The Wrap: NRL Round 1 (Vegas)

Raiders run riot in Vegas for opening win

Justin Davies

30 – 8

Canberra Raiders won 30-8 against New Zealand Warriors at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas to open the 2025 NRL season.

Raiders were the first side to score in Vegas in 2025! It was pure power from Sebastian Kris, he extended his arm out like he was Gumby to get across the line for a 6-0 lead.

Next, it was Josh Starling, he burst through to set up the chance and it was quick hands on the right which ended with Xavier Savage touching down in the corner to get the Raiders second.

Warriors had several opportunities to get themselves on the board. Their attack was sideways and it proved their downfall in conceding their third four-pointer of the night.

They pushed one pass too many and Savage was able to snaffle it for the score. he just strolled downfield and got his second, making it 16-0 for the Raiders in the Vegas opener.

Warriors did get one back before the break. They created some quick hands on the left edge and Luke Capewell was the man in the right spot to get the Kiwi side on the board.

It was a daily double for the Raiders in Sin City! The kick was spilled by Charnze Nicoll-Klokstad and right into the path of Kris, he scooped up the ball and strolled in for his second of the game.

The Raiders were turning on the style now in the season opener. Savage provided the pass this time and Matthew Timoko brushed off some flimsy defense to go over for a 28-4 lead.

Warriors were gifted a route back into the game after Joseph Tapine was binned for a shoulder charge. It took until late in the sequence where Roger Tuivasa-Sheck went over in the corner.

Raiders added a late penalty goal after a silly penalty from James Fisher-Harris. The final score ended up 30-8 in a comfortable win for the nation's capital side to open the campaign.

Penrith know when to hold em' as they survive an almighty Cronulla scare

28 – 22

AJ Lucantonio

The NRL's time in Las Vegas has ended with a bang as Penrith held off a fast-finishing Cronulla side by 28-22 at Allegiant Stadium.

Penrith suffered a cruel blow early when excitement machine Casey McLean was taken off the field in the first five minutes suffering from category 1 concussive symptoms. Cronulla soon capitalised on the new look Panther left edge. A beautiful pass from Nicho Hynes and Jesse Ramien ran straight at that new look combination to put the Sharks in front 4-0. The four-time premiers had some rough initiations early, with several passes going to ground and an uncharacteristic clunkiness about their play. That changed after 26 minutes courtesy of their captain Isaah Yeo. After getting the ball from first receiver, the best on ground was able to beat the clutches of Tom Hazelton and Addin Fonua-Blake to score the Panthers maiden try of the 2025 season.

Blayke Brailey booting it out on the full from the restart gave Penrith a second try in as many minutes. Nathan Cleary chipped over the top, into the arms of Izack Tago and the Panthers opened up a 12-4 lead and looked set to go on with the job, but they weren't without their chances with several scoring chances going astray. But, the rusty start continued as they invited Cronulla to have a final say before the break. Braydon Trindall held up the defence brilliantly and kicked in behind with Dylan Edwards out of the frame, Briton Nikora got there for the Sharks to trail 12-10 at the break.

Both sides had further scoring opportunities to start the second half. Cronulla going closest with Braden Hamlin-Uele almost going over off a Nicho Hynes pass. Penrith capitalised on that miscue to open the scoring in the second half. It was a nicely worked play from Cleary and Jack Cole to send Daine Laurie (who had replaced McLean) over out wide in the corner. Nathan Cleary overcame an object thrown into his line of kicking to nail it from touch. A brain-snap from Ronaldo Mulitalo saw him concede a penalty in possession, which in turn allowed Penrith to punish the Sharks once more. Cleary went deep into the line, found Edwards who sent Paul Alamoti away and scored in the corner vacated by Mulitalo who jammed in on the full-back and Penrith were on their way.

Cronulla weren't finished and staged an almighty comeback to get to within two points. Trindall delivered a magical ball before the hour mark to send Kayal Iro through almost untouched to score for the visitors. The conversion kept the gap at eight points but there was clearly a momentum shift happening. With just over 10 to play, Fonua-Blake said "follow me lads", charging his way to the line in a sensational individual effort from the big signing for the Sharks to cut the gap to two.

Despite some near misses, the Sharks couldn't crack the line with Cam McInnes going inches away from giving the lead back to Cronulla. As a result, Penrith only needed one opportunity to seal the win. After holding their line mere minutes ago, from the play the ball, Cole and Cleary combine nicely with Luke Garner who finds Laurie to get a double. Cronulla tried a Hail Mary but it was to no-avail as Penrith survived an almighty scare in the Sin City to go back to Australia with the two competition points.

