TITANS HOLD OFF RELENTLESS WARRIORS IN ANZAC ROUND OPENER

ANDYP

The first game of the ANZAC round has set the bar with a try-fest finally sealed by a desperate Gold Coast Titans.

A powerful ANZAC pre-game ceremony was enough to give the home team a boost at the start, putting on two tries in the first 10 minutes of the game. Some undisciplined play by Kelly earned a penalty and a good field position for the Warriors early, and in no time, Charnze Nicoll-Klokstad charged over.

This was quickly followed by an error by Alofiana Khan-Pereira within the Titan's 20m line. Opening the door for a big and fast Addin Fonua-Blake to find a gap and crash over for another try.

It looked like another long day for the Titans until they started to grind out some momentum, with Alofiana Khan-Pereira finding 50m of space up the left edge. AJ Brimson was there to offer support and was rewarded with a try, giving the Titans a whiff they could get back into the game.

That whiff turned into another two tries before halftime and then another two unanswered tries in the opening of the second half.

The Warriors weren't helping themselves and, during the end of the first half, kept giving the ball up to the Titans 20m, giving them relief from pressure and good attack positions. Tanah Boyd began to warm up to the game, and after the Titans got some extra meters from a penalty, Boyd attacked the line, catching the Warriors flat and taking the 4 points.

Boyd gained confidence from this, and his kicking game improved, forcing an error by Marcelo Montoya in goal. The following set David Fifita found space on the line and was over. Boyd ended the first half with a smart field goal to run into the sheds ahead 19-17.

The Titans came out firing first in the second half, with Alofiana Khan-Pereira going over after a Warriors error close to their line.

The Warriors weren't done, but a counter-attack lost its wind after the bunker found a knock-on to RTS from Wade Egan before he left above Aaron Schoupp to almost score.

Feeling the pressure, the Warriors were making more errors in their game. The desperation got to Dallin Watene-Zelezniak as he tried a reckless offload in his own 20m and failed. With the Titans making them pay for this error, they were sitting pretty at 27-12 after AJ Brimson went over for his second try of the day.

But the Warriors' shifting momentum came about with some inspiring runs from Charnze Nicoll-Klokstad. His teammates were rallying, and they had the Titans on the back foot. It was relentless raid after raid on the Titans' goal line, with Addin Fonua-Blake going over for his second and sparking a revival in his team.

Shaun Johnson's kicking had been sound, and he finally came up with the goods when he placed it perfectly for a charging Rocco Berry to go over and give the Warriors and their fans belief!

From Berry's try in the 63rd minute onwards, the Titans' line was assaulted. It seemed it was only a matter of time before the Warriors went over; they had lifted another gear. But it was the Titans who were digging deeper than we had seen this year with a spirited defence.

The Warriors gave it everything, but the Titans' defensive efforts in the back end of the game cemented the win. Although they had given away easy points early, it was their defensive effort for the last 15 minutes that won them the game and their first win for the year.

WALKER CLINICAL, DRAGONS DIABOLICAL

ANDREW FERGUSON

Sam Walker put on an attacking masterclass as his Roosters absolutely belted the Dragons 60-18.

The very first run of the game by Jared Warea-Hargreaves saw him have a heavy collision with 3 Dragons defenders, one of whom was Moses Suli, who copped a head knock and was brought from the field with a concussion and immediately ruled out for the rest of the game.

In the fifth minute, Zac Lomax got a great flick to Tyrell Sloan who wrapped around and raced down the wing and chipped downfield. The ball bounced back towards the Dragons end, but evaded everyone. Ben Hunt regathered, passed back inside to Jack Bird who quickly passed to Jaydn Su'A who was tackled, the defender dropped off, he got back up and slammed the ball down for a spectacular try. Lomax converted.

In the 11th minute the Roosters struck back when Dominic Young was taken down by a legs tackle, but wasn't ruled to be held. He continued on, crawling over the line and slamming the ball down for a try. Sam Walker converted from the sideline.

The Roosters took the lead just 5 minutes later. After a strong run off his own line, Lomax offloaded back to an unsuspecting Hunt, who dropped the ball. Michael Jennings cleaned up and passed to Angus Crichton who strolled in for a soft try. Walker converted.

A great run by Nat Butcher set up a great opportunity for the Roosters. On the next play, Walker at dummy half put a chip over the top and Joey Manu followed through and planted the rolling ball in the Dragons in-goal for a brilliant try. Walker again converted.

Just 3 minutes later, Walker grubbered through and as he chased the ball, Nu Brown ankle tapped him. Walker just got his hand on the ball and very nearly grounded it. The Bunker awarded him a penalty try. Walker converted.

4 minutes before the break, Luke Keary kicked cross-field. Manu tapped it back to Nat Butcher, who then got between two defenders and slammed the ball down for a try. Walker converted.

At halftime the Roosters had a commanding 30-6 lead.

11 minutes into the second half, the Dragons scored, when Jack De Belin ran onto a crash ball, stepped at the line and then scored against the upright. Lomax converted.

The Roosters replied shortly after when Keary ran to the line and slipped through to score. Walker converted.

Just after the hour mark had passed, a kick was put up by Walker. Two Dragons collided as they tried to field the kick, the ball came loose and Joey Manu cleaned up before strolling in to score in the corner. Walker converted from the sideline.

The following set, saw Watson at dummy half, running to the line before he offloaded to Angus Crichton, who broke through the defence, drew the fullback and then passed inside to James Tedesco in support who scored. Walker converted from in front.

With 13 minutes remaining in the game, the Dragons refused to quit. Tom Eisenhuth received a long cut-out pass from Lomax and he strolled in for an easy try. Lomax converted.

Inside the final ten minutes, the Roosters brought up 50 points when Walker on the last tackle and close to the Dragons line, grubbered through and Nat Butcher took it cleanly scored a clever try. Walker converted.

With just 3 mins left in the game, Egan Butcher produced a perfect behind-the-back flick pass which found Joseph-Aukuso Suaalii, who stepped inside the two cover defenders and then dived over to score. Walker converted.

The Roosters whitewash finally came to an end, as the belted the Dragons 60-18.

MUNSTER MAKES HIS MARK ON A NIGHT MELBOURNE WON'T FORGET

ROB CROSBY

The Melbourne Storm have continued a dominant record on ANZAC Day with a 54-20 victory over the South Sydney Rabbitohs at AAMI Park.

Scoring ten tries to four - in a result that will amplify the speculation surrounding the future of Jason Demetriou as South Sydney coach - the Storm extended an unbeaten record against the Rabbitohs in Melbourne to 19 consecutive matches

Getting off to a fast start with Jahrome Hughes exposing the Rabbitohs' retreating defence with a chip kick to send Ryan Papenhuyzen (6th minute) over for first points, the Storm capitalised on an error in the following set to take the score out to 10-0 after Cameron Munster audaciously chipped for Xavier Coates (10th minute) on the first play of a set restart.

The Rabbitohs managed to work their way back into the contest with multiple sets attacking the Storm line and were rewarded with recalled winger Jacob Gagai (18th minute) touching down for his second try in as many games in the top grade.

Three tries in the space of five minutes shifted the momentum of the match back in favour of the home side with Munster running riot to set up a hat-trick for Coates (27th and 32nd minutes) separated in between by a four-pointer to Will Warbrick (29th minute).

A solo effort from Harry Grant (37th minute) out of dummy half completed a first half rout with the Storm going to the shed leading 32-4.

Continuing the rout after the resumption with an early penalty paving the way for Papenhuyzen (42nd minute) to snare his second, the Rabbitohs managed to temporarily stem the flow of points with Gagai (51st minute) running onto a cut-out pass from Cody Walker to collect his second.

