Storm, and since the beginning of the 2020 season, it's their 19th loss from 20 matches against either the Storm or Penrith.

It was a tight contest early, but the Storm quickly asserted themselves with tries to Jack Howarth and Grant Anderson in the 13th and 16th minutes, respectively. The second of those tries was created by an excellent piece of dummy-half work from Harry Grant, who burst through a staggered Roosters defensive line before finding Anderson through an offload who stepped inside oncoming defenders and burst through the line with sheer pace to double Melbourne's lead.

The Roosters, through Daniel Tupou, were able to get on the board in the 26th minute, only for Victory Radley to be sent to the bin 10 minutes later for tackling Anderson without the ball. The Storm took advantage of the overlap immediately with Anderson scoring his second try courtesy of a brilliant chip kick from Ryan Papenhuyzen.

With a 10-point lead, the Storm were in a commanding position, which was more than deserved as they thoroughly outplayed the Roosters in the first half and the hosts continued to do so for the majority of the second half despite interchange forward, Joe Chan, being sent to the sin bin in the 46th minute.

Whilst the Storm were dominating the Roosters on the park, they couldn't initially convert it into points. However, they were awarded penalties in the 55th and 63rd minute within range of the posts, and duly took the two points from each, extending their lead to 10-points.

When Connor Watson was sent to the bin in the 54th minute, you wouldn't be mistaken from thinking the Storm were going to grab this opportunity with both hands and run away with the game.

However, the Roosters managed to stay in the match, and when Dominic Young scored his side's second try in the 66th minute, the travelling side finally had some spark about them. Despite this, the Storm became extra resilient in defence, determined to come home with the two points, and did so successfully.

The hosts put the cherry on top through Sualauvi Faalogo who blocked a Sam Walker kick from his own half with his boot, picked the ball up and sprinted the remaining 10 metres to the try line to score with his typical swan dive to secure a 16-point victory.

24 - 8
AAMI Park, Melbourne / Wurundjeri

A victory that keeps the Storm six points clear at the top of the ladder, whilst the Roosters remain in fourth, missing a grand opportunity to climb into second place.

Next week, the Storm face the Parramatta Eels whilst the Roosters will face a challenge against the in-form Manly-Warringah Sea Eagles.

CLEARY'S TRIUMPHANT RETURN LIFTS PANTHERS TO COMEBACK WIN OVER DOLPHINS

RHYS SULLIVAN (ADDITIONAL REPORTING: DAN NICHOLS)

A two point field goal by Nathan Cleary just minutes into Golden Point has capped off a 14 point comeback for the Panthers as they downed the Dolphins 28-26 at BlueBet Stadium.

The Panthers hit the ground running, with Nathan Cleary picking up a try assist in almost his first touch of the footy for Sunia Turuva to open the scoring. But the Dolphins struck back hard and fast with tries to Hamiso Tabuai-Fidow and Isaiya Katoa giving them a 12-6 lead after 16 minutes.

A brilliant put down by Paul Alamoti brought the game level once again, but a remarkable solo effort by Tabuai-Fidow doubled his tally and gave the Dolphins an 18-12 lead which they carried through to half time.

The second half started much the same way the first ended, with both sides struggling to gain the ascendancy until a penalty gave the Dolphins field position, which they converted when Jack Bostock went over in the corner. Not long after Mitch Kenny conceded a contentious penalty for contact on the kicker, and Jamayne Isaako potted over the penalty goal to give the Dolphins a 26-14 lead.

But no lead is safe around the Panthers, and the lead was trimmed to 8 at the 60 minute mark when Moses Leota scored a certified Big Boy Classic. It was then cut even further to just two points when Daine Laurie burnt the Dolphins defence to make the game 26-24 with 15 minutes still on the clock.

The Dolphins continued to be their own worst enemy when they gave up a seven tackle set, and off the back of that gave away a penalty for an off the ball shove. Penrith opted against a chance to tie, but some steely defence denied them and ultimately led to a Laurie error that got the Dolphins out of trouble.

But any sighs of relieve from Wayne Bennett and the coaching staff were short lived after Trent Toelau snagged an intercept and dashed towards the line, ultimately run down but drawing a penalty when Josh Kerr tried to slow down the play the ball. Kerr was sent to the sin bin and this time Penrith did not pass up the chance to tie the game at 26 all with around 4 minutes left.

Penrith had a chance to win the game in regulation with a Cleary field goal from near the sideline, but it fell short and the game went to Golden Point. But it didn't take the star halfback long to right his wrong, and just two minutes into the extra innings he hit a 40+ metre drop goal right in the sweet spot for the walk off win - the second time he's reversed a major deficit against a Brisbane side in less than 12 months.

TURBO CLEARED FOR TAKE-OFF AS DES' RETURN ENDS IN DEFEAT

AJ LUCANTONIO

Tom Trbojevic seemed to be the only Turbo cleared for take-off around the world after guiding Manly to 38 unanswered points and a win over the Gold Coast Titans, making Des Hasler's return to Brookvale Oval one to forget.

The match started at a frantic pace with the Titans creating havoc in Manly's defensive line, but their opportunities fell short at the critical moment. After eight minutes, Gold Coast capitalise on some high risk play. They earned the ball back from a short drop-out and quickly marched their way down-field. The left edge combined once more as David Fifita did well to send Alofiana Khan-Pereira flying down the sideline to score.

Manly's edge was on tenterhooks as Gold Coast went flying down the right edge with JoJo Fifita. After the Eagles conceded another six again on their own defensive line, Beau Fermor used his strength to get past several Manly defenders to get their second in as many minutes. Manly were down 8-0 inside the opening 15 minutes and were subjected to a heavy defensive load early.

With the limited attacking field position they did have, Manly were squandering the limited chances they had while their defence again were struggling to contain the lightning Titans backs and conceded 6 line-breaks in the opening quarter of the contest. Manly hit back with 8 minutes remaining in the first half. Jason Saab leapt highest to reclaim a short kick-off and Manly were on the attack. Following a series of ruck infringements and penalties, Luke Brooks caught the Titans left edge asleep and crossed for a great individual try.

Off the ensuing set post points, Manly marched 100 metres up field. Choosing to run it on the last, Brooks combined with Tommy Talau. Talau hit his mark after an earlier mis-cue and Lehi Hopoate runs it round to a respectable position to score and put Manly in front. Hopoate would leave the field after suffering an awful-looking injury to his left eye-socket and failed to return. However with momentum in hand, Manly went to the sheds up by four points.

After a frantic start to the second 40 as both sides went back and forth. Manly capitalised on a cheap error from the Titans out of yardage to set up shop in the Gold Coast 20. A wonderful, lofted pass from Tom Trbojevic caught AKP asleep at the wheel and Jason Saab had a saloon passage to the line for the first of the second 40.