Match preview

Beth Nicholls

Kicking off Round 1 back on Australian soil, the Brisbane Broncos travel south to take on the Sydney Roosters at Allianz Stadium.

Trent Robinson's side looks a bit worse for wear, which is not an ideal way to start off a new season, with Jared Waerea-Hargreaves and Luke Keary's move to the Super League, along with injuries and suspensions for key players, Sam Walker, and Spencer Leniu. Despite this, they will be looking to prove the doubters wrong and start their season on a high note.

In 2024 the Roosters finished inside the top four, winning 16 and losing eight games for a well-rounded season, making it to preliminary finals, before losing to the Melbourne Storm to miss out at the chance at the coveted Premiership Trophy.

Chad Townsend makes his Roosters debut at halfback, paired with Sandon Smith at five-eighth. Robert Toia makes his debut in the centres, with Mark Nawaqawitanase joining him on the other side in just his second NRL game. Naufahu Whyte steps up into the starting side, replacing Waerea-Hargreaves, after playing 16/23 games in 2024 from the bench. The bench for the home side includes Salesi Foketi on debut and Blake Steep playing just his fourth NRL game.

The Broncos are sporting a new look side with their new coach, Michael Maguire. With old becoming new again, Ben Hunt has returned home to Brisbane after spending seven seasons at the Dragons. His pairing with Adam Reynolds makes them the oldest halves pairing in the competition, but I wouldn't let that stop them.

After a poor performance in 2024 after being minutes away from a seventh premiership in 2023, Brisbane are hungry for victory. Hopefully under a new coach, the star-studded line-up can produce consistent performances and effort.

Maguire has revealed a new-look side for the Broncos, with a plethora of changes to the starting 13 and bench options. Cory Paix returns to starting hooker after not playing a single NRL game in 2024, with Billy Walters playing from the bench. Pat Carrigan shifts to prop, with Kobe Hetherington taking his place in lock, whilst Jack Gosiewski starts in the second row, with Brendan Piakura slotting onto the bench. After joining the Broncos on a train-and-trial deal, Gehamat Shibasaki remarkably earns a starting spot as centre, due to Kotoni Staggs picking up a quad injury in the second trial match against the Bulldogs.

The odds are ever stacked in favour of the home side, with the Roosters winning five of their past six matches against the Broncos, though the Broncos have never played at the new Allianz Stadium and there's a first time for everything.

Who to watch: In a side filled with younger players and Roosters debutants, all eyes go towards experienced and senior playmaker, James Tedesco. Captaining the side for the fifth consecutive season, he brings just over 250 games of experience, having played in all but two games in 2024, scoring 17 tries and 24 try assists.

Though not all might agree, Ben Hunt brings a new sense of energy and life to the Broncos, stacked with over 300 games of experience and leadership. After a troublesome 2024, the Broncos are in desperate need for more guidance on the field, especially their younger stars, and Hunt could do just that.

Favourite: Brisbane are favoured to start the season on a high and claim victory over the Roosters.

My tip: I can't really go past my own team for this one, they have an absolutely stacked starting side and bench, and we all know what these players can achieve, and I think paired with Maguire as the 2025 coach, they will be unstoppable. (Please don't make me eat my words @ Broncos). Brisbane by 18.

Knights looking to spoil Tigers' newfound hopes to start 2025

A bolstered, almost unrecognisable Tigers side are set to kick-off their 2025 campaign by hosting the Newcastle Knights at Campbelltown on Friday evening. After the Knights scraped into the finals last season, they will be aiming to take things a few steps further this year. The Wests Tigers haven't won a first round match since 2020, and with their finals drought already at 13 seasons, the stakes are high right off the bat.

Big name recruits Jarome Luai, Sunia Turuva, Jeral Skelton, Terrell May, Royce Hunt, and Jack Bird are all set to line up for the Wests Tigers this Friday, with fans no doubt keenly watching for their impacts. Luai will partner Lachie Galvin in the halves in the debut of what the club hopes to be their long term halves combination. The pressure will be on for Luai to step up and lead the long-struggling side in his role in the number seven jersey.

Api Koroisau's suspension sees Tallyn Da Silva step up into the hooker role, whilst an appendix issue for Jahream Bula gives Heath Mason a big opportunity as starting fullback. Solomon Faataape and Adam Doueihi get the nod as the centre pairing, whilst Charlie Staines is left out of the 17 in favour of club debutants Skelton and Turuva. Royce Hunt and Jack Bird will start the game from the bench, with their roles, and how many minutes each will get, still unclear. Terrell May has claimed ownership of the number 8, teaming up with Fonua Pole in the front row.