The Rabbitohs continued to rally with tries in quick succession to Taane Milne (57th minute) and Cameron Murray (59th minute) narrowing the margin to 36-20 with plenty of time left on the clock.

Awakening from their third quarter malaise with tries to Munster (65th minute) and Tyran Wishart (70th minute) - filling in for Coates on the wing - a soaring catch through the air from Joe Chan (76th minute) saw the Storm cross the half century threshold.

A dangerous tackle on Munster in the final seconds of the match saw Milne sent to the sin bin as the Storm posted their eighth consecutive victory on ANZAC Day to the delight of 25,149 supporters.

Next week, the Storm will face the Titans at CBUS Super Stadium on Saturday evening, while the Rabbitohs will host the Panthers at Accor Stadium on Thursday night.

SEA EAGLES CHERRY RIPE AS SECOND HALF SWOOP DOWNS EELS

SAM BOURKE

Manly skipper Daly Cherry-Evans has led his side to a 32-18 victory over Parramatta at a sold-out Brookvale Oval tonight.

The Eagles raced in four second half tries after being down 14-6 at halftime, with Cherry-Evans setting up a try with a sublime pass and then scoring a try under the posts all in a five minute period to spark the second half fight back.

With the match was in the balance with 11 minutes remaining, Eels winger Maika Sivo went from hat-trick hero to villain, when the blockbusting winger was sent to the Sin Bin for an undisciplined forearm to the head of Reuben Garrick. The Sin Bin proved costly with Garrick then racing in two second half tries down Sivo's wing to seal an impressive second half revival for the home side.

While the Eels were markedly improved from last week's efforts, Brad Arthur's men will rue their ill-discipline with centre Will Penisini also spending 10 minutes in the Bin for taking out Tom Trbojevic without the ball. It saw the Eels effectively down to 12 men for the final quarter of the match.

The match was built up as a throwback to the old days and it was a wild start. Sea Eagles backrower Haumole Olakau'atu flipped his opposite number Shaun Lane heavily on his back, which was deemed dangerous and the NSW Origin hopeful was sent to the Sin Bin. The Eels then took the penalty to jump out to an early 2-0 lead.

Parramatta looked a completely different side to their lethargic selves from the week before and they were rewarded when skipper Clint Gutherson was heavily involved in finding his winger Maika Sivo who crashed over in the corner for the first try of the night.

Manly then returned serve when a quick interchange of passes on the last found Luke Brooks who produced a perfectly timed grubber that bounced up for Tommy Talau to score and get the vocal home crowd back in the match.

The Sea Eagles faithful was silenced minutes later, when Gutherson again got involved as the skipper produced a nice cut out pass for Sivo to score his second try and give his side a shock 10-6 lead.

Parramatta then scored a crucial third try just before the break, when strike centre Will Penisini broke the line and found his winger Bailey Simonsson who raced away to score in the corner and give the Eels a deserved 14-6 at halftime.

Manly needed a spark and it came through their skipper, when Daly Cherry-Evans produced a superb cut out pass to put Jason Saab down the sideline. The lanky winger then found Tom Trbojevic who was on the spot to race away to score and narrow the Eels to two points.

The home crowd were in raptures minutes later when interchange prop Nathan Brown put Jake Trbojevic through a huge hole mid field. The NSW forward then found Daly Cherry-Evans in support who raced away to give his side the lead for the first time in the match.

Manly continued to pile on the pressure on Parramatta when Luke Brooks kicked early for a looming Tom Trbojevic who was tackled without the ball by Will Penisini. The visitors

32 - 18
4 Pines Park, Brookvale / Cammeraygal

then rightfully found themselves down to 12 men with 22 minutes remaining in the match after the Eels centre was sent to the Sin Bin for 10 minutes.

Despite being down a man, Parramatta managed to score with Maika Sivo claiming a hat-trick following some quick hands off rookie half Ethan Sanders and Junior Paulo to narrow the lead to two points following Dylan Brown's missed conversion from the sideline.

Maika Sivo then went from hat-trick hero to villain with unnecessary high contact on Reuben Garrick and the Fijian international found himself in the Sin Bin with just 11 minutes remaining.

The ill-discipline proved critical when the Sea Eagles then sealed the deal, when Haumole Olakau'atu produced a terrific offload down Sivo's wing for Reuben Garrick to score and give Manly a late 26-18 lead.

Garrick then collected his second try after picking up a bounce pass from Daly Cherry-Evans to seal a great second half comeback for the Sea Eagles to run out 32-18 winners.

BRONCOS HIT BY INJURY BUT ULTRA IMPRESSIVE AGAINST TIGERS

JOSH ROBERTSON

The Brisbane Broncos may have some injury worries but they turned on the style with an impressive 34-10 win over the Wests Tigers at Campbelltown Stadium in front of 17,000 fans.

Starting fast, the Broncos weren't able to take their first opportunity when space on the outside opened up for Deine Mariner who lost the ball with the line wide open. The second effort though worked as Mariner was able to just keep himself inside the field of play to score.

The Broncos continued to target that side of the field but just couldn't get the last pass or kick to stick heading Mariner's way. The Tigers were up against it with their attack holding no potency and then a brain fade from Samuela Fainu tackling Corey Oates who was on his way to take a quick 20m restart saw the rookie sent to the sin bin for a professional foul.

It was only a matter of minutes later the Broncos took and an Adam Reynolds kick for Reece Walsh worked perfectly except the bounce of the ball favoured Jock Madden who scored for the visitors rather than for Reece Walsh.

Despite being outplayed completely, the Tigers thought they had a try but Peter Gough in the bunker got the technicalities out of the rule book as Api Koroisau's effort was denied by the fact that the ball had come away from his grip and was ruled not to have regathered it before grounding it.

To rub salt into the wounds of the Tigers having the disallowed try as Reece Walsh went to the middle of the field and showed his electricity in attack as he went back to the middle of the field to score. Adam Reynolds converted from in front to give Brisbane a 16-0 lead at the break.

The second half started the way the Broncos finished as a dumb penalty from the Tigers inside the first minute gave the visitors good field position and they took advantage when Jock Madden picked up his second try of the game.

Another try came for the Broncos at the 55 minute mark when Adam Reynolds ran across field having the defence holding off him before turning the ball back inside for Reece Walsh and the change of direction was unstoppable and Brisbane lead 22-0.

Injury concerns started to mount for both teams with Api Koroisau going off the field with a back injury for the Tigers whilst Jock Madden suffered a Pec injury with both leaving the field. The Broncos managed to add another as Payne Haas was able to reach out and score.

Despite the dominance of the scoreboard, things didn't go all the Broncos way with major injury concerns to both Reece Walsh and Adam Reynolds coming from the field despite multiple times being given the all clear by the trainers. The Tigers put some respectability to the scoreline with two late tries to Charlie Staines to close the gap to 34-10.

Next week, the Tigers have an important clash against the Bulldogs whilst the Broncos will be sweating on the condition of four key playmakers as they have a clash back at Suncorp against the Roosters.

PLUCKY PANTHERS HOLD OUT COWBOYS IN THRILLER

ANDREW JACKSON

The Penrith Panthers have held off a fast-finishing North Queensland Cowboys side 26-20 at Townsville in a Saturday night thriller to re-enter the NRL's top four.

Panthers winger Brian To'o opened his 100th NRL appearance in style as he scored the first try of the game, going over on the left edge after a lovely cut-out pass from Jarome Luai.

It came as a result of a charging run from Paul Alamoti, who was a late addition to Penrith's team on Saturday night, replacing Sunia Turuva in what was described to Fox League's Dan Ginnane as a "coach's decision".