The Sea Eagles shifted wide following the kick-off set and found the Titans left edge wanting once more. Turbo found Reuben Garrick who broke through Brian Kelly's tackle. Garrick got it away to Turbo who crossed and got into the Olympic fever with a Beach Volleyball serve to celebrate Try July.

4 Pines Park, Brookvale / Cammeraygal

The Titans weren't without their chances, having multiple sets on Manly's line. However, their execution wasn't as crisp at the opening moments. Kieran Foran's pass was intercepted by Talau who set-sailed for the line before being brought down by Fermor. On the ensuing play, Tommy Turbo split the Titans to score and put the match beyond doubt for the home side on the hour mark. Manly added further salt to Des Hasler's wound when Brooks and Turbo combined to find Burbo and Manly were having a party at Brookvale. Talau eventually added his name to the scorers sheet in the dying moments after Turbo delivered a wonderful pass to the flying winger to cross in the left corner.

COWBOYS EDGE BULLDOGS IN TOWNSVILLE HEAT

JOSH ROBERTSON

The North Queensland Cowboys put themselves back into the NRL top 8 and pushed their points difference into positive territory with a 20-18 win over the Canterbury Bulldogs.

Despite facing an early defensive test, the Cowboys were able to keep their cool and go down the other end to open the scoring as Heilum Luki cleaned up a loose ball to score close to the posts.

The Bulldogs were able to hit back not long after when Josh Curran chased through a Toby Sexton kick and Curran got to the ball just inside the dead-ball line despite some mild interference on the run through.

Both sides added a penalty goal in close to proximity to each other to push the score to 8-8.

Just after the half hour mark, Bronson Xerri chased through a Toby Sexton grubber to score. Matt Burton couldn't convert which meant the Bulldogs could only hold a 4 point lead into the break.

The second half couldn't have started worse for the Bulldogs as it was consistent defence for the first five minutes as the team came to the field but their discipline didn't as they piggybacked the Cowboys downfield and eventually a professional foul from Blake Wilson saw them drop to 12.

The Cowboys though could only manage one try during the 10-minute period when Heilum Luki picked up his second try for the night going through a tired defensive line. Val Holmes converted and put the home side in front by two.

A third try off a kick came for the Bulldogs when Jacob Kiraz flew through the air outjumping Valentine Holmes and Kiraz got the Dogs back in front. A second missed conversion from Matt Burton meant the Bulldogs only lead by two. Despite being denied a four-pointer after Bailey Hayward knocked on in trying to get the ball down, Canterbury were given a penalty after the bunker ruled dangerous contact from a sliding Cowboys player was foul play and the Bulldogs took a strange decision to take the two and lead by four.

Some Tom Dearden magic with ten minutes to go sealed the deal for the Cowboys as he broke through some soft defence from the Bulldogs before linking with Jaxon Purdue who scored next to the posts. Valentine Holmes converted from close range for a 20-18 lead.

Both sides tried to add to their scores but the Bulldogs couldn't regain the lead and the Cowboys were able to hold on.

Next week, the Cowboys play at home again with a clash against the Sharks whilst the Bulldogs stay in Queensland with a clash against the Broncos at Suncorp Stadium.

NRLW MATCH PREVIEWS: ROUND 1

KNIGHTS v ROOSTERS: Rhys SULLIVAN

These two sides were the best in 2023, however the chance to meet in the Grand Final never eventuated after the Roosters fell in the preliminary final against the Titans, who the Knights would then beat to claim a second straight premiership.

The Knights still boast star power in Yasmin Clydsdale, Olivia Higgins, Caitlan Johnston-Green, Shanice Parker, the Southwell sisters Hannah and Jesse and probably the biggest star in the game, reigning Daly M medalist Tamika Upton. They've added rugby union converts Grace Kukutai and Isabella Waterman to their bench and wing positions respectively, further strengthening their side.

The Roosters aren't short of star power either, featuring Tarryn Aiken, Keeley Davis, Millie Elliot, Olivia Kernick, Jessica Sergis and their inspirational captain Isabelle Kelly. They've been aggressive in recruitment as well, with recruits Taina Naividi, Jasmin Strange, Mia Wood, and returning Field Hockey convert Samantha Economos all named to play in Round 1.

WHO TO WATCH: Put simply this will be a battle of the fullbacks. For the Knights they have one of the women's games brightest stars in Tamika Upton. Last year she proved her standing in the game, with 7 tries and 10 try assists across the 11 game season. If she can continue that form or even find another level in 2024, the Knights become heavy favourites to claim a threepeat of titles.

Meanwhile the Tricolours put the number one jersey on Isabelle Kelly. Last season continued her strong form with 5 tries and 6 assists. She'll be desperate to lead the Roosters back to the premiership for the second time, and making a statement against Newcastle would be a great way to do so.

MY TIP: If the Roosters were healthy this would be a different tip, but the breadth of their injuries is just too much. Newcastle by 10.

SHARKS v COWBOYS: Kelly HOLLIS

The Sharks and Cowboys will be looking at improving on their 2023 seasons in their first meeting of 2024

The Sharks enter the new season with a sense of optimism and confidence. Captain Tiana Penitani, the reigning Sharks NRLW Player of the Year, will lead a team featuring a mix of experienced stars and eager rookies. Despite a sixth-placed finish in their maiden season, Cronulla has shown signs of a formidable outfit. Their trial match against the star-studded Roosters ended in a 20-all draw, highlighting their attacking prowess. Leading 12-0 at halftime, the Sharks showcased their depth by resting key players like Emma Tonegato and Quincy Dodd in the second half. In that trial, Cronulla's attack was dynamic, with Georgia Ravics, Jada Taylor, and Annessa Biddle combining effectively. Second-rower Talei Holmes and captain Tiana Penitani also contributed tries, demonstrating the team's ability to capitalise on opportunities. Head coach Tony Herman has named a star-studded line-up for the season opener, featuring young gun Jada Taylor at fullback and Sky Blues player Emma Tonegato in the halves alongside Tayla Preston. Georgia Hannaway's inclusion on the interchange bench adds further depth to the squad.

The Cowboys are also riding a wave of confidence into Round 1, buoyed by new coaches Ricky Henry and Steve Georgallis. Their trial match against the Gold Coast Titans resulted in a commanding 28-14 victory, with the team showing impressive cohesion and attacking flair. Key playmaker Keira Dibb was instrumental, having a hand in all first-half tries. The Cowboys took a 24-4 lead into halftime thanks to tries from Jasmine Peters, Fran Goldthorp, Krystal Blackwell, Tahlulah Tillett, and Tiana Raftstrand-Smith. Despite sitting out most of their starters in the second half, the Cowboys managed to maintain control, with only one try conceded. The back five demonstrated significant speed and agility, posing a threat to any opposition defence. Recruit Jakiya Whitfield will start in the centres, while English star Goldthorp returns to fullback after recovering from injury. The line-up also includes Sky Blues squad member Kirra Dibb at halfback and Queensland Maroons series winners Emma Manzelmann at hooker and Makenzie Weale at prop.