Plenty of noise has surrounded the potential halves pairing over in Newcastle, with O'Brien having used an astounding eleven different combinations throughout last season. It's Fletcher Sharpe and Jack Cogger named in the 6 & 7 for round 1, seeing Phoenix Crossland take up the role at hooker and Jayden Brailey pushed to the bench.

New recruit James Schiller is set for his Knights debut on the wing, whilst the pack is shaping up nicely. Union convert Leo Thompson has been impressive of late, and is partnered by the experienced Jacob Saifiti in the props. Captain Kalyn Ponga seems set to remain in his fullback role after a brief halves experiment this time last year, and the pressure will be on for him to deliver to his full potential. There's no room for former Tiger Jackson Hastings in the 17.

The Knights have come out victorious in the past six NRL match ups between these clubs.

Who to watch: Tristan Hope has been named to make his NRL debut off the bench for the Wests Tigers this Friday. The absence of Api Koroisau gives him the opportunity, with Hope expected to help relieve Tallyn Da Silva of the number nine duties for part of the 80 minutes. The 27 year old first played Queensland Cup in 2018, and has been a consistent hooker for East Brisbane Tigers across the past two seasons, taking out the premiership in 2023. Rewarded for his efforts with a train-and-trial deal at Concord, his performances during pre-season and trials were sufficient for Benji to upgrade Hope to a development contract, and hand him his first top flight appearance.

Fletcher Sharpe being named in the halves may not be a massive surprise to Newcastle fans, but it certainly is a risk on Adam O'Brien's part. The 20 year old from Maitland has only ever played NRL games at wing or fullback so far in his career, so this is a significant shift for the youngster. Sharpe played both pre-season trial games in the number 6 jersey for the Knights, giving some foreshadowing that he was favoured to make the change into the halves. Sharpe was a part of the Australian PM XIII team that travelled to Port Moresby last year, and he's certainly in confident form, running in two tries against the Roosters two weeks ago.

Favourite: The Knights appear to be the marginal favourites heading into this one.

My tip: Newcastle are a real bogey team for the Wests Tigers, and with new combinations still forming, I can't see Wests getting up at home in Campbelltown. Knights by 8.

Master v Apprentice as Woolf and Bennett go head-to-head

It's the rivalry game that had to be the main attraction of the Friday Night Football double header as the Dolphins under new mentor Kristian Woolf take on the Rabbitohs and their new head coach Wayne Bennett from CommBank Stadium.

South East Queensland is bracing itself for Tropical Cyclone Alfred which is expected to make landfall on Thursday. As a result the game has been moved to Parramatta with the reverse fixture moving to QLD later in the season.

Away from the weather, the Dolphins enter 2025 under new coach Kristian Woolf. Woolf has an impressive resume from his time in the Super League with St Helens as well as his work in transforming Tonga as one of the powerhouse nations in international rugby league. He has also had his fingerprints all over the foundation work at the Dolphins since his 2023 arrival.

His first test comes up against his master and mentor Wayne Bennett. The Dolphins have been talked down about to come into the season, as most sides struggle from the post Bennett decline. But their exciting array of outside backs and improvement across several key positions has the Dolphins primed for a rise up the NRL ladder.

Onto the team cards. Tom Gilbert returns following an ACL injury at lock, this shifts last year's revelation Max Plath onto the edge alongside new recruit Kulikefu Finefeuiaki. Felise Kaufusi and new signing Daniel Saifiti form a 1-2 punch in the middle alongside hooker Jeremy Marshall-King. Kodi Nikorima rejoins Isaiya Katoa in the halves with Jake Averillo covering the centre spot vacated by Bostock. Kurt Donoghoe is on the bench as the utility.

Now onto South Sydney, the Bunnies had a season from hell last year, finishing in second last position on the NRL ladder. Throw in a bunch of injuries to their stars and the removal of their head coach after eight rounds of the season and you get a season that belongs in the scrapheap.

That being said, Wayne Bennett's return brings a renewed sense of optimism at South Sydney, even before Latrell and Cam Murray went down with injuries. The big question this year is half-back, Lewis Dodd's suspension opens the door for Jamie Humphries to stamp his claims for the rest of the season. After the UK import's unappealing trial form, the spot is clearly Humphries' to lose. Their pack needs to lift from last season and faces an almighty opening round test.