It was curious timing given it had been confirmed on Friday that Turuva, who had been a reliable contributor on the right wing, would be joining the Wests Tigers in the 2025 season.

But the Panthers look to have found a clear replacement for him in Alamoti, who had 196 metres, five tackle busts and a try in the first half alone.

The three-time defending premiers looked switched on early but a few unforced errors gifted North Queensland field position and eventually the hosts capitalised as Tom Dearden sent Semi Valemei flying over to score in the 14th minute.

The errors kept coming from Penrith, who held a 6-4 lead at that point and held onto it on the back of relentless goal-line defence that continually repelled the Cowboys.

While Penrith's defensive system stood tall, North Queensland should have scored in the 24th minute only for a stunning one-on-one tackle from Dylan Edwards to deny Jeremiah Nanai.

That defensive stand paved the way for a late blitz from the Panthers in the first half, with Edwards rewarded for his efforts as he scored in the 33rd minute before a late intercept try capped off a brilliant 40 minutes for Alamoti.

Penrith quickly extended its lead early in the second as Liam Martin pounced on a Semi Valemei error off a Nathan Cleary bomb, with the halfback once again perfect off the tee to make it 24-4.

The Cowboys needed to score next to be any hope of a miraculous comeback and did just that, albeit in contentious circumstances, as Valentine Holmes went over in the 48th minute.

It came after Edwards was ruled to have dropped the ball close to Penrith's line, although replays seemed to show it was dislodged by Scott Drinkwater.

But with no challenge left after unsuccessfully contesting a call earlier in the game the Panthers had to cop the call, with the difference this time being that their defence folded in an unusually soft manner.

It proved a critical turning point as North Queensland, seemingly on the ropes after the Martin try, then further closed the gap as Kulikefu Finefeuiaki scored to make it 24-14 after 55 minutes.

Jeremiah Nanai then crashed over, reducing Penrith's deficit to 24-20 heading into the final quarter of the game.

It was a nervy finish for the premiers as the Cowboys continued to roll up the field and threaten with their second-phase play while the Panthers were uncharacteristically poor in closing out the game late.

They face the Rabbitohs next week while North Queensland host the Dolphins and will likely be without centre Tom Chester, who failed to finish the game after picking up a hamstring injury.

ARMSTRONG DELIVERS ONE GIANT LEAP FOR NEWCASTLE'S SEASON

AJ LUCANTONIO

The battle of two young fullbacks took command at Suncorp Stadium as the Knights proved too strong for the fast finishing Dolphins in an exciting Sunday footy clash.

Newcastle started the match with a big point to prove after a poor start to the season. Repeatedly forcing the Dolphins back deep to start each set, their persistence was rewarded with David Armstrong crossing in his maiden NRL match. Jackson Hastings delivered a magical pass on the inside to Armstrong and the man from Mungindi beat the cover defence for the opener.

The possession was dominant for the visitors in this first half, as their forward pack finally were able to outmuscle their opposition. Nine minutes later, Tyson Gamble went deep into the line and found Dane Gagai who was able to carry Jack Bostock over the try-line and cross for the Knights' second of the afternoon. Gagai converted this one to give Newcastle a surprising 10-0 lead after 19 minutes. Things got bad to worse for the home side when Kenny Bromwich was collected trying to tackle Leo Thompson and left the game to undergo a HIA and wouldn't return.

That stoppage might've been what the Dolphins needed to just reset and click themselves back into gear. After a big kick return from Trai Fuller, the Dolphins were able to set themselves down the right edge which sent Jake Averillo away into open space. He was then able to link up with Oryn Keeley who channeled his inner Steve Mavin, diving spectacularly to cross for his maiden NRL try to reduce the gap to just four points.

The Dolphins would dominate the remainder of the rest of the first half but some determined defensive efforts from Newcastle held the Phins out. Fuller again went close three minutes from time but Adam Elliott saved the day for the visitors as the scoreboard read 10-6 at the break.

Off a mistake from Isaiya Katoa. Newcastle started how they did in the opening 40. Hastings went flat to Phoenix Crossland who got between some ineffective tackles by Keeley and Kodi Nikorima before linking up with Gamble for the first try of the second stanza. The Dolphins weren't without their own chances with a last tackle play coming up short then Kurt Donoghoe missing a certain four pointer missing Kodi Nikorima.

Newcastle capitalised on the rushed play from the Dolphins chasing the game and had a portion of possession with 15 to go. A hand in the play the ball saw the Phins penalised and Gagai added a penalty goal for an 18-6 lead.

What will concern Adam O'Brien is Jacob Saifiti's exit coming off with an ankle injury, meanwhile Wayne Bennett could have both Bromwich's missing after Jesse left with a calf injury. With time winding down. Katoa and Nikorima combined to deliver a wonderful cutout ball to Jamayne Isaako who was able to beat Marzhev's cover tackle to give the Dolphins life. Isaako's miss kept the gap at two possessions.

On the next set, some enterprising play from capitalised on Bradman Best jamming in to send Isaako away down the right edge, he beat the cover before linking up with Averillo to score again for the home side. Isaako hooked the kick to the right to reduce the gap to 4.

SHARKS SMASH RUDDERLESS RAIDERS

JUSTIN DAVIES

Cronulla Sharks won 40-0 against Canberra Raiders in their game down at Canberra Stadium to round off ANZAC Round in the National Rugby League competition.

The Sharks remain at the top of the NRL ladder after their dominant win over a rudderless Raiders line-up. They were marshalled around the park well by Nicho Hynes who had a personal tally of 16 points in the display.

Sharks were on from the opening whistle. Nicho Hynes created the movement on the left, which saw the Sharks offload at will until it ended with Cameron McInnes who strolled over for 6-0.

Next, it was a simple effort from big Tom Hazleton. It was a pass inside which saw the rampaging forward brush off a few feeble attempts from the Raiders to double their delight.

Raiders did have a few chances to get themselves in the contest. Xavier Savage made a break down the left but his pass to Danny Levi went to ground which let them off the hook.

Sharks made them pay instantly. It was a simple backline movement from the Sharks which ended with Sione Katoa strolling over then Hynes kicked a third goal to make it 18-0.

The hosts had the opportunity to get on the board before the break. They set up down the Sharks end but again, simple errors turned the ball over against a dogged Sharks defence.

Coming out of the break, Sharks felt just fine. Hynes laid another on a plate, this time for forward Briton Nikora who walked over for his first four-pointer of the season for 24-0.

Hynes did it all himself to get the Sharks past 30. He bamboozled Chevy Stewart for a 40/20 then sliced through the tired Raiders defence to take his tally to 14 for the day.

It was all Sharks as they swarmed on the ball. Hynes snaffled an intercept which had them on the back foot which allowed them to spread it to the right and hand Katoa his second.

Sharks rounded out the dominant win with their seventh try of the afternoon. Kayal Iro started the move which ended with Jesse Ramien who slammed the ball down and a 40-0 win.

Lachlan McINTYRE

Demetriou gone, Hornby at the helm for Penrith challenge

The South Sydney Rabbitohs are in dire straits and it's not going to get any easier, facing the Penrith Panthers at Sydney Olympic Park to open round nine this Thursday night. The Bunnies are sitting in dead last, failing to utilise their bye two weeks ago to regroup before facing the Storm in Melbourne last week, to whom they lost 54-20. The Panthers are trundling along comfortably in third and are shaping yet again as premiership favourites as we hit a third of the way through the season.