Both teams have shown promising signs in the lead-up to the season, and this opening-round clash is set to be a thrilling encounter. The Sharks will look to build on their solid foundation, while the Cowboys aim to make a strong statement under their new coaching regime.

WHO TO WATCH: Coming off the back of a Sky Blues campaign, Emma Tonegato's versatility and experience allows her to excel in multiple positions. She is paired with Tayla Preston in the halves for the Sharks, where her vision and playmaking skills can direct the team's attack. Tonegato's ability to break lines and create opportunities for her teammates will be crucial.

The new Cowboys recruit, 2023 NRLW Dally M Winger of the Year Jakiya Whitfield, hailed as a potential buy of the season, will make her club debut in the centres. Her ability to break tackles and create space for outside backs will be a significant advantage for the Cowboys' attack.

MY TIP: Choosing a winner in the first round is always hard and even harder when there has been minimal opportunity to see the teams line up in trials before the season begins. On paper, the Sharks look like the stronger team; however, the Cowboys were the big winners in their trial match against last year's grand finalists. I'm going to go against the bookies and go with the Cowboys, as their attack was super slick, and if the Sharks aren't on their game, they'll be scoring points across the park. North Qld by 8.

BRONCOS v EELS: Beth NICHOLLS

The Eels will be looking to make major improvements in 2024, whilst the Broncos will be looking to go one step further again and make the Grand Final.

After just falling short in the 2023 season and losing to the Knights in the finals by six points, the Broncos will be back with a vengeance, especially after starting their 2024 on a high, beating the West Tigers in a trial match, 28-16. Ali Briggingshaw continues to captain the Broncos side, in what will be her seventh season with the club, being their inaugural halfback and captain, where she also captained the experienced club to three straight NRLW Grand Final wins in 2018, 2019 and 2020. Two players will be making their NRLW debuts, Bree Spreadborough on the wing and five-eighth Skyla Adams. Keilee Joseph is making her Broncos debut, after signing with the Brisbane side from the Sydney Roosters in the off-season.

After making a Grand Final appearance in 2022, the Eels surely would like to forget the 2023 season, winning only one game and finishing in 10th place on the ladder. Much like their opponents, the Eels had an impressive trial match, defeating the Dragons 20-8. The Parramatta side is entering this 2024 season with a new sense of direction, with this match being the first the side is lead out by their new captain, Mahalia Murphy, for the first time, as well as being the first game coached by new Head Coach, Steve Georgallis. Rory Owen and Rosie Kelly are also making their NRLW debuts, both in the centres.

Both sides see a shuffle around of players from the 2023 squad, mainly due to injuries, with both teams sporting new halves combinations.

WHO TO WATCH: Playing in the 2024 Origin series for the Maroons and recently inking a three-year extension with the Broncos, Romy Teitzel, is a monster second rower for the Brisbane side. In the 2023 season Teitzel made 214 tackles, 2 line break assists and total of 1098 running metres.

Joining the Eels in the inaugural season in 2021 and being named as Vice-Captain for the 2024 season, Abbi Church is the Parramatta sides' fullback bringing much experience and leadership to the team.

MY TIP: First game tips are always hard, but I really can't look past the Broncos, they have a strong line-up and will be looking to build upon previous year's successes, where many of their players also were featured in the 2024 Origin series. Time for my girls to make their mark and get the first win of the season. Brisbane by 16.

DRAGONS v TITANS: Luke JOBSON

A tantalizing round one matchup has last year's Grand Finalists in the Gold Coast Titans going up against a reinvigorated St George Illawarra Dragons side that will look to move back into the finals after just missing out in 2023.

Coming off a 20-8 trial loss against the Parramatta Eels, the Dragons will be looking to start the season with a bang. Jamie Soward continues to lead the Dragons in his fourth season at the club, bringing back Steph Hancock from the Titans to a strong forward pack while livewire Kasey Reh makes her NRLW debut off the bench. Reh, the NSW U19's fullback and winning captain, will be joined by Bronte Wilson and Maatuleio Fotu-Moala as debutants, the former a Steelers grand final winner while Fotu-Moala comes off an international debut for Tonga in 2023.

The Titans and coach Karyn Murphy will be hungry to get their season off to a winning one, with a star-studded backline leading the way. Queensland's match-winner from Game 2, Lauren Brown, lines up at halfback to guide around a team full of Origin stars and players wanting to avenge the last minute heartbreak of last season. Tahlia Fuimaono will play her first NRLW game since last season's opening game, after injury took away her season in 2023.

RAIDERS v TIGERS: Josh ROBERTSON

The final game of NRLW action for Round 1 comes from Campbelltown Stadium where two sides who missed the finals last season look to get their season to a perfect start as the Tigers play host to the Raiders.

Finishing in eighth spot on the NRLW ladder last season, the start to their 2023 season was perfect for the Tigers with two wins from their opening two games before not winning another game for the rest of the season. The season though despite only two wins wasn't a disaster for the Wests Tigers with five of their seven losses for the season being with a margin of 12 points or less. The Tigers side sees a strong mix of experience and youth with co-captains Bo Vette-Welsh and Kezie Apps leading the side amongst other experience players such as Sarah Togatuki in the squad to balance out some exciting youth prospects going forward in the side who are either in their second or debut NRLW season. One exciting player is Harmony Crichton the sister of Bulldogs captain Stephen Crichton who has been named on the wing.

The Canberra Raiders nearly pulled off a finals appearance in their debut NRLW season when they finished in fifth spot just two points outside of the top 8. The Raiders managed five wins from their 9 matches including picking up wins against the Roosters. The 2024 season will be looking to find consistency and use their debut season

Emily Bass and Rilee Jorgensen will also line up after injuries curtailed their respective representative chances this season, with Bass a formidable try-scoring threat.

WHO TO WATCH: While the excitement of Kasey Reh is palpable, Raecene McGregor will be looking to step up after a lackluster Dragons campaign in 2023. The New Zealand halfback is one of the premier dual-threats in the game, with her international record speaking volumes of her quality. The question will be whether she can bring her international form of 2023 to the NRLW in 2024

The aforementioned Lauren Brown is a versatile threat for the Titans, as shown in the State of Origin this season for Queensland. A great kicking threat close to the line, Brown's capability to split the defense on both sides of the field with her running game will stretch the Dragons on the edges. Her combination with fullback Evania Pelite, herself a dynamic star with the ability to break a game open, will have Dragons fans nervous whenever those two are within scoring range.