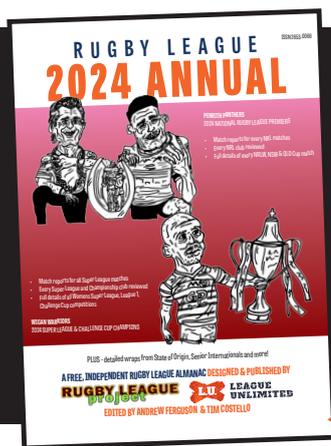

Onto team news, Campbell Graham has overcome a hand injury to return while prop Junior Tatola is also good to go. Jye Gray will wear the No.1 jersey in Mitchell's absence, with Isaiah Taas and Tyrone Munro on the wings. Jamie Humphreys teams with skipper Cody Walker (who has battled injuries in the pre-season) in the halves while Peter Mamouzelos is the hooker. Former Dolphin Lachlan Hubner makes his club debut at lock and ex-Tiger Jayden Sullivan has won a bench spot alongside Tallis Duncan, Siliva Havili and Tatola.

Who to watch: How will Tom Gilbert fare in his return to football after nearly 12 months away from the game. That is the question that the Dolphins fans hope is answered from the opening kick-off. Gilbert is a QLD rep and a feared forward in our game. His effort plays and hard work made him a clear choice to be Dolphins captain. Look for the new skipper to lead by example and guide the Dolphins to an opening night victory.

Now most people would expect me to go with Jamie Humphries but it's going to be Campbell Graham. Now, Graham too has been out of the game for 12 months following his sternum injury that threatened his career. He is a strong, determined runner and one of the better defensive centres the game has. He has been on the cusp of Origin for so long now, if he leads Souths out of the doldrums despite the pressure, he may be too good for Laurie Daley to pass up.

Favourite: The Dolphins open up as slight favourites heading into this one.

My tip: Despite TC Alfred looming large on this fixture. The tip will be made as if the game is going ahead, so please bare that in mind. Conditions will be a tiny bit awkward still in Sydney, handling will be key and if last year taught us much, Souths struggled without a leader. It will be a similar case in this one. The Dolphins have too many leaders and the strike that Souths do not have due to injuries. Dolphins by 18.

A Sold-Out Kogarah Awaits as Dragons and Bulldogs Kick Off 2025

The 2025 NRL season kicks off in style with a highly anticipated clash between the St George Illawarra Dragons and the Canterbury-Bankstown Bulldogs at Netstrata Jubilee Stadium. With an expected sell-out crowd, Kogarah's atmosphere will be electric as both teams aim to start their campaigns on a winning note.

The Dragons enter this match full of confidence following an impressive pre-season campaign. A dominant 26-8 victory over the Sydney Roosters at their home ground showcased their new-look squad, headlined by marquee recruits Clint Gutherson, Damien Cook, Valentine Holmes, and Lachlan Ilias. Their attacking flair was on full display in the Charity Shield, where they stormed to a 46-26 victory over South Sydney, racing to a 34-0 lead within the opening 30 minutes. The inclusion of experienced players like Gutherson and Cook has brought much-needed leadership to the Red V, complementing a squad that has struggled for consistency in recent years.

The Bulldogs, meanwhile, had a mixed pre-season. In their two trial matches, a solid 20-14 win over the Wests Tigers was followed by a 30-18 loss to the Brisbane Broncos, where they showed flashes of attacking brilliance but struggled defensively. Captain Stephen Crichton and key forward Villame Kikau will lead a Bulldogs outfit that is eager to push further into the finals in 2025 after bowing out in the first round last season. However, they will be missing key players in Josh Curran (suspension), Jacob Kiraz (back), and Enari Tuala (foot), which will test their depth early on.

With a stacked roster, the challenge for Shane Flanagan's side will be ensuring their new combinations click under the pressure of a season opener. While they have looked sharp in trials, translating that form into the regular season is a different challenge altogether. The Dragons have often been guilty of fading in key moments, and against a Bulldogs side that thrives on pressure, they will need to maintain intensity for the full 80 minutes. With a passionate home crowd behind them, the Red V have a golden opportunity to stamp their authority early in the season. Five-eighth Kyle Flanagan will also mark his 100th NRL appearance in this fixture, adding extra motivation for the Dragons.

Despite missing key players, Cameron Ciraldo has named a strong side, including new recruit Sitili Tupouniua off the bench. The Bulldogs will be looking to exploit the Dragons' reshuffled lineup, particularly in the middle of the park, where their forward pack will aim to dominate early. With a proven record against St George Illawarra in recent years, Canterbury will be confident in their ability to dictate the tempo of the game. However, their Round 1 struggles in past seasons raise questions about their ability to fire immediately out of the gates.

Who to watch: The Dragons' newly appointed co-captains, Clint Gutherson & Damien Cook, will be pivotal in shaping their style of play. Gutherson's organisational skills and Cook's speed out of dummy half will provide the backbone for their attacking sets. If they click early, the Dragons could be a serious threat.

The Bulldogs' captain, Stephen Crichton, will be eager to lead from the front. Crichton's ability to find the try line and his leadership in the backline will be crucial for Canterbury's chances. The Bulldogs will be hard to stop if he can dominate in both attack and defence.