Jason Demetriou's name has been in the headlines for weeks now, so much so that this sentence had to be re-written from saying it's a shock that he is still at the helm, to now acknowledging his sacking, effective immediately. Ben Hornby holds the reins in the interim. Down 32-4 at half-time against Melbourne last week, the Rabbitohs were lucky to not have a worse full-time scoreline, managing to scrape together 20 points thanks to a Jacob Gagai double. They face arguably an even tougher opposition this Thursday, and with everything going on off-field it's hard to imagine them getting themselves together in order to challenge Penrith.

Fullback Latrell Mitchell remains sidelined through suspension, with young Jye Gray keeping the number one jersey in his absence. Izaac Tu'itupou Thompson replaces the suspended Taane Milne on the wing. Keon Koloamatangi's front row experiment continues, lining up in the number 8, whilst Michael Chee Kam is elevated to a starting second row spot. Tom Burgess will start on the bench with Davvy Moale alongside Koloamatangi as the starting props.

Despite scoring early through Brian To'o last week, Penrith found themselves challenged by a Cowboys side that came out of the break firing. Nathan Cleary's kicking boots proved the difference in the end in his first game back from injury, with the two sides both crossing the stripe for four tries each. The 26-20 scoreline kept Panthers fans on the edge of their seats, but ultimately the Cowboys were unable to chase them down.

Sunia Turuva was a late scratching from last week's match, shortly after he put pen to paper with rival club the Wests Tigers. He returns to his wing position this weekend, forcing Paul Alamoti out of the 17. Moses Leota is back after a short sideline stint due to injury.

Penrith have won five of their past six games against South Sydney.

WHO TO WATCH: 20 year old Jye Gray finds himself in the number one jersey for his third top grade game of the year. Currently serving the Rabbitohs as a Latrell Mitchell back-up, it's expected that Gray will return to the fullback role in NSW Cup once Mitchell's suspension comes to an end. A product of the QRL's junior pathways, Gray was signed with the Broncos prior to joining the Bunnies. He also appeared in Queensland's U-19 Origin side in 2022, featuring as the five-eighth in a 32-4 loss to NSW at Leichhardt Oval. With uncertainty rife at the Rabbitohs, Latrell Mitchell has been facing growing scrutiny. Gray will be eager to use his precious minutes in the spotlight to show why he's the future of the Rabbitohs number one jersey.

Second row forward Mavrik Geyer's NRL career is still in its infancy at Penrith, having made his first grade debut back in round four of this season. The 23 year old was called back into the top 17 last week, playing 25 minutes off the bench against the Cowboys, and he has retained his spot in the NRL side for this Thursday night. Although mostly playing in the second row, Geyer has also made starting appearances as a prop in reserve grade, and lined up as a centre just two weeks ago in NSW Cup. A Penrith junior, Geyer worked his way through the pathways to make his open age debut only a little over two years ago. Mavrik will be keen to show that he is yet another excellent example of the Panthers pathway system.

FAVOURITE: Panthers are the heavy favourites to overcome the last-placed Bunnies, and the off-field dramas at South Sydney certainly doesn't do them any favours.

MY TIP: At Accor to start the round, Penrith should have plenty of confidence to get the job done. I can't see a single reason why the Rabbitohs could be expected to win this match. Penrith by 16.

MATCH PREVIEW Andrew FERGUSON

Manly hitting their straps while Raiders hit the wall

After a somewhat clunky start to the season for Manly, where they scored victories against Souths (36-24) and the Roosters (21-14), they then lost back-to-back games against seemingly lesser opponents (at the time anyway) Parramatta (24-28) and the Dragons (12-20). Since then though, their attack has started to look more and more impressive, as they racked up an impressive 120 points in their last 4 games, notching 3 wins and a draw.

Their defence though is still patchy, conceding 88 points in the last 4 weeks, with some poor reads and a lack of communication on the edges of their defensive line.

The Raiders have been doing things in fortnightly blocks. They started with solid back-to-back victories against the Knights and Tigers, then conceded 54 points across their next two games, losing both, to the Warriors and Sharks. Then had a combined score of 62-28 over their next 2 games, both wins against Parramatta and the Titans. Their last fortnight has seen them record back-to-back losses to Brisbane and Cronulla, by a combined score of 74-10.

Canberra are consistently inconsistent, helped none by the loss to injury of chief playmaker Jamal Fogarty, adding to an injury ward, which last week was also housing Elliott Whitehead, Corey Horsburgh, Jordan Rapana, Corey Harawira-Naera and Zac Hosking. Throw in Ricky Stuart's penchant for constantly meddling with the line-ups and what we have is a Raiders side that have used 28 players already in 2024, 9 of which have played in every game thus far.

If the Raiders can throw some shape at the Manly defensive line, especially on Luke Brook's side of the field, opportunities will present themselves. That looks difficult given their complete lack of imagination in attack last week against the Sharks.

Similarly, Manly's attack has many similarities to the Sharks and they will play a very similar style. Plenty of 1 and 2 out's, pushing up the middle, strong committed runs on the edge's of the ruck and utilizing their talented halfback and fullback, both of whom are always in support.

Canberra's defence was feeble at times against the Sharks, with a number of occasions seeing players failing to put their bodies on the line. You just know Ricky Stuart would have been extremely unimpressed with that.

Manly will be without strike back rower Haumole Olakau'atu who has been hit with a 2 game suspension after last weekend's game. Ethan Bullemor will move from the bench and into the starting side to replace him. Toafofoa Siple comes onto the bench.

For the Raiders, rookies Chevy Stewart and James Schiller have been dropped, replaced by Albert Hopoate and Nick Cotric respectively. Whitehead returns and will move into the second row, pushing Simi Sasagi onto the extended bench.

WHO TO WATCH: Elliott Whitehead is a huge addition to this Raiders side and it wouldn't surprise if he is tasked with the job of constantly making a beeline for Luke Brooks. Brooks isn't a slouch defensively, given his size, but his poor communication has in the past left him isolated in defence. Whitehead will be seeking to exploit that with his late step at the line and offloads.

Daly Cherry-Evans will no doubt be seeking to bombard the Raiders with his brilliant kicking game and using his combination with Tom Trbojevic to create opportunities for speedster Jason Saab.

FAVOURITE: Manly's point scoring prowess and Canberra's erratic form means Manly will enter as favourites. Manly have the wood on the Raiders of late too, winning 11 of their last 15 clashes at 4 Pines Park.

MY TIP: Canberra have been looking sluggish and Manly have been playing with a lot of freedom in attack. Even an improved Canberra is going to struggle here. Manly by 12.

MATCH PREVIEW

Rhys SULLIVAN

After one of the most dominant ANZAC Day victories in their history, the Roosters will be looking to reinforce that they are premiership contenders in 2024 when they take on a Broncos side that is finally healthy and back in form.

The 60-18 win over the Dragons was about as clinical as they come, with Sam Walker putting on a clinic in his first game back from concussion by scoring a try and picking up two try assists. Every member of the Roosters backs scored a try in the rout, while gallant efforts by Connor Watson and Jared Waerea-Hargreaves laid a platform through the middle.

The Broncos meanwhile picked up a third consecutive win, overcoming injuries and debilitating cramps to beat the Tigers 34-10. Reece Walsh has his standard performance of two tries and just under 200 metres, while Adam Reynolds and Payne Haas were back to their best after lengthy injury layoffs. And of course, who can forget the incredible five minute stint where Xavier Willison played fullback.

This match shapes up as a clash of unstoppable forces, with both sides boasting one of the highest powered attacks in the league. The Roosters point scoring feast over the Dragons has elevated them to an average of 27 points a game, the exact same mark as the Broncos. The two sides immovable objects are pretty good too - the Broncos conceding 19 points per game as opposed to the Roosters 18.