MY TIP: Round one is never easy, even more so when the corresponding game last year was a one-point thriller. That said, the Titans are looking like the superior team on paper and while the Dragons will come out firing, the Titans just look too strong. Titans by 8.

experience to pick up a top 4 spot in 2024. The opening round team for the Raiders brings experience to the fore with inaugural captains Simaima Taufa and Zahara Temara leading the side around again this season. The experience doesn't stop for the Raiders with the likes of Sophie Holyman and Grace Kemp who played in this year's Origin series. The Green Machine are also boosted by the signing of Fiji international Serena Naitokotoko who brings a lot of talent to Canberra after a season at Parramatta.

WHO TO WATCH: Tigers co-captain Bo Vette-Welsh is one of the best players in the NRLW and after missing all of 2022, her impact on her return was massive for the Tigers and after another season under her belt her lightning form yet again. The experience that Vette-Welsh will bring and the ability to change the game for the Tigers.

The return of Zahara Temara to the nation's capital is going to be a boost for the Raiders as they are looking to make the finals for the first time. The control that Temara has and the big game experience will be a big boost for Canberra. Temara has the control and poise needed to keep a young side calm and in the big moments with some important games this season.

MY TIP: This is a game that is tough to tip as all NRLW matches can be because you never know what teams are going to dish up in any competition to start the season. I think there is just enough reason to tip the Raiders in what will be a very close game but the big game experience might just help them. Canberra by 8.

MATCH PREVIEW

Andy P

The Warriors have been away from Go Media Stadium for the last month and will be keen to satisfy the hunger of the locals as they host the Wests Tigers for Friday night footy start to round 21.

The Warriors scored more tries than their opposition last round, but the Raiders beat the visitors 20-18 after the visitors missed some vital conversions. But coach Adam Webster is adamant this was not the issue; it was down 14-0 until the last minutes of the first half, which was the problem. Webster said it would never be easy when they were playing a game of catch-up. Webster was also critical of the team not putting the Raiders on the ground enough in tackles, allowing the green machine to continue momentum against them and be on the front foot. The game was challenging for the Warriors, who lost Taine Tuapiki and Adam Pompey from the game. Roger Tuivasa-Sheck was a beacon for hope, running over 250 meters and pushing through the defensive line to create opportunities. Even though Chanel Harris-Tavita could not add points while on conversion duty, he still played a solid game in the middle, taking on the bulk of in-game kicking from Te Marie Martin. Addin Fonua-Blake, Dylan Walker and Wayde Egan lifted where they could in the middle, keeping the Warriors in the game till the end. It was also an inspiring game from Mitch Barnett, who said it never crossed his mind not to back up for the boys after a breakout Origin series from him. Adam Pompey will be sidelined due to a knee injury, and Moala Graham-Taufa will move to replace him in the centres. Taine Tuapiki will miss a game through concussion protocols, and this sees Roger Tuivasa-Sheck move into fullback, with Charnez Nicoll-Klokstad still out till round 21 with a calf injury.

Wests Tigers coach Benji Marshall conceded his team was far better this round to last; even though they lost, there was still plenty to take out of the game. After the 42-28 beating at the hands of South Sydney in Gosford, Marshall said an excellent performance from the young guns of Lachlan Galvin, Tallyn Da Silva and Jahream Bula gave him hope the team is building to be more competitive for next season. Marshall said it was disappointing that they could not finish it even though they were leading at stages during the game. Turing over easy errors at critical parts of the game gave away any momentum they were trying to foster, as well as letting Cody Walker and Jack Wighton have too much room to move in the middle. Adam Douehi is being rested, which will welcome the return of Starford To'a to the centres. Aidan Sezer has taken a two-match suspension and will be replaced by Latu Fainu. A boost for West's is the return of their skipper Api Koroisau from a calf injury, pushing young gun Tallyn Da Silva to the bench. David Klemmer will sit out this round due to an ankle issue and will be replaced by Founa Pole. John Bateman is off to the Super League in England for the rest of the year and will be replaced by Ruben Porter this round, while Wests will also welcome back to their forward pack Isaiiah Papali'i and Alex Seyfarth.

WHO TO WATCH: The Warriors are upfront and clearly present danger. The Warriors lead the premiership in post-contact meters, and Addin Fonua-Blake and Mitch Barnett are the top 4 players for post-contact meters. Watch for these two to lay a foundation in the middle that Wayde Egan will take advantage of with dummy half-runs. Kurt Capewell and Dylan Walker will be the ones to watch as they play well on the edges, and Walker is as dangerous as any half with his skills in kicking and guiding play.

The more ball in hand RTS got, the better the Warrior's attack looked. If the halves combo for Martin and Harris-Tavita can click as they did against the Broncos in round 17, it will open up the floor for RTS to get involved. And it was Martin's kicking game in round 17 that stood out, while in the last round, it seemed to go missing.

With Api Koroisau back, the Wests will gain some experience and stability in the middle. Api is a born competitor and will undoubtedly lead the team through the middle. Wests also gain some strike power in the forwards, with Alex Seyfarth returning to the bench and Isiah Papali'i returning to the run on side. Seyfarth is explosive off the bench and must bring the fire to help contain the Warrior's ferocity in the middle.

The young guns did shine last week, and as their experience grows, so will their chances of finishing off games at critical moments. Lachlan Galvin loves to engage the line, and the more he does, the more he will likely expose some gaps in the Warrior's defence, which was asleep early last round. Jahream Bula is among the top five best support players in the premiership; he has his team's back. But it's just getting him into those positions of opportunity at the end of a set that would help Bula press the attack and cause doubt in the opposition's defensive lines.

FAVOURITE: Leaking on an average of 45 points in their last four games, the Wests are not looking to cause an upset in this round. In addition, they will be without some key players due to injury. The Warriors still seem able to bring the fire and will be hungry to win for the home crowd.

MY TIP: The Warriors won't be letting the home crowd down after such a long hiatus from home. Their halves have shown they can direct the play and have a kicking game that can use robust outside backs like Dallin Watene-Zelezniak. Wests may have played better last round, but they still lack the fire that needed to be a threat. Warriors by 14.

MATCH PREVIEW

Olivia T

Playing at home against premiership heavyweights Melbourne, 16th placed Parramatta are in for a challenge.

After having the week off, Parramatta are looking for their first win in more weeks than I can count on one hand. Round 19 was the last time the Eels played and lost 24-16 to the Titans at CBUS Super Stadium. Being at the bottom of the ladder doesn't help their chances, along with the fact Moses' season ended in the dying minutes of Origin III. However, Clint Gutherson will play his 200th match for the Eels, which should provide an electric atmosphere.