Favourite: Off the back of a strong 2024 campaign, the Canterbury-Bankstown Bulldogs enter this match as slight favourites.

My tip: Round 1 is always unpredictable, especially when a team like the Dragons has undergone significant off-season changes. If their new spine gels quickly, they have the firepower to take control in front of a vocal home crowd. If not, the Bulldogs could exploit their defensive weaknesses. Expect a close contest, but the Red V's home advantage and pre-season momentum might just tip the scales in their favour. Dragons by 8.

A tale of two halfbacks

The Manly Sea Eagles will begin their 2025 campaign at home against the North Queensland Cowboys in a contest between two sides that bowed out in the second week of the finals last season.

Starting the new year in familiar surroundings after a trailblazing opening round performance in Las Vegas twelve months earlier, the Manly Sea Eagles will be aiming to continue a prosperous record over the Cowboys following five wins from their last seven meetings.

Producing mixed trial form with a comprehensive victory over South Sydney (34-24) followed by a stunning loss to a reserve grade Penrith side (22-38), coach Anthony Seibold has named Jazz Tevaga and Siosiaua Taukeiaho to make their club debuts; Tevaga and Jake Simpkin will share the duties at hooker with Lachlan Croker unavailable with a knee injury.

The Sea Eagles have struggled in opening round fixtures with seven wins from 21 matches since re-entering the premiership in 2003, however coach Seibold has defied the historical trend by beginning his two seasons at the club with Round 1 wins.

Beginning their 30th year as a club with aspirations of replicating their premiership success of a decade ago, the North Queensland Cowboys will be aiming to open a new season with a win for the third year in a row.

Coming into the season proper off the back of a heavy defeat to the Dolphins (8-50) and an atoning victory against Melbourne (36-24), the Cowboys have enjoyed strong success on the northern beaches with seven wins from nine visits this century.

Winning 13 out of 28 opening round matches over the past three decades, coach Todd Payten will give club debuts to John Bateman and Karl Lawton, while Tom Duffy will become the first player to make his NRL debut at halfback in the opening round of a season for North Queensland.

Former Queensland representative Coen Hess will make his long-awaited return to the NRL off the bench after missing the entirety of last season with a torn ACL.

Saturday evening will be the second time the Sea Eagles and Cowboys have met in the opening round of a season; Des Hasler started his coaching career at Manly on a positive note, turning a 0-14 halftime deficit into a 24-20 victory, back in 2004.

Who to watch: Entering his 15th season in first grade by taking on the mantle as the oldest current player in the league, Daly Cherry-Evans will be out to prove that age is but a number with a dominant opening round display. Coming off a strong personal 2024 which included eight tries, 17 try-assists and 21 forced drop-outs, the Manly captain has earned a reputation for stepping up in big moments with 28 field goals throughout his career. Making his 330th NRL appearance, drawing level with Parramatta legend Nathan Hindmarsh, the 36-year-old could join esteemed company as one of only five men to appear in 350 premiership games with an injury-free campaign.

In the past 15 years only two players have made their first grade debuts at halfback in the opening round of a season. On Saturday evening, North Queensland rookie Tom Duffy will follow in the footsteps of Daly Cherry-Evans and Adam Reynolds by becoming the third. Earning his maiden start in the top grade after guiding the Northern Pride to the minor premiership in the Queensland Cup last season, the 21-year-old playmaker impressed during the pre-season with a try-assist and a 75% conversion rate in the win over Melbourne. Coming into the NRL with a strong foundation as a Queensland Under 19s representative, Duffy will be determined to repay the faith shown by his coach and teammates with a strong showing.

Favourite: The Sea Eagles are expected achieve a feat not recorded by the club since the Super League War (1995-97) by claiming an opening round win in three successive seasons.

My tip: In a match that could be determined by the wisdom of experience or the enthusiasm of youth, the class of DCE should get the Sea Eagles off to a winning start at home. Sea Eagles by 12.

Match preview

Luke Jobson

The fall out of Las Vegas culminates on Sunday afternoon at AAMI Park, as the Melbourne Storm look to blow through the Parramatta Eels.

It was only five months ago, but the Storm will remember last years heartbreaking Grand Final loss like it was only last weekend. The 14-6 loss was just another reminder that no matter how good a side can be, the Panthers are, and have been one step better over the last five years.

With that being said, the Storm will look to erase those memories as they take on an old foe in the Parramatta Eels. Round One at AAMI Park is terrifying enough for any team, with the Storm having a near perfect record over recent history. Add on the fact that this will be the first game that the full-strength Storm play after the grand final loss? It's a definite cause for concern as one of the Storm old boys returns home.