Boosting the Broncos is the timely return of Ezra Mam and Selwyn Cobbo, although Cobbo is still in some doubt as he nursed a shoulder issue. The Roosters have lost Michael Jennings with a nasty tricep injury, but it's a straight swap for the returning Daniel Tupou. More concerning is the possible absence of Victor Radley, who has been placed in the reserves.

Of course, much of the media attention will be surrounding the fallout from the Roosters' Round 1 win, regardless of the fact Spencer Leniu is still serving his suspension for the racist remarks directed towards Mam. But to focus solely on that one narrative will take away the so many great abilities of these teams and the players that make them. Good footy is good footy, and we don't need any creative writing lessons to prove that.

WHO TO WATCH: One of the big advantages in the Roosters Round 1 win was that Brendan Piakura's concussion in the opening phases meant that Pat Carrigan was moved to an edge rather than playing lock. The Maroons star had 164 running metres that day, still an incredible effort, but in the 7 matches since has averaged 194 metres per game. With his running mate Payne Haas having a match back into his legs post-knee surgery, expect Carrigan to punish the Roosters middles both with his running and his passing.

Similarly, another reason Round 1 went the way it did was the relative anonymity of Ezra Mam who threw an intercept which led to a Joey Manu try, and couldn't trouble the scorekeepers of his own despite continually engaging the line. Since then he has come into form however, with 4 tries and just as many try assists in the 6 matches he's played since. Having missed last week with a hand injury, the Broncos will be hoping he goes straight back into the form he was showing.

The man of the match in the Roosters Round 1 win was by far James Tedesco, with the NSW and Australia captain running for over 200 metres, picking up a try assist and breaking 8 tackles. But he hasn't run for over 200 metres since that game and averaging just 4 and a half tackle breaks. The Roosters will need Tedesco back at his absolute best if they want victory in this one.

It's also going to be a big match for both of the Roosters half. Luke Keary announced on Monday that the 2024 season will be his last, and he will certainly be pushing himself to make every match special from here on out. Meanwhile Sam Walker is returning to the club he unceremoniously dumped as a 17 year old, and a matchup that has been a very happy one across his young career to date.

FAVOURITE: The return of Mam and Cobbo, coupled with their tremendous form, has seen the Broncos made the favourites in this one.

MY TIP: The Roosters may have taken Round 1, but it feels like they're playing a vastly different Broncos side in this one. Broncos by 8.

MATCH PREVIEW AJ LUCANTONIO

Dogs on the rebound against desperate Tigers

The new and improved Canterbury Bulldogs will look to show that their improved form to start 2024 is here to stay when they take on a Wests Tigers side, desperate to erase a four game losing run.

Canterbury have been one of the more improved sides to start this season. Defensively has seen the biggest turning point, to a point where they can sustain teams' long attacking raids on their own line, something that was near impossible last season. Sitting inside the top eight after their bye week, the Bulldogs have something to show in this competition, but the challenge now is to maintain consistency. Especially dominating up front and the new spark in their attack, especially the new look left edge which has fired in recent weeks.

Against the Tigers, their middles led by Josh Curran and Max King will need to dominate their opposite numbers. While Matt Burton and Drew Hutchison's building combination will need to take another step in the right direction exploiting the new combinations like Brisbane did just seven days before. Their bench forwards will also need to provide spark and impact to compete with the Tigers. Plus, containing Lachie Galvin, he's the most explosive rookie we've seen this season and if he gets an inkling of space, it'll be a long afternoon.

For the Bulldogs, Jacob Preston has been named in the reserves and could be a late inclusion should he get through training. Chris Patolo is out with Josh Curran joining Max King up front while Kurt Mann is named at lock. Otherwise it is the same side that massacred Newcastle.

For the Tigers, after a promising start, they are staring down the barrels of five straight defeats. Something, which has sadly become a pattern in the last few seasons. It'll be no doubt the biggest test of Benji Marshall's coaching career to date to provide an environment which turns it around. Samuela Fainu's sin-bin last week was costly, but it's something the young backrower will learn from and I know for certain he knows that rule now!

To beat the Bulldogs, second phase play will be the order of the day. It's something we've seen inconsistently across Benji Ball to date, but when it's worked, it has been devastating in its effect. They will need to also tidy up their discipline, conceding the fourth most penalties in the competition. Jahreem Bula will need to get his hands on the footy and create havoc in what has been at times a rookie middle third for the Bulldogs when the starters have a break. Plus, the thriving footwork of Galvin causing havoc, the Tigers are in with a chance.

Onto team news and Benji Marshall has kept the faith in the 17 that lost last weekend. Api Koroisau has been named despite a back complaint.

WHO TO WATCH: I am focusing on Connor Tracey. Having left the Sharks for the confides of Belmore, Tracey missed selection early due to injury but ever since taking the 1 jersey back from Blake Taaffe, he has been in excellent form. Running the ball hard and efficiently out of yardage plus adding some play making, Tracey will be one to watch in this one.

For the Tigers, I am putting the blowtorch on Aidan Sezer. Brought into be the guiding and calming influence for a young spine of Bula and Galvin. He was underwhelming with his kicking game against the Broncos, which saw the Tigers placed under immense pressure. He has shown the glimpses of experience in the past this season, but it needs to be more consistent for this young Tigers side moving forward to snap this losing streak.

FAVOURITE: Canterbury are favourites in this one, the Tigers have lost their last nine matches at Accor Stadium while the Dogs have a good recent head to head record against the Tigers.

MY TIP: In the wet conditions expected in Sydney, I will favour the Bulldogs. They put on a wet weather clinic earlier this season against the Roosters, and they are on better than even odds of doing that here against the Tigers. Bulldogs by 10.

MATCH PREVIEW Beth NICHOLLS

Two teams on the opposite ends of the team come to face off, with the Storm riding a winning wave currently having won four on the trot, whilst the Titans have crept out of last place after finally getting their first win of the season last weekend.

The Gold Coast side have seen a terrible start to the 2024 season, opening with six losses from six games, they were given minimal chance to beat the Warriors away from home for the annual ANZAC Day match, but they defied most. With improved attack, and some terrific defence, a courageous Titans side came out on time, with a 27-24 score line.

Despite picking up their first win, there are a few unforced changes to the Titans, with Alofiana Khan-Pereira and Aaron Schoupp dropping out and being respectively replaced by Phillip Sami and Harley Smith-Shields. Mo Fotuauka misses the match due to concussion, with Joe Stimson taking his place in prop. David Fifita has been named to start, however there is a chance he could make a late switch to the bench similarly to the last few rounds.

Prior to last week, all the Storm's wins were by eight or less points, with four of these matches won by the side in the final ten minutes of the match, so despite winning six of seven matches, it's been a tumultuous start to the year for the Melbourne side. However, last week the Storm finally broke free, and piled on the points against the Rabbitohs, for a game that finished 54-20.

Xavier Coates is out for the match after finishing last week's game early due to a hamstring strain, so Tyran Wishart takes his spot on the wing and Bronson Garlick fills his void on the bench. Despite also picking up a hamstring injury concern during the ANZAC match, Nelson Asofa-Solomona has been named to play.

The history books are on the Melbourne side this weekend, with them winning their last nine of ten matches against the Titans, and overall having a record of 20 wins from 27 games. The Storm have only lost once up at the Gold Coast since 2013, with this loss coming last year during Round 3, with the Storm being defeated 38-34.

WHO TO WATCH: Playing a starring role in last round's game against the Warriors, AJ Brimson made 186 run metres in 14 runs, two line breaks, five tackle breaks and two tries. After playing in both the centres and five-eighth for the opening rounds of the year, AJ had a great game in the fullback position last week, and I would love to see this form continue.