There is no better feeling for the Storm than winning at AAMI Park 24-8 over old foes Sydney. Even with no superstars like Coates, Munster, Welch and Asofa-Solomona, the Roosters did not phase the Storm at all. Emerging players proved why the Storm can win in any situation, no matter who is on the field. Howarth and Anderson were standouts (especially with the best no-try in Melbourne history), along with the spine dominating as usual.

For the Eels this weekend, Sean Russell returns on the wing, along with Wiremu Greig, Joey Lussick and Makahehi Makatoa who also return. Charlie Guymey is out of the team after attaining a season-ending injury and Lorenzo Mulitalo is out due to suspension, while Matt Arthur and Matt Doorey move to the reserves list. Forwards Bryce Cartwright and Shaun Lane are named to start after coming off of the bench last game.

The Storm are sure to have a boost with the inclusion of Cameron Munster among the extended reserves and Grant Anderson back on the wing after his knee is cleared of any damage. Christian Welch and Nelson Asofa-Solomona return to the bench after missing last game due to injury and Alec MacDonald misses out this game after suffering a shoulder injury. Joe Chan is suspended following a dangerous contact charge, otherwise the bench stays the same.

WHO TO WATCH: In what is being heralded as a "Dally M season" by the ABC Sport team, Jahrome Hughes is hard not to watch. In a standout season, Hughes has been instrumental in every game he has played, whether it be through try assists or offloads that lead to more Melbourne magic, his leadership helps guide the team. Take last week's stats for example, 11 tackles, 2 offloads and 13 kicks for 386 kicking metres, which show how efficient he is in all areas on the field. This week Jahrome will just need to play it cool to ensure the team sticks together to drown out the Eels.

Parramatta's king Clint Gutherson is aiming to lead his team to a win at home. In what will be his first game against the Storm this year, Gutho is sure to be as slippery as ever and put on the four pointers, as he did the last time he played. Having the most run metres last game at 265 metres and a line break, Gutherson is a vital part of the spine and of the Eels fabric. It is hard to pinpoint what the Eels' downfall is, maybe $4.5 million worth of players on the sideline, so it feels unfair to blame it all on Gutho, but he should encourage the rest of his team to step up to become the Grand Final team we saw in 2022.

FAVOURITE: No surprise Melbourne are clear favourites.

MY TIP: Melbourne is on top of the ladder, it's a no brainer. Storm by 18.

MATCH PREVIEW

Broncos and Bulldogs set to battle in Brisbane

The Brisbane Broncos will host the Canterbury-Bankstown Bulldogs this Saturday afternoon at Lang Park in a crucial fixture for both sides. With just four competition points separating them on the ladder, the 11th placed Broncos have an opportunity to draw closer to the top eight whilst the 6th placed Bulldogs could see themselves drop behind the likes of the Dolphins, Cowboys, and Dragons if they are the losing side this weekend.

After snapping a six game losing streak last week, the Broncos will need to be careful not to slip back into losing habits. The win against the Knights was a long time coming for Brisbane fans, and reignites hope of a position in the finals. A Deine Mariner double and an 18-0 half-time lead helped the Broncos to their 30-14 win against the now 13th placed Knights.

Selwyn Cobbo is set to play his first NRL game since round 18 after suffering a groin injury in Origin game 3. His return on the wing pushes veteran Corey Oates to 18th man. Brendan Piakura is also struggling with a groin injury and has dropped to the reserves, with Kobe Hetherington stepping up to start in the second row and Blake Mozer joining the bench.

The Bulldogs are able to taste finals football as the end of the regular season approaches, but there is still plenty of work to do. Dishing up consistently good performances this year, they'll be disappointed with their failure to snatch the two points against the Cowboys last weekend. With just two points proving the difference in Townsville, some missed Matt Burton conversions was all it took for North Queensland to come back from a half-time deficit to steal the win.

Lipoi Hopoi has been named on the bench for the Bulldogs in what will be the fifth NRL appearance for the 22 year old forward. Chris Patolo is the player to make way in the only change to the Canterbury-Bankstown 17.

The Bulldogs haven't played finals since 2016. In those seven seasons since, Brisbane have played finals football in five of them.

WHO TO WATCH: Brisbane fullback Reece Walsh had a difficult Origin series to say the least. After getting flattened by Joseph Suaalii in game 1, he failed to live up to his potential in the following two losses in what can certainly be described as a learning experience for the 22 year old. Consistently in the media, Walsh would have certainly been feeling the pressure upon his return to clubland, which he made last weekend off the back of a very short turnaround. Scoring a try and racking up two try assists and linebreaks, Walsh was a key figure in his side's victory and he will be keen to remind Queenslanders again this weekend why he is one of the best fullbacks in the game.

Bulldogs utility Kurt Mann has slowly assumed the starting lock position throughout the 2024 season, his first season with Canterbury-Bankstown. Having spent time with the Storm, Dragons, and Knights throughout his career, the 31 year old has played exactly 37 minutes in his past two games. Known for working through a heap of tackles in a highly efficient manner, Mann was one of many somewhat ridiculed utility signings made by the Dogs for this season, but this has inarguably paid off. Signed until the end of 2025, Mann may be looking to settle down as the Bulldogs continue their rise with his help.

FAVOURITE: Having won the past five straight games against the Bulldogs, Brisbane at home are tipped to be the strong favourites.

MY TIP: The Bulldogs have pulled off some hardfought wins of late, and despite finishing on the wrong end of the scoreboard last time out, I think they have shown more resolve and determination than Brisbane this season. Bulldogs by 4.

MATCH PREVIEW

AJ LUCANTONIO

Cowboys look to ride into the eight

The North Queensland Cowboys will be looking to solidify their top eight spot when they take on top four hopefuls the Cronulla Sharks in Townsville.

The Cowboys were great in a narrow win over the Bulldogs last time out. They've had a habit of either blowing teams out, getting blown out or winning an arm-wrestle. Lately, it's been the latter after an impressive win over the improved Bulldogs. They had to work hard for the full 80 minutes, but it would be the defence that pleased Todd Payten with all three tries coming off kicks. This shows a remarkable turnaround to the turnstyle defence that was on display earlier in the season.

To beat Cronulla, you feel that they'll have to win up front. Cronulla's pack either dominates you early, or lays down and is dominated for 80 minutes. McLean and Taumalolo will have their hands full looking to set the early standard and outmuscle Cronulla from the opening whistle. Tom Dearden has gone to a new level since being in QLD camp, leading his team well around the park, his combination down his left edge will be key as Cronulla's right edge has been a significant point of weakness.

On the team front, Jaxson Purdue keeps his spot in the side after a strong performance on Sunday night. It's an other-wise settled line up for Todd Payten. Murray Taulagi could be a late inclusion however if he passes a fitness test this week.