Jason Ryles will step into an all too familiar environment for his first premiership game inc charge of the Parramatta Eels. A former player and assistant coach at the Storm, he knows the ins and outs of this squad better than almost anyone in the game.

Taking the lead of a franchise who is desperate for success, the expectation for some is that Ryles will hit the ground running. Losing his captains in Gutherson and Campbell-Gillard over the summer, the Eels coach has got some youth to replace the stalwarts - but whether said youth is up to the task against the powerhouse that is the Storm, is yet to be seen.

The Storm have one change from the side that made the Grand Final last year, as Stefano Utoikamanu makes his club debut in the front row against one of his old teams. Ryan Papenhuyzen, Jahrome Hughes and Xavier Coates are good to go for week one, with Grant Anderson and Sua Faalogo both down in the reserves having played last years final game.

New coach, new line up for the Parramatta Eels with five club debutants for the blue and gold army! Zac Lomax starts in is preferred centre position, with Isaiah longi and Ryley Smith both making their NRL debuts. Ronald Volkman and Jack Williams both line up for their club debuts. The big talking point is still, no Mitchell Moses with a foot concern. It will be up to Volkman, alongside the in-demand Dylan Brown, to guide this inexperienced side around the park like they did in their trial win against the Knights.

Who to watch: Coming off an injury disrupted 2024, Ryan Papenhuyzen will look to explode into 2025. Knowing full well that Sua Faalogo is waiting in the wings for a chance at that fullback jersey, the incumbent will look to make his mark early on the Eels. His speed will cause issues, especially on the Eels right left edge, while the ability to come through the middle will have alarm bells ringing for the new forward pack.

Dylan Brown showed in Newcastle that he can lead from the front with a very dominant display during the Eels trial win. The one concern that Eels fans had last year was that Brown couldn't lead Parramatta around the park for 80 minutes without the foil that is Mitchell Moses - so how can you shut the critics up? Go to Melbourne and win. Brown will look to run first, letting Volkman control the tempo of the attack, while the livewire that is Isaiah longi will pop up everywhere to provide the needed support.

Favourite: The Storm are well backed to make it 23-straight years of Round 1 victories

My tip: It isn't just a cut and dry game to look at here - the Storm are yet to put their full first team on the pitch together in 2025 while the Eels have done so twice (at points). The chemistry is there for Parramatta, but the class of the Storm should be too much for the Eels to handle. It will, hopefully, be closer than what is predicted... but don't have those hopes too high. Storm by 18.

Hull KR 42 Salford 0

Despite having a full complement of players to pick from for the second week in a row, Salford were once again left scoreless this season after being thrashed 42-0 by Hull KR at Craven Park.

The match began in disastrous fashion for both sides. Rovers fullback Niall Evalds was fouled illegally by Salford's Jayden Nikorima which saw Evalds fall a HIA and Nikorima sin-binned for the tackle. Rovers took full advantage of the extra man when Kelepi Tanginoa scored with his first touch of the ball to give the home side the early advantage.

On the receiving end of an 11-3 penalty count, Rovers were allowed to camp down the other end of the field for prolonged periods of the opening forty. Some silky passing outside was enough to send Oliver Gildart away down the sideline to open up a 10-0 lead. Five minutes later, the new look halves of Danny Richardson and Peta Hiku combined to send Tom Davies over and the floodgates were close to opening early.

Fortunately for Salford, their defence held for the remainder of the first half, conceding only two Richardson penalty goals to trail by 20 points at the half-time break. Makeshift fullback Jack Broadbent crashed over five minutes after the break to extend the margin to start the second stanza.

The sloppy disciplined continued and the floodgates which threatened to break in the first half finally surrendered when former Titan Jai Whitbread crossed for a double to make it 36-0 by the hour mark. The visitors again tested referee Aaron Moore's patience when Chris Hill conceded two penalties in a row and for the second time in the game, Salford were down to 12 men.

Only Jez Litten crossed in the remaining time to give Rovers their best start to a Super League campaign ever. That win was without Mikey Lewis and Tyrone May on-top of the HIA to Evalds and further injuries to Rhys Martin and captain Elliott Minchella.

For the Red Devils, coach Paul Rowley described the loss as "the worst he's been apart of since arriving at the club" and expressed concern at his side's at times paper thin defence. There could be more pain with the club's finances seemingly not as stable as once thought following the takeover mere weeks ago...

Hull FC 11 Huddersfield 10

An Aidan Sezer field goal in the dying stages of the second half has given Hull FC their second away win of the season, downing Huddersfield by 11-10.