Cameron Munster is playing his milestone 200th match this weekend, which comes after an impressive performance against the Rabbitohs which saw him voted as Player of the Match. Missing the opening four matches of the year, Munster made his return against the Broncos in Round 5 and since then has played four games, scoring one try, whilst making six try assists and four line break assists.

FAVOURITE: Melbourne is favoured to make it five in a row, and add another two points to their 2024 count.

MY TIP: Despite finally turning the corner after a terrible start to the season, the Titans will not be able to survive the Storm that hits them on Saturday. Melbourne will just overpower the Gold Coast side in both defence and attack, and if the Titans aren't careful many points could end up being leaked. Melbourne by 18.

MATCH PREVIEW

Andrew JACKSON

Two teams that rocketed up the ladder but have serious question marks over their premiership credentials face off in a Saturday night Queensland derby.

Both the Dolphins and Cowboys were once two of the most in-form teams in the league but also have had the benefit of a relatively soft schedule to open the 2024 season.

Obviously you can only play what is in front of you, as the Sharks have proven having made easy work of lesser opponents on the way to top spot.

But both the Dolphins and Cowboys stumbled last week, albeit with Wayne Bennett's side coming up short against an underperforming Knights team.

The Dolphins though have a testing next two months ahead with games against the Sea Eagles, Sharks and Storm on the horizon along with a trip across the ditch to face the Warriors.

The Cowboys, on the other hand, have a host of easily winnable matches in the near future, meaning expectations will be high for North Queensland to turn around its spluttering form.

Todd Payten's team has looked a shell of itself in recent weeks, although the Cowboys showed grit to fight back last week and push the Panthers to the brink in a 26-20 loss.

Still, it is a far cry from the 43-18 win over the Dolphins earlier in the year.

As for the Dolphins, they scored two tries late to give the Knights a scare in an 18-14 defeat, which was a disappointing follow-up to what could have been a season-defining demolition of Parramatta.

In team news, Heilum Luki returns from injury having been sidelines since Round 2 and replaces Jake Granville on the bench while Viliami Vailea makes his club debut in the centres for Tom Chester, who picked up a hamstring injury in the loss to Penrith.

As for the Dolphins, Felise Kaufusi and Connelly Lemuelu return while skipper Jesse Bromwich is also set to overcome a calf issue, although the news isn't as positive on brother Kenny, who is out after failing a HIA in the loss to the Knights.

WHO TO WATCH: Thomas Mikaele should have been in this Cowboys team far sooner but he made up for lost time last week with an impactful performance against Penrith. Mikaele's offloads in particular troubled a tiring Panthers pack, while his runs helped get North Queensland on the front foot. Mikaele ran for 77 metres to go with four tackle busts and a pair of offloads in just 17 minutes and should see an even bigger role on Saturday night.

As for the Dolphins, Trai Fuller is another player who is quickly proving he could be a star in the NRL if given the opportunity. Filling in for the injured Hamiso Tabuai-Fidow, while Fuller is unlikely to remain in first grade when the Dolphins' regular fullback returns he is making quite the case to be snapped up by any team with a glaring need at the position. Fuller was electric against the Knights, running for a team-high 240 metres to go with three linebreaks, a linebreak assist and 10 tackle busts. The meterage from Penrith's back three was a big reason for the premiers' success last week and Fuller will play a key role in helping get the Dolphins' sets off to strong starts.

FAVOURITE: The Cowboys are well-backed to snap their losing skid.

MY TIP: The Cowboys looked to have turned a corner last week and should be too strong at home, especially if they jump out to an early lead. Their bench in particular packs a punch and can turn the game if the Dolphins either lead or keep it close. Cowboys by 12.

MATCH PREVIEW Josh ROBERTSON

Sunday afternoon football heads back to the Hunter as the Newcastle Knights look to add another win on the board as they take on the somewhat out-of-form New Zealand Warriors side at McDonald Jones Stadium.

Staring down the barrel of losing Kalyn Ponga long-term and a poor start to the season, the Knights looked at the best they had done all season as they picked up an important 18-14 win over the Dolphins at Suncorp Stadium. The Knights started fast opening up a 10-0 lead inside the first 20 minutes as they were able to dominate possession and field position and put up a strong defensive effort. The issue though came late when they remained scoreless for the final 33 minutes of the game and conceded two tries in the final three minutes and fought off a Dolphins comeback.

The Knights season has been poor by their standards set last year as they sit down in 13th spot just three wins from their eight games with inconsistency hurting them already having a loss against the Warriors this season back in Round 4. The Knights picked up important wins early in the season against Melbourne and the Dragons with a narrow loss to the Roosters before a fortnight ago a big loss to the Bulldogs.

Despite injury concerns out of the game, Knights coach Adam O'Brien has named the same 17 with Jacob Safiti named in the starting line-up despite being in serious doubt.

A pre-season favourite off their hype from 2023, the New Zealand Warriors have hardly the best start to 2024 as they went winless for the third straight week and it was a 27-24 defeat to the Titans that added to the woes of the Warriors this season. Scoring twice inside six minutes, it looked like it was going to be one-way traffic for the Warriors but like most of their season they couldn't really find an extra gear and the Titans went bang before a late fightback wasn't enough for the Warriors.

Expected by many to be a premiership contender, the Warriors have showed very little of their 2023 form as they sit in 12th on the ladder with just three wins from seven matches this season. The Warriors feel more like the Warriors of old where they have struggled for consistency across the 80 minutes with patches where they look brilliant but then had patches where they have been completely outplayed which happened last week.

The Warriors bring back two veterans into their side being Kurt Capewell and Bunty Afoa into their side. Capewell's return to the starting side sees Jacob Laban dropping back to the bench whilst Afoa comes onto the bench with Zyon Mai'u dropping to the reserves and Paul Roache left out completely.

WHO TO WATCH: Knights fullback David Armstrong impressed during the pre-season challenge and filling the shoes for Kalyn Ponga last week, the youngster stepped into the big shoes as if he'd played over 100 games rather than being on debut. The performance at the back from Armstrong to run for 189m at the back will again be key for Newcastle against the Warriors.

Warriors halfback Shaun Johnson hasn't had the season many expected and his fortunes sum up those of his side having been inconsistent right through. There has been examples of SJ magic but then times where things just haven't been coming off for him and the Warriors and this week could be a big chance.

FAVOURITE: The Warriors are comfortable favourites at this stage.

MY TIP: Just sit and watch this one, it's a game where you have two sides that could give you absolutely anything from an absolute dogs breakfast of a game to a highly entertaining effort. The fact the Knights have lost a couple of key players and the Warriors will have something to prove will be a help and class wise I think the Warriors could show a bit more. Warriors by 18.

MATCH PREVIEW

Rob CROSBY

Premiership-winning coach Shane Flanagan will return to the Shire in rival colours for the first time when the Cronulla Sharks host the St George Illawarra Dragons on Sunday afternoon.

Sitting atop the premiership ladder as one of the in-form teams of the premiership, the Cronulla Sharks will be looking to continue their winning run to five straight matches.

Accounting for the Raiders last Sunday with a 40-0 shutout in Canberra, the Craig Fitzgibbon coached side will be hoping to score 40 points in three consecutive matches for the first time since 1999 and only the second time in Cronulla history.

Winning nine of their past ten clashes against the Dragons, including the past seven in succession, the Sharks have named Toby Rudolf on the bench with Tuku Hau Tapuha reverting to the extended squad in an otherwise unchanged line-up.

The Sharks hold an impressive record at PointsBet Stadium with 18 wins from 25 matches at the venue during Fitzgibbon's tenure as coach.