Cronulla come in after a massacre against the Tigers and their final bye of the season. Given the unfortunate news surrounding Nicho Hynes, Dan Atkinson and Braydon Trindall will again have to make significant steps to ensure the Sharks maintain their top four spots. More positively, Briton Nikora has found his best form with some barnstorming efforts in recent matches and the decision to move Kayal Iro to centre has paid off in droves with the off-contract centre producing some great performances since he was moved.

To beat the Cowboys, they will need to go back to the power game that worked earlier in the season. Cronulla were a form side early on, and that was due to their forwards getting the jump on their opposition. Since Magic Round, their pack have been almost non-existent with the exclusion of their wins over Brisbane and Wests. Hopefully the bye gave Craig Fitzgibbon the time needed to set the wrongs right, and deliver a big result to solidify their top four place.

Will Kennedy's controversial suspension for contact with referee Adam Gee has seen a forced change. This will see former Panther Liam Ison make his first grade debut. Siosifa Talakai will return from suspension via the bench, replacing the luckless Jesse Colquhoun.

WHO TO WATCH: For the Cowboys, the focus is on Jason Taumalolo. After losing the captaincy and having an unspectacular start to the season. An honesty session following the Round 7 loss to the Sharks has sparked the former Dally M Medalist to a return to his spectacular 2022 form. Watch for Taumalolo to have his revenge on a Sharks pack that has been in decline this season.

There is a sense of excitement for the Sharks with the debut of Liam Ison. Ison has been excellent in his 10 NSW Cup games this season, scoring 9 tries, 5 try-assists, 7 line-breaks and an amazing 72 tackle breaks (2 games with 10 or more tackle-breaks). Ison has also made The League Scene's NSW Cup TOTW on three occasions. His small frame hasn't hindered his ability to dominate matches and will be a hard man to bring down. The fullback will be dangerous on every carry and is one player the Panthers are filthy at letting go.

FAVOURITE: Home ground advantage hands the Cowboys better backing in this one.

MY TIP: This is a coin flip game for me, as both sides have massive stakes. Largely due to the fact they are at home and need to continue to win to keep pace with teams fighting to make the top eight. Cronulla have to keep winning to stay in the top four with the Roosters and Manly in striking distance, as well as the need to keep up with Penrith to potentially host a home final at Shark Park. Sharks by 4.

MATCH PREVIEW

Kelly HOLLIS

It's the battle of the birds to maintain a top 4 spot on the NRL ladder.

The Sydney Roosters endured a challenging outing against the Melbourne Storm in Round 20, suffering a 24-8 defeat. The match saw Victor Radley and Connor Watson sent to the bin for professional fouls, adding to the team's woes. Despite the disappointment, Wally Lewis Medal winner Angus Crichton showcased his class with seven offloads and 15 runs for 111 metres, while Daniel Tupou notched his 156th career try.

Heading into their clash with the Manly-Warringah Sea Eagles, coach Trent Robinson has opted for consistency, retaining the same 17-man squad from the previous round. Lindsay Collins and Spencer Leniu are set to start after coming off the bench last round, boosting the Roosters' forward pack. With the team eager to bounce back, they must address their discipline and capitalise on scoring opportunities to overcome their recent struggles against top-tier teams.

The Manly-Warringah Sea Eagles are riding high after a dominant 38-8 victory over the Gold Coast Titans. Despite conceding two early tries to trail 8-0, the Sea Eagles displayed resilience, rallying to take a 12-8 lead at halftime and then piling on 38 unanswered points in the second half. Daly Cherry-Evans and Jake Trbojevic, fresh off State of Origin duties, played pivotal roles, while Taniela Paseka's return from a thumb injury added strength to the lineup. Highlights included Brooks' impressive solo effort, Lehi Hopoate's fourth try of the year, and a double from Tom Trbojevic, with his brother Ben also crossing the line.

However, the Sea Eagles have their challenges. Lehi Hopoate is expected to be out for 4-6 weeks due to a facial fracture. In his absence, Tommy Talau will shift to the wing, Ben Trbojevic will move to the centres, and Corey Waddell will join the back row. Taniela Paseka is set to start, with Toafofoa Siplely moving to the bench. Despite these changes, the Sea Eagles are determined to build on their recent success and maintain their momentum as they prepare to face a Roosters side hungry for redemption.

WHO TO WATCH: After debuting for the NSW Blues in Game II of State of Origin and backing up from Game III, Connor Watson has toiled away for the Roosters. In the loss to the Storm, Watson made the most tackles from the Roosters side. He was fairly quiet with the ball, not running near as many metres as he normally does. However, another week of recovery and training after Origin may help him get his numbers back into the triple digits.

Former Wests Tigers player Tommy Talau ran for almost 300 metres in Sunday's win against the Titans - he literally ran 299 of them! He also made 2 line breaks, three tackle breaks, a try assist and scored his own four-pointer. It will be interesting to see if he can have the same impact this weekend after being moved out to the wing with the loss of Lehi Hopoate.

FAVOURITE: The Roosters are the favourites to take this game out.

MY TIP: The Roosters don't often lose two in a row, so I expect them to come out firing in order to redeem themselves after that pretty poor showing against the Storm. Roosters by 10.

MATCH PREVIEW

Rhys SULLIVAN

The Dragons enjoyed the bye in Round 20, a well earned rest following their 30-26 win over Brisbane a week prior. A Christian Tuipulotu hat trick and strong performances from Jaydn Su'a, Jack de Bellin and Jacob Liddle helped set up the victory that moved them to the brink of the top 8.

They get back Origin stars Zac Lomax and Ben Hunt for this one, forcing Mikaele Ravalawa and Jesse Marschke out of the side. Raymond Faitala-Mariner is back on deck after being a late withdrawal against the Broncos due to back spasms, forcing Luciano Leilua to the bench and Jack Bird 18th man. Mat Feagai and Blake Lawrie have both been named among the reserves as they look to come back from shoulder injuries.

Penrith meanwhile came off a Round 19 bye into a hard fought Round 20 win, downing the Dolphins 28-26 in Golden Point. Nathan Cleary's return from a hamstring injury was worth the price of admission, with the star halfback picking up two try assists and the game winning two point drop goal. Other star performers include Sunia Turuva, James Fisher-Harris, Matt Eisenhuth, Moses Leota and Daine Laurie.

Origin trio Jarome Luai, Liam Martin, Isaah Yeo and Brian To'o will make their returns after Penrith gave them a week off. Dylan Edwards is unavailable due to a knee injury, so Laurie remains at the back. Liam Henry goes to the bench and Luron Patea is pushed out of the extended squad completely. Despite his strong performance against the Dolphins, Eisenhuth will be the 18th man.