The black and whites started with intent as Sezer proved to be the major difference. A 40/20 early in the first half gave Hull FC attacking field position. The former Tiger proved provider with a beautiful pass to Lewis Martin who beat the outstretched defensive line to slam the ball down inside the opening ten minutes.

Huddersfield quickly got back into the game when Jacob Gagai combined nicely to send Sam Hewitt away. He linked back up with Gagai to score under the posts and give the Giants their first lead of the night. Hull's evening got worse when John Asiata was sin-binned for a shoulder to the head of a player. The Giants took full advantage of the sin-bin period when Adam Swift crossed outside to make the score 10-4 at the break.

The second half was a tense affair as both sides engaged in a fierce arm-wrestle. Huddersfield were managing the game well until a Tui Lolohea pass was intercepted by Harvey Bannon who sprinted 90 metres to score and level the scores at 10-10 with approximately 12 minutes to play.

Lolohea's judgement was again mistimed when a rushed attempt at field goal sailed wide of the mark. Off the back of a 7-tackle set and a set-restart, Sezer made no mistakes with the field goal to secure win number 2 for Hull this season.

Leigh 34 Catalans 6

Leigh have maintained their undefeated start while subjecting Catalans to a winless start of their own, thrashing the French side by 28 points in Leigh.

The Leopards crossed for their first try after 13 minutes when Umya Hanley stepped past some disappointing defence to score the first of his three tries. It soon became a procession with Leigh running in a further two tries in the opening 40, punishing Catalans for their inability to defend.

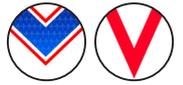

A mistimed pass from new recruit Luke Keary came off the arm of a fellow Dragon which landed in the arms of Keenan Brand who sprinted 85 metres to score for the Leopards to open up a 12-0 gap. Keary did all he could to try and redeem himself, a neat grubber kick was nearly re-gathered but as was the case in the first half, Catalans allowed Leigh to run up field and score a fatal try before the break. Jack Hughes went through some pedestrian defence to score and it was 18-0 at the break.

Catalans problems were worsened when Jordan DeZaria was yellow carded in the shadows of half-time for a professional foul. Four minutes into the second half, Lachie Lam combined brilliantly with Hanley as the youngster continued his strong start to 2025 with a great individual try.

Gareth O'Brien continued from where he left off last week as he put Ethan O'Neill away and the score was blowing out rather embarrassingly for the Dragons. Alrix Da Costa gave the Dragons some consolation on the score-board but Hanley completed his hat-trick in the shadows of full-time to give Leigh a comprehensive victory to maintain their unbeaten run this season.

St Helens 26 Wakefield 6

St Helens have handed Wakefield back-to-back defeats, downing Trinity 26-6.

Saints opened the scoring after 5 minutes thanks to a Mark Percival penalty goal. The game's first try was scored after 20 minutes courtesy of Jack Welsby. Saints looked set to go over in the corner after Percival's back-handed pass to Jon Bennison but his pass back inside ran loose and Curtis Sironen accidentally kicked the ball behind the line as he attempted to gather, with Welsby first to pounce and the try was given after a lengthy video check.

A few minutes later, Isaiah Vagana crashed over to reduce the gap to two points. However, that was the only time the Wildcats crossed. An error from Tom Johnstone gave Harry Robertson a chance to crash over outside and he ran in un-touched to score and that was the turning point of the clash. Percival knocked over a penalty goal to make it 14-6 at the break.

Saints knocked over two second half tries to put the issue beyond doubt. Darryl Clark's effort midway through the second stanza was setup by a brilliant offload from new signing Tristan Sailor. Kyle Feldt then continued his amazing start to life in the north of England by scoring in the corner to make it a 26-6 ball-game.

That was St Helen's biggest test of the season so far after two blowout wins to start season 2025. Coming up though, they have their biggest assignment, undefeated Hull KR in what is shaping up as one of the competition's biggest matches so far. For Wakefield, they are putting in the hard yards, but seem a step or two behind the pace of these big clubs. They can take confidence from nearly beating Rovers and keeping pace with Saints though.

Wigan 48 Warrington 24

Super League arrived in the Sin City and the USA marks the eighth country in which Super League football has been played in. Wigan showed their clash with a ruthless 48-24 win.

It was a tense start marred by two false starts, Toby King and Liam Marshall both had tries denied for their respective teams and the game was waiting to be broken open. Wigan did just that with a clever grubber kick pounced upon by bench forward Tyler Dupree to give the Warriors the early lead. That effort was matched six minutes later by a spectacular finish from Abbas Miski in the right corner and Warrington were up against it.

Two tries in the shadows of half-time were enough to get the margin out to 24 points and the Wolves were in damage control, simply missing too many tackles and allowing Wigan to waltz up field throughout the first half. Junior Nsemba was the hardest man in Allegiant Stadium to tackle, he provided a great offload which was deflected back to Bevan French to score. With three to go before the break, Harry Smith crossed after getting a pass on the inside from French to score.

