Eels beat Broncos in defence-optional contest

Justin DAVIES

Parramatta Eels won 40-32 against Brisbane Broncos in front of 39,015 fans at Lang Park on Thursday night to kick off Round 2.

The Eels came back from 14-points down to win a game which saw four players bag doubles and a loss which leaves the defending premiers 0-2 to start their Premiership defence.

After a game to forget last week, Reece Walsh lit up the game early tonight. He showed off his swift feet and left the Eels bamboozled to make it 6-0.

Broncos were in full flow early in the game, Adam Reynolds had the ball on a string. He punched through a kick for Kotoni Staggs to add their second.

Eels needed a spark and it came from Kelma Tuilagi. He steamed onto a short ball and showed off his leg speed to make the distance to the try-line.

Brisbane went close twice to adding to their score, once Jordan Rikki somehow was unable to ground the ball and a contest in the air denied Ezra Mam.

They did extend their lead to eight from the tee. Reynolds added a penalty goal after the penalty which came from the Mam no try to make it 14-6.

It looked all too easy for the Broncos in this game. Patrick Carrigan produced some lovely interplay with Payne Haas who strolled through a hole to get a four-pointer.

The visitors needed something to get back into the game. They were pushing forward well then Jonah Pezet tried to kick for himself and it ended up popping out for Ryley Smith to score.

Buoyed by that, the Eels brought it back within four. Another superb short ball from Pezet saw Tuilagi brush through to get his second of the contest.

Parramatta turned the game around late in the second half. They were bending the line at will then Isaiah Longi sliced through the gap to make it 22-20 at the break.

The Eels continued to pepper the Broncos in the second half, Walsh made an error from a kick and Longi slipped through again for his second four-pointer.

This game refused to calm down. Walsh cut through the Eels defence to get the Broncos on the front foot. Reynolds almost got stuck on last, offloads and Mam kicks for Staggs to get a brace.

There was a quick moment of calm from the tee. Broncos were pinged for an infringement at the scrum and Moses piloted through the kick to make it 28-26.

You can't keep Walsh down for long in this game. Staggs started it scooped up a loose pass to get them going then Walsh kicked for himself to also be in the double club.

Leads aren't safe in this game. Eels got given field possession after a few Broncos errors then Pezet puts a kick in no man's land and it spat out to Sean Russell to score. Moses converted for 34-32.

It was fitting that Pezet sealed the game, against his future employers. He kicked ahead and watched it bounce right back to him for a four-point alongside four try-assists in the game.

Tanah Terrific guides Warriors to perfect start

AJ LUCANTONIO

A terrific performance by halfback Tanah Boyd has guided the Warriors to a 40-6 smashing of the Canberra Raiders before a huge home crowd at Go Media Stadium.

What made the 34-point victory so impressive was they were without Kurt Capewell who was injured in the warmup and Chanel Harris-Tavita who was knocked out early in the first half.

Following an early penalty against Jacob Laban, the Raiders capitalised on some terrific field position. It was great ball playing from Joe Tapine and Ethan Sanders to find Kaeo Weekes into a yawning gap to score the opening try of the contest.

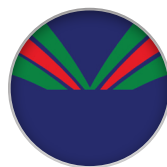

Despite losing Capewell in the warmup and Harris-Tavita to a cat-1 incident (collected the elbow of Noah Martin). The hosts capitalised on some poor discipline from the Raiders to hit back. A nice shift to the right edge saw Dallin Watene-Zelezniak slide underneath the defenders sliding across to score. In a quiet first half, the Warriors levelled the scores following a late tackle by Hudson Young on replacement Taine Tuapiki to send us level at half-time.

But that was as close as the Raiders got to the lead. A Tom Starling error was quickly scooped up by Ali Leiataua to race away to score and give the Warriors a lead that would not be chased down. A clever grubber kick from Boyd sat up inch perfectly for the ranging backrower Leka Halasima, who won the race and grounded the ball in the in-goal.

The final twenty minutes was one way traffic for the Warriors with five tries in the final quarter hour of the contest to blow the Raiders completely off the park. Just on the hour mark, the Warriors defensive efforts saw reward when their attack forced an error from the Raiders. It was terrific ball playing from Erin Clark to draw in the defenders and there was no more deserving player than Jackson Ford to charge over to score.

The Warriors sealed the game inside the final 15 minutes when Halasima recieved some early ball to fend away from four defenders on his way to the line. Andrew Webster has made the youngster earn his way into the side but he is proving too hard to leave out of the 17. Boyd put an exclamation mark on a terrific individual performance with a solo effort in the dying moments.

Following a 40/20, the grubber kick went off several legs which saw Erin Clark flick it like prime Lionel Messi before landing in the arms of Boyd to slam the ball down. Watene-Zelezniak capped his double in style late. A clever cross-field kick by Boyd continued to target Savelio Tamale. DWZ got his leap perfect and slams the footy down to cap off a terrific performance.

Roosters edge Rabbitohs as Alex Johnston becomes all-time top try-scorer

Justin DAVIES

Sydney Roosters won 26-18 against South Sydney Rabbitohs in front of 41,424 fans at Sydney Football Stadium on Friday night.

Congratulations to Alex Johnston. The Rabbitohs winger streaked away just after half-time to become the all-time leading try-scorer with his 213th four-pointer.

It was a big night in Sydney and the game matched the intensity early. Both teams were getting through their work and bringing the boom.

The Rabbitohs had the early edge in possession, having five or six sets on the Roosters line. They were repelled by the hosts and the game remained at 0-0.

The home side drew first blood, through a veteran of their own. Daly Cherry-Evans stuck his neck out and ignored his wide men to get his first in the tri-colours.