The Panthers struggles in attack haven't really been rectified, largely due to the absence of Cleary, with 22.6 points per game around the league average. But they do have the best defence in the NRL, allowing just 15.7 points per game. St George Illawarra meanwhile are pretty much middle of the road in both, averaging 21.4 and conceding 24.7

WHO TO WATCH: This match may not be won or lost by the halfbacks, but they'll certainly go a long way towards deciding the outcome. And fresh off a somewhat disappointing Origin series, Ben Hunt will have a point to prove. He's been brilliant for the Red V this season, with 21 try assists, 12 line break assists and 11 forced drop outs, but his performances in big games have been questioned. That's something he needs to quash if the Dragons can win this one.

For Nathan Cleary meanwhile the job is simple - more of the same please. As mentioned earlier he was at his absolute best against the Dolphins, his first game in 10 weeks. If he picks up from where he left off against the Dragons his Panthers should be much too strong.

FAVOURITE: Penrith are favourites in this one.

MY TIP: The Dragons are gonna need almost everything to go right in order to even have a sniff in this one. It probably won't. Penrith by 20+.

MATCH PREVIEW

Beth NICHOLLS

The Dolphins are looking for their fourth win in four games against the Titans, in the "Sunshine Showdown".

A golden point loss to the Panthers last week, saw the Dolphins drops to seventh place in the ladder, where they now have a total of nine wins and eight losses, also having all three of their byes already. This loss came after a 14-point lead with 25 minutes to go, but the Penrith side caught up to the Dolphins, and then Nathan Cleary's boot was just too good for them.

Wayne Bennett has made no changes to the team, with the same 17 who faced the Panthers in Round 20 set to take on the Titans.

After winning three in a row to the Warriors, Sharks and Eels, the Titans succumbed to their eleventh loss of the season against the Sea Eagles, which leaves them in 15th place and the chance of making finals almost completely gone from their grasp. Gold Coast started out on top against Manly in the match, leading 8-0, the Sea Eagles then went on to score 38 unanswered points, with the Titans struggling in both defence and attack.

Similarly to the Dolphins, the Titans have named an identical starting 17 to who played against Manly, with AJ Brimson still sidelined with his groin injury.

These sides met twice in the Dolphins inaugural year, along with in Round 4 earlier this year, with the Dolphins coming out victorious every time. The Dolphins convincingly won in their previous 2024 clash, whilst both of their 2023 games we won by a margin of two points.

WHO TO WATCH: The halves partnerships for both teams are a mix of experience and youth, with the experience and seniority coming from Kodi Nikorima at the Dolphins and Kieran Foran at the Titans, and the young and exciting Isaiya Katoa for the Dolphins and Jayden Campbell for the Titans. These halves partnerships show much potential, and when they get the ball rolling, they are electric to watch.

Isaiya Katoa is in his second year of first grade, and certainly making his mark in the halfback position. During the 2023 season Katoa has scored two tries whilst making eight try assists and twelves line break assists.

Having had a rocky year due to injury, Jayden Campbell is a little player with the need for speed and excels regardless of if he is playing at fullback or five-eighth. In the eight games he has played this year, he has scored three tries, made six try assists and two line breaks.

FAVOURITE: Dolphins are favoured to get another won and stay in the fight to make their first finals appearance in the NRL.

MY TIP: Although the Titans have shown glimpses of greatness this year, I do not think they have the defensive abilities to hold of the electric Dolphins for an entire 80 minutes. Dolphins by 14.

MATCH PREVIEW

Rob CROSBY

Whitehead reaches a milestone as Wighton returns

The Canberra Raiders will close out the round on Sunday evening against the South Sydney Rabbitohs in a contest with major ramifications on both sides hopes of featuring in September.

Breaking a run of losses with a sorely-needed win at home last Friday, the Canberra Raiders will be determined to rise to the occasion as captain Elliott Whitehead become only the 15th man to play 200 NRL games for the club.

Holding off the Warriors – despite being outscored four tries to three – most recently, coach Ricky Stuart has stuck solid with the same squad despite only using 16 players in the 20-18 victory.

Currently sitting two points adrift of the top eight with a -91 points differential, the Raiders face a difficult run home with all six of their remaining matches against teams ranked above them on the ladder after this weekend.

The Raiders have enjoyed a strong record over the Rabbitohs during Stuart's tenure with nine wins from 13 clashes, including a historic preliminary final victory in 2019 played before largest recorded crowd at GIO Stadium.

Surging up the premiership ladder to stand as a dark horse for the finals based on recent performances, the South Sydney Rabbitohs will be hoping to defy a poor historical record in the nation's capital.

Getting away with a 42-28 victory over the Wests Tigers last Saturday, interim coach Ben Hornby has shifted Michael Chee Kam into the centres after Richie Kennar was ruled out with concussion; Jacob Host will return following a two month lay-off in the second-row.

Winning seven out of 18 appearances at GIO Stadium over the past three decades, the Rabbitohs have only recorded a single win at the venue when scoring less than five tries.

Local junior Keaon Koloamatangi will make his 100th appearance for the club; the in-form forward has never scored against the Raiders in first grade.

WHO TO WATCH: Arriving in the ACT eight years ago as an unknown English forward determined to prove his worth in the NRL, Elliott Whitehead has surpassed all expectations to stand as club legend. Becoming only the 15th player to achieve 200 first grade games with the Raiders, the 34-year-old has developed into one of the club's finest signings through his leadership on and off the field. Helping the Raiders reach the finals in five of his eight seasons with the club, Whitehead will be giving his all over the closing weeks before departing Australian shores to rejoin Catalans at season's end.

Returning to Canberra for the first time in opposition colours, Jack Wighton will be out to spoil the party for his old club on Sunday evening. Playing over 200 games in more than a decade as a Raider, the 31-year-old has played an instrumental role in reviving the Rabbitohs season by reverting to five-eighth. Remaining a formidable running threat and carrying the load as a kicker, look for Wighton to cause plenty of havoc as the Rabbitohs strive to pull off the unlikely surge towards September.

FAVOURITE: The Raiders are expected to build upon last week's performance and push their home ground record back into the black.

MY TIP: Elliott Whitehead played his 100th game for the Raiders in a win over the Rabbitohs at home. The Raiders will be hoping for a similar result on Sunday evening. Raiders by 8.

SUPER LEAGUE ROUND 18 WRAP with JUSTIN DAVIES

GIANTS BEAT RED DEVILS IN TIGHT AFFAIR AT JOHN SMITH'S STADIUM

Huddersfield Giants won 16-8 against Salford Red Devils at John Smith's Stadium on Friday night.

The opening exchanges between the two sides were tight and points were at a premium in this contest. Huddersfield Giants were first on the scoreboard after ruck interference. Jake Connor stepped up and booted the goal for a 2-0 lead. The Red Devils had the first four-pointer of the game just before the break. Joe Mellor scurried across from dummy-half to make it 6-2 at the break.