The second half was more like a procession with Wigan scoring the first three tries of the half to make it 42-0. Jai Field waltzed over after putting Liam Marshall away down the right before backing up to score. Jake Wardle soon delivered one of the tries of the weekend which went through several sets of hands, started by Bevan French before the centre touched down. Former Bulldog Luke Thompson finished off a great team try moments later and Warrington were looking to be on the next plane home.

Warrington scored three late consolation tries to make the score respectable, the best of which was their first courtesy of a clever grubber from George Williams which was grounded millimetres in the in-goal by Arryn Lindop.

Prop James Harrison and Matt Dufty delivered some further score-board credibility before Liam Marshall added a try to make it a 30 point margin. Matty Ashton got some further respectability on the score-board, sprinting 90 metres to score to make the deficit a much more respectable 24 points.

Leeds 38 Castleford 24

The Leeds Rhinos have recorded back-to-back wins after trouncing the Castleford Tigers by 38-24 in a high scoring Sunday fixture.

It was a tight opening quarter with Leeds threatening for most of the period, dominating field position but being denied by some tenacious Tigers defence. The dam wall eventually caved in when Jake Connor busted his way through some sloppy defence to score the opening try after 22 minutes.

Four minutes later, Keenan Palasia crossed for his maiden Super League try, after backing up a brilliant offload from James Bentley. Moments before the break, a brilliant grubber from captain Ash Handley sat up perfectly for Harry Newman to score and the Tigers were down 18-0 at the break.

Leeds were playing an entertaining brand of football and chanced their arm, running it on the last in their first set with the football after the break. After going through several sets of hands, a Ryan Hall grubber was tapped on, into the arms of Jake Sinfield to score. Seven minutes later, Handley had a try of his own outside and Castleford were running out of answers defensively.

Eventually they got their way onto the scoreboard when George Lawler busted through, before linking up with Fletcher Rooney who ran 40 metres to score to give the Tigers life. However, two quick Leeds four pointers on either side of the hour mark made the gap 38-6 including the try of the game to Hall after 57 minutes.

What won't please Leeds coach Brad Arthur is the lapse in concentration in the final ten minutes of the game. Castleford scored three tries in that period including an intercept to Zac Cini along with tries to Jeremiah Simbiken and Innes Senior to make the scoreboard respectable. Senior's effort was their best of the game as import Judah Rimbu fooled the defence and threw a lovely cut-out pass to send Senior flying 80 metres to score.

The Wrap: Internationals

Australia dominate England in Vegas mismatch

Josh Robertson

90 - 4

Many questions will have to be asked about the state of Women's Rugby League as the Australian Jillaroos have pulled out a 90-4 win at Allegiant Stadium in Las Vegas.

It took the Aussies five minutes to open the scoring with Julia Robinson picking up the first of her hatrick as Tamika Upton drew the defence in and connected with Robinson.

The Jillaroos then went on a scoring spree scoring three tries before England could even touch the ball again with Tiana Penitani, Tamika Upton, Shannon Mato all scoring for the Aussies.

Tamika Upton quickly added her second and third tries of the evening as the second came from a beautiful piece of work from Julia Robinson who turned on the spot and left the English defence clutching at thin air before racing 70m up field to link with Upton to score.

Isabelle Kelly and Julia Robinson added to the scores just shy of the half time break and the Aussies had a 38-0 lead at the break.

The first half felt dominant but the second half seemed to be more one-way traffic for the Aussies. The second half started with a long injury delay after a nasty head clash between Sarah Togatuki and Vicky Whitfield with the latter subsequently taken to Hospital for scans.

The long delay didn't stop the Australian momentum as Yasmin Clydesdale scooped on a loose ball before finding Isabelle Kelly for her second before leaving the field with a hamstring injury.

Tamika Upton chalked up 4 off an Olivia Kernick pass that was a thing of beauty before adding number 5 cutting through the middle of the field. The defensive efforts from England were taking their toll as the Aussies continued to rack up point as Robinson scored her third before Jess Sergis and Jakiya Whitfield went onto the scorers list to take the score to 72-0.

Two more tries came for Jess Sergis completing her hatrick off the bench which was split by a 7 minute gap, the longest gap all game between points. Keilee Joseph scored under the posts after Kezie Apps went through the middle to take the score to 90-0 following the Aiken conversion.

Some English embarrassment was saved though right on full time when Georgia Roche scored keeping her arm off the ground to reach out in the dying seconds. A close range conversion hit the post and meant the score finished at 90-4.