The St George Illawarra Dragons will be looking to reverse recent history with a bounce-back result in the wake of a disastrous performance on ANZAC Day.

Conceding 60 points for only the second time in the history of the joint venture following a 60-18 thrashing at the hands of the Roosters last Thursday, coach Flanagan has recalled Mikaele Ravalawa to replace Moses Suli (concussion) in the backline; Luciano Leilua has been included in the extended squad.

The Dragons haven't won at PointsBet Stadium since 2018 and hold a historically poor record at the venue with eight wins from 22 appearances.

Having guided the Sharks to their long-awaited maiden premiership eight years ago, Flanagan will have no shortage of motivation in his return to Shark Park after being barred from holding a head coaching role for breaching the conditions of an NRL-imposed suspension.

WHO TO WATCH: Going from an impactful interchange player to one of the Sharks' best forwards over the opening third of the season, Tom Hazelton has thrived in his elevation to the starting side. Averaging over 100 running metres and 26 tackles in 40 minutes of game time each week, the 25-year-old front-rower has reaped the rewards as a try-scorer in back-to-back matches over the past fortnight.

Currently contracted on a club option for next season, look for Hazelton to secure an upgraded deal if recent performances continue.

While much of the attention will be centred on his coach ahead of Sunday's local derby, premiership winning centre Jack Bird will have no shortage of motivation as he lines up against his former club. Set to make his 150th appearance in first grade nine years on from his debut, the 29-year-old has shown tremendous resilience in a career that has featured representative honours and multiple long-term injuries.

Benefitting from the consistency of locking down a position after years of shifting between the backline, halves and forward pack, Bird last scored at PointsBet all the way back in 2016.

FAVOURITE: It should come as little surprise to see the Sharks favoured in a contest pitting the best defensive team against one of the worst in the league.

MY TIP: All the signs point to the Sharks getting the job done on Sunday afternoon – and there's little to dissuade from that position! Sharks by 20.

SUPER LEAGUE R9 WRAP with ROB McHUGH

ST HELENS 13 HUDDERSFIELD GIANTS 12

Huddersfield Giants, who have been in excellent form recently, threatened to pull off an upset in the first game of the weekend. However, they ultimately suffered a heart-breaking defeat against St Helens, thanks to a late Jonny Lomax drop goal.

Huddersfield took an early lead, through ex-Saints man, Kevin Naiqama. Huddersfield worked the ball left for Adam Swift, who was tackled close to the St Helens line. But the field position allowed Tui Lolohea to hoist a cross-field kick towards the right touchline. The ball was contested in the air, and eventually dropped to Harry Rushton, who played a simple pass for Naiqama to score. Jake Connor added the extras to give Huddersfield a 6-0 lead.

The Giants quickly extended their lead, through in-form winger, Adam Swift. Swift brushed off a Saints tackle deep in his own half, after a half break from Connor. Swift then kicked forward for Tui Lolohea to chase. But both Lolohea and Waqa Blake, covering in defence, missed the bouncing ball and Swift was first to react to touch down. Connor made no mistake with the conversion to give the Giants a 12-0 lead.

The Giants were 12 points behind against Leeds in last week's win, but it was their turn to throw away a lead. Tommy Makinson got the Saints back into the game. Huddersfield were attacking the Saints line, but Makinson read their move to perfection and intercepted. No one got close to stopping him, and the Saints veteran ran in 60 metres to score. Percival converted to reduce the Giants' lead to 6 points, with the score at 12-6 at half time.

St Helens scored first in the second half, in controversial circumstances. Morgan Knowles appeared to lash out at Connor, who was stood at marker. Connor turned to complain to the referee, who did not stop the game, and Saints hooker Daryl Clark nipped through the gap to score from dummy half. Connor continued to remonstrate with the officials after the try was awarded, but the decision stood. Percival was on target with the conversion to level the scores.

And Saints pinched the points in the final minute of the game. Saints had the ball in the Huddersfield half, and Lomax attempted a drop goal. The Giants charged the kick down, but them stopped as there was confusion over who should retain possession. In the pause, Lomax seized his second chance, kicking the goal and securing the points for the Saints.

The result puts them back to the top of the Super League table, on 14 points from 9 games. Huddersfield drop out of the play off places into 7th place, two points behind Salford Red Devils.

CASTLEFORD TIGERS 40 LONDON BRONCOS 0

Castleford Tigers secured their second win of the season, with a routing victory over bottom side London Broncos. London appeared to be moving in the right direction in last week's narrow defeat against Salford. But a heavy defeat at The Jungle means they stay firmly rooted to the bottom of the table.

Castleford only needed two minutes to open the scoring, as Jacob Miller scored the first of their seven tries. Miller found new signing, Tex Hoy, who broke the line on halfway. Hoy then returned the ball to Miller, who ran in unopposed to score from 30 metres out. Rowan Milnes scored the first of six successful conversions to make the score 6-0.

Milnes then added Castleford's second try, reacting quickest to Paul McShane's grubber kick through from close range in the 25th minute. McShane turned from creator to scorer almost immediately, scoring in the 28th minute. McShane scored s trademark try from dummy half, reacting to a gap in the London defensive line. Milnes kicked both goals to make the score 18-0 before the half hour mark.

The Tigers were on a roll, and they added two more scores before half time. First, in a near carbon copy of Miller's first try, Hoy again exploited a weakness on London's right wing. He broke the line and passed inside, this time to Alex Mellor who was in support. Castleford's final try before half time came down the same with, this time through winger, Innes Senior. The London right edge over committed on the inside, which gave Senior space. He handed off the desperate attempted try from James Meadows to score. Milnes was on target with both conversions to make the score 30-0 at half time.

Castleford's domination continued in the second half, and they took just three minutes to open the scoring after the break. With the ball deep in London territory, Miller floated a brilliant kick over the top for Innes Senior to collect for a simple finish, with Milnes adding the conversion off the touchline. Castleford's final try of the night came after 50 minutes, this time through Louis Senior on Castleford's right edge. Senior picked up Milnes' deft kick through and touched down in the corner to round off the corner, as Milnes missed his only unsuccessful kick of the night.

SUPER LEAGUE R8 WRAP with ROB McHUGH

HULL KR 26 WIGAN WARRIORS 10

Hull KR bounced back from their heavy defeat at the hands of the Catalans Dragons, by producing one of the shock results of the round. The Robins outclassed champions Wigan, in a game which featured a sensational 100 metre try from an unlikely source.

Hull KR took the lead in the 6th minute, as Sauaso Sue crashed his way over from close range. Mikey Lewis kicked the conversion to make the score 6-0. The Robins had soon extended their lead, through Oliver Gildart, who dummed 10 metres out before holding off the Wigan defence to score. Lewis missed the kick meaning the Robins led by 10.

Wigan came into the game as favourites, but it was the Robins who were dominating, and they extended their lead from long range in the 30th minute. Peta Hiku broke the Wigan on his own 30 metre line and broke toward halfway. He passed inside to Niall Evalds, who took the ball deep into the Wigan half, before passing back to Hiku who saw off Liam Marshall to score a brilliant try, which Lewis converted to make the score 16-0.

Wigan scored first in the second half, to show that they should not be written off. A strong carry from Ethan Havard set up a good position under the posts, which gave Bevan French the space to loop a brilliant pass, over the grasping hands of Ryan Hall, out to Miski on the wing to score in the corner. Keighran missed the conversion.

Wigan threatened to score again, with a Jake Wardle kick into the in-goal area somehow evading several Wigan attackers. But Hall re-established the Robins' dominance, by scoring the game's decisive try. Lewis bounced off a tackle from French before finding Gildart. Gildart's pass released Hall, and the powerful winger is almost unstoppable from close range.