The visitors had the opportunity to extend their lead to six but decided to take a quick tap which didn't end up in points. They were made to pay for that decision quickly. Sam Halsall snaffed an intercept and showed enough speed to get over the line. Salford were offered another chance from the tee on the hour mark. This time, Marc Sneyd piloted it through to give them an 8-6 lead. Huddersfield tied it up again after Brad Singleton was pinged for a high shot. The forward was binned and Connor kicked the goal. The Giants almost made them pay immediately but Aiden McGowan was held up over the line by the defense. They did make use of the extra man soon enough. Adam Milner had the defenders retreating and earned the whistle. Connor kicked his third penalty of the night for 10-8 Giants. Huddersfield confirmed the win late on through Milner magic again. He spied a gap in the defense and scooted over.

LEOPARDS POUNCE ON BUCKED BRONCOS AT LEIGH SPORTS VILLAGE

Leigh Leopards won 36-6 against the lowly London Broncos at Leigh Sports Village Stadium on Friday night.

The Leopards have won back-to-back games as they cement themselves in the Super League mid table. Their first score came from a kick wide which was fumbled into the path of Darnell McIntosh to touch down. Leigh kept surging forward for points. Tom Amone charged over then Ricky Leutele dived over in the corner to make it 16-0. It was one-way traffic in the first half. Lachlan Lam started the move then an interchange of passes saw Matt Davis stroll over.

The onslaught continued in the second half. Lam and Leutele combined then the latter kicked through for Josh Charnley to go over. London Broncos got on the board on the hour mark. A high kick was plucked out of the air by Josh Rourke to dive over for 28-6. The Leopards added a pair of scores late to round off a dominant win. Lam finished off a break to score then Jack Hughes found a way across for 36-6.

WOLVES INTO SECOND, BEATING SAINTS WITH 12 AT TOTALLY WICKED STADIUM

Warrington Wolves beat St Helens 24-10 to move into second at Totally Wicked Stadium on Friday night.

The Wolves are in equal second with Hull KR and remain one win behind Wigan Warriors at the top of the ladder. Warrington were in rhythm early in the contest and spread the ball wide to Matty Ashton who dived over in the corner. Next, Matt Duffy showed off his impressive speed to make it 12-0. The fullback spied a gap and blitzed through for the score. The Wolves were reduced to 12 after a heavy collision between James Harrison and Noah Stephens saw the former sent off.

St Helens made use of the extra man early. Agnatius Paasi steamed onto a Jonny Lomax pass to dive over after being checked by the video referee. The drama continued as Warrington were reduced to eleven players after Matty Nicholson was pinged for a professional foul close to the line. Sam Royle provided instant impact for the Saints. The interchange man stepped past the defense and scored to make it 12-10. The Wolves weren't to be denied on this night. Adam Holroyd and Nicholson both got over the stripe to give them a vital 24-10 win.

HULL FC UPSET WIGAN WARRIORS AT MKM STADIUM

Hull FC created a buffer at the bottom after their 24-22 win against Wigan Warriors at MKM Stadium on Saturday afternoon.

The hosts have a four-point gap to last place London Broncos after one of the upsets of the Super League season. Hull FC struck first on a bright afternoon. The kick fumbled into the path of Jack Walker who strolled over. The Warriors responded with their own four-pointer. Fullback Zack Eckersley drove them downfield and provided the final pass for Liam Marshall to score. Hull FC restored their lead from a scrum play. The pass from Jake Trueman found Liam Sutcliffe to slice through. They extended their advantage just before half-time. Trueman provided it from the boot this time and found a leaping Davy Litten for 18-6 at the break.

Helping their cause was a sin bin to Wigan Warriors interchange player Tyler Dupree who was pinged for a tip tackle. Hull FC took advantage of the bin to start the second half. An offload out the back allowed Denive Balmforth to step past the defense to make it 24-6. The Warriors showed championship resolve to get themselves back in the contest. Bra O'Neill pinballed off defenders to get one back. Next, Litten was binned for a high tackle on Wigan's Jack Farrimond then Marshall ran into acres of space to get his second. The Warriors brought it back to 24-22 from a long range break. Jack Wardle started the move which ended with Eckersley to go over. Hull FC held on in the closing stages and secured a precious two points in their chase to avoid relegation.

TIGERS HOLD OFF FAST FINISHING DRAGONS AT THE JUNGLE

Castleford Tigers won 24-18 against Catalans Dragons down at The Jungle, Castleford on Sunday afternoon.

The result puts Catalans Dragons into the pack of teams on 22 points in the chase for another finals appearance. It was a windy weekend in England and high kicks were the order of the day. Adam Milnes kick was misjudged by Arthur Mourgue which allowed Liam Horne to pounce. The Tigers continued to attack from their own end. Innes Senior broke free down the wing then passed inside for Jacob Miller to make it 12-0. Castleford were in full flow in front of their home crowd. Another break opened up the Dragons and allowed Horne to get his second of the afternoon. The Dragons did get on the scoreboard before the break. It came from another high kick and Tom Johnstone was able to rise highest to score.

Buoyed by that score, Dragons further reduced the deficit after the break. The ball was given to Matt Ikuvalu who showed strength to slam it down. Catalans leveled the game with their third try of the game. Mourgue sliced through the defense and went over for 18-all. The Tigers shook off their worries and got a match winner from Tex Hoy. He took the ball back inside on the angle and gave them a 24-18 win.

Date: Sun, 21st July. Kickoff: 3:00 PM. Halftime: Castleford 18-6. Penalties: Castleford 4-3. Referee: Marcus Griffiths. Crowd: 7,331.

HULL KR DOWN RHINOS TO MOVE INTO THIRD AT AMT HEADINGLEY STADIUM

Hull KR won 20-12 against Leeds Rhinos in their game at AMT Headingley Stadium on Saturday afternoon.

The Robins move to equal second alongside Warrington Wolves after a big win which has them primed for finals football. It was the Rhinos who were the first to get on the scoreboard. Hull KR made a mess of a kick and Rhyse Martin was there to pounce for 6-0. Neither side were able to get any further points in the first half in an important game for both teams.

David Fusitu'a had a prime chance to extend the Rhinos lead but had the ball bounce off his knee and over the dead ball line. Hull KR were able to get on the board from their own winger. It was a wrap around play which saw Ryan Hall go over. That spurred on the visitors to take their first lead of the contest. It was a dogged run from Mikey Lewis to plunge over the line for 10-6. Leeds snatched back the lead from a truly weird passage of play. The kick bounced, hit the underside of the crossbar then Lachlan Miller picked up the spoils. Hull KR provided a late surge which got them the win in this game. First, Jai Whitbread was on the spot to give them a 16-12 lead. Jez Litten put the icing on the cake for the Robins. He threw a dummy then sliced through to stroll over.