Then Kelepi Tanginoa scored the standout try of the night. With Wigan attacking the KR line, the ball hit the ground inside the Robins' 10 metre line, coming backwards off Hall's hand. Everybody stopped, except Tanginoa, who picked up the ball, and set off on a mammoth sprint for the line. The prop appeared to be running through treacle as he approached the Wigan line but had just enough in the tank to make it over the line.

Liam Farrell scored the final try of the night in the 75th minute, but by this stage the game was over. Hull KR were deserved winners, and victory solidifies their place in the top six. The Robins are now level on points with Wigan and Warrington, just two points behind joint leaders, St Helens and Catalans Dragons.

LEIGH LEOPARDS 30 CATALANS DRAGONS 2

Leigh Leopards backed up a narrow defeat against Warrington, in which they produced a much-improved performance, to record a huge victory over the Catalans Dragons. Leigh had won just once this season, having suffered from a number of injuries to high profile players, but were the much stronger side and registered a famous victory over an out of sorts Catalans side.

The first half was tight, with the sides trading sets until the Leopards broke the deadlock in the 26th minute. Tom Amoné picked up a bouncing ball deep in his own half and carried the ball beyond halfway before being caught by the retreating defence. However, the Leopards worked the ball wide to winger Josh Charnley on the next play and he scored a simple try to open the scoring, which Matt Moylan converted. Arthur Mourgue kicked a penalty before half time to reduce the deficit to four points, making the score 6-2 at half time. But Les Dracs were about to be blown away by a rampant Leigh display in the second half.

Leigh extended their lead in the 46th minute through Kai O'Donnell. Leigh had a play the ball 10 metres out, near to the left-hand touchline. They played the ball down the blindside, with Moylan and Lachlan Lam exchanging passes, before putting O'Donnell over for a try. The next try came down Leigh's right-hand side and was, again, the product of smart work by Lam. Leigh worked the ball from left to right before Lam looped a brilliant pass over the top for Umyla Hanley to score.

O'Donnell scored his second of the night, after an inside pass put hooker Brad Dwyer into space. Dwyer is always a threat in open field, and he ran through the Catalans defence, before releasing O'Donnell to score. Influential forward, John Asiata, was back in the Leigh side following an injury, and he created the final score of the night. He burst through a tackle before offloading to Moylan who ran in to score. Moylan converted all five tries, to make the score 30-2 to Leigh and cap off a dominant win.

SALFORD RED DEVILS 17 WARRINGTON WOLVES 12

Salford Red Devils came out on top of a tight encounter against Warrington Wolves, in a game marred by a serious injury to young Warrington playmaker, Leon Hayes. Sam Burgess confirmed after the game that Hayes had suffered a dislocated ankle and was set for a lengthy spell on the sidelines. The game was a thoroughly absorbing contest and featured several contentious calls by the video referee.

Salford opened the scoring in the 10th minute, through Tim Lafai, thanks in part to some weak Warrington defence. Lafai picked up the ball 30 metres out and brushed off a weak Warrington tackle. The defence appeared to have him covered, but they were unable to bring Lafai down, as he somehow crashed his way over the line, handing off three attempted tackles in the process. The usually reliable Marc Sneyd missed the kick, meaning Salford led by four points. Warrington soon hit back, through prop forward James Harrison. Danny Walker was quick out of dummy half, picking up the ball and running through a gap in the Salford defence. He released Harrison who brushed off an attempted tackle to score from close range. Stefan Ratchford made no mistake with the conversion to give Warrington the lead after 17 minutes.

Warrington then extended their lead, through England captain George Williams. Walker was involved again, playing the ball quickly and passing to Williams who chipped through. Salford full back, Ryan Brierley, will be disappointed with his effort in defence. He seemed to switch off while chasing the ball into the in-goal area, unaware that Williams was bearing down on him. Williams managed to get to the ball ahead of Brierley, who should have dealt with the kick, to score. The on-field call to award the try was crucial, as the video referee has insufficient evidence to overturn it, despite the ball appearing to leave Williams' hand during the grounding. Salford struck back before half time, thanks to some quick thinking from stand-in hooker, Joe Mellor. Salford has a play the ball on the Wigan line and Wigan's markers appeared to switch off. This allowed Mellor to pick up the ball and dive over in one motion, grounding the ball next to the posts. Sneyd added an easy conversion to level the scores. The game seemed to be drifting to half-time with the scores level, but Sneyd showed all his experience, kicking a drop goal on the stroke of half time to give Salford a narrow 11-10 lead.

The second half was a tight affair, with both sides afraid to make a decisive mistake. Sneyd turned down a kickable penalty which could have given Salford a three-point lead, electing to run the ball instead. Salford were unable to score from the resulting play. Warrington elected to kick the goal when they received a penalty in 10 metres from the Salford line, and Ratchford was on target to give the Wolves a one-point lead. Paul Vaughan then had a try controversially ruled out by the video referee, which may have put Warrington in an insurmountable lead.

But it was Salford who eventually scored the game's decisive try, again with the help of the video referee. Nene McDonald broke down the line and kicked in goal for the Salford players to chase. The video referee ruled that Brierley had been tackled without the ball and rightly awarded Salford a penalty try. Sneyd kicked the extras to make the final score 17-12 and continue Salford's strong start to the season. The Red Devils were expected to struggle by many, but find themselves in the top six after nine games. The defeat is only Sam Burgess' second as Warrington head coach, but they remain in the mix at the top of the table, just two points behind the leaders.

HULL FC 12 LEEDS RHINOS 18

Strugglers Hull FC hosted Leeds Rhinos, in desperate need of an upturn in form. Hull FC have conceded more than 50 points on four occasions this season and are currently without a head coach. Leeds were looking for a lift having thrown away two 12 point leads the previous week against Huddersfield.

Leeds set the scene early, forcing Morgan Smith out of play with the first carry of the game. But it was Hull FC who opened the scoring in the 7th minute. Jack Walker broke the Leeds line 30 metres out, finding Morgan Smith in support to touch down and open the scoring. Jack Charles kicked the conversion to give Hull FC a 6-0 lead.

However, Leeds debutant Riley Lumb marked his first appearance with a brilliant try. Leeds worked the ball out to Lumb, 30 metres out. Lumb stepped inside, beating two Hull defenders before rounding full back, Jack Walker, to score. Rhyse Martin added the extras to level the score.

The game as an error strewn, but entertaining contest with Walker, in particular, shining for Hull FC. Luis Roberts thought he had given the Leeds, but his diving finish was ruled out by the video referee. The Rhinos did extend their lead shortly before half time, and it was debutant, Lumb, who got his second. He got on the end of Brodie Croft's kick through to touch down to score. Rhyse Martin added the conversion to give Leeds a 12-6 lead on the stroke of half time.

Leeds extended their lead in the 52nd minute, through captain Cameron Smith. Croft registered his 12th try assist of the season, as his short pass put Smith through the line for a close range try. Rhyse Martin scored a simple conversion to extend Leeds' lead to 12 points. However, Hull FC struck back immediately from the kick off. A mix up between Matt Frawley and Alfie Edgell saw Leeds spill the kick off. From the resulting possession, Lewis Martin went in to score in the corner after a flowing passing move. Jack Charles converted from the touchline to narrow Leeds' advantage to six points.

While the intensity of the game remained, the quality deteriorated, as both teams continued to make errors. Hull FC looked more likely to score an equalising try, but they were unable to break Leeds' resistance and the game ended with a Leeds win. Interim Hull coach, Simon Grix, will be hoping they can carry through this much improved performance into their upcoming fixtures. Debutant Riley Lumb was the one bright spark for Leeds in a turgid performance.