On a big night for wingers, the Roosters wide men were the one's that drew first blood. Daniel Tupou showed off his fleet feet to skip past several defenders to make it 12-0.

Everyone was there for Alex Johnston and he got halfway there in the first half. He finished off a slick Rabbitohs backline move to equal Ken Irvine on 212 tries and set up a big second half.

The moment came right after half-time. Souths spread it wide, Mitchell positioned Johnston and he strode into history, scoring number 213 and sparking wonderful scenes with a pitch invasion and fans, including the PM, celebrating the achievement.

There was a lengthy delay while everyone cleared off and Johnston changed into a gold #2 then when we resumed, Mitchell nailed the conversion to make it 12-all.

Once everything calmed down, there was rugby league to play. Roosters swung it right and who else, Mark Nawaqanitawase squeezed the ball inside the sideline to score.

Roosters extended their lead to eight from the tee. Walker piloted over a penalty goal after some rubbish in the tackle to make it 20-12 for the tri-colours.

On a historic night, it needed a historic finish. Souths got a break when Nawaqanitawase had an error. Rabbitohs attacked the right and Jack Wighton laid on the kick for Campbell Graham to bring them within two.

It was the hosting team that took the chocolates tonight. Cherry-Evans put through a kick and James Tedesco was there to touch down for a 26-18 win.

Terrific Tigers thump Cowboys at Leichhardt

Dan NICHOLS

Wests Tigers delivered a statement performance at a sun-drenched Leichhardt Oval, overwhelming the North Queensland Cowboys 44-16 in front of a vibrant crowd of 17,637.

From the opening exchanges the Tigers played with speed, intent and cohesion, and the Cowboys simply couldn't keep pace with the tempo or the pressure.

North Queensland actually struck first, Jake Clifford taking an early penalty goal after a flurry of infringements. But the tone of the afternoon shifted dramatically when repeated ruck offences saw Kai O'Donnell sent to the sin bin in the 10th minute. With the Cowboys down to 12, the Tigers pounced immediately. Samuela Fainu powered over beside the posts, Adam Doueihi converted, and the home side never looked back.

Doueihi then sliced through for a try of his own, before the Tigers' left edge took control of the contest. Kai Pearce-Paul scored twice in the space of ten minutes, both courtesy of sharp work from Jarome Luai, who was at his creative best. Luke Laullili finished the half with a corner try on the siren, giving the Tigers a commanding 28-2 lead at the break.

The second half began with more brilliance from Luai, who regathered his own grubber off the padding for a try that brought Leichhardt to its feet, although not after Braidon Burns had got the Cowboys on the tryscoring list. At 34-6 the match looked over, but the Cowboys briefly rallied. Jaxon Purdue finished a clever kick-chase, and Tom Chester beat multiple defenders to score as North Queensland narrowed the margin to 34-16 with 20 minutes remaining.

Any hint of a comeback was extinguished when Laullili intercepted a Scott Drinkwater pass and sprinted 70 metres to score, restoring the Tigers' control. Jeral Skelton then added a powerful finish in the corner, capping a strong cameo after replacing the injured Taylan May. The Tigers threatened to push for 50 in the final minutes, but handling errors from both sides ensured the score remained 44-16.

Across the park, the Tigers were faster, cleaner and more composed. Their forward pack dominated the middle, their spine played with fluency, and their defensive scramble repeatedly shut down Cowboys opportunities. North Queensland, by contrast, were plagued by errors and ill-discipline, repeatedly killing their own momentum just as they looked to build pressure.

Next week the Wests Tigers are away to South Sydney in Gosford, while the Cowboys will be glad to head home after spending the opening fortnight on the road - they host Gold Coast in Townsville on Sunday night of Multicultural Round.

Faalogo magic steals the show in Wollongong

Josh ROBERTSON

The Melbourne Storm have gone back-to-back to start the 2026 NRL season after a 46-20 victory over a gallant St George Illawarra Dragons side at WIN Stadium in Wollongong.

An early penalty goal to the visitors gave Melbourne a 2-0 lead after five minutes before they were able to get the first four-pointer of the afternoon when Will Warbrick took advantage of the numbers to score. The Storm then hit the scoreboard again when Clint Gutherson couldn't take a high kick, and the ball ended up with Jack Howarth, who scored, and the Storm lead 12-0.

The hosts were able to get some possession and field position, which they took advantage of when Christian Tuipulotu scored out before, ten minutes later, some clever work from Hamish Stewart to throw the dummy and go a play before Dan Atkinson threw one of the best passes you'll see out to Valentine Holmes to score.

The Dragons hit the lead inside the final five minutes when Clint Gutherson was the beneficiary of repeat sets for home-side, and he was able to score in almost no room in the southeast corner. Valentine Holmes converted to give the Dragons a 16-10 lead.

If there's one defensive rule when playing the Storm, it's to never fall asleep on Harry Grant at dummy half, and the Red 'V' did exactly that when on the stroke of half-time the defence rushed up and left a gaping hole for the Storm captain to dive over. Nick Meaney converted, and the Storm took an 18-14 lead.

The second half was an arm-wrestle to start with, Daniel Atkinson throwing another beauty of a pass out to Valentine Holmes, who scored his second try of the game. The Holmes conversion gave the Dragons a 20-16 lead.

The final 15 minutes became the Sua Faalogo show as the Melbourne fullback flipped the game on its head completely. A mistake from the Dragons put themselves under pressure, and Faalogo took advantage as he scored his first.

Faalogo put the sword to the Dragons with another two tries in the space of 10 minutes, with some individual brilliance, which was split between some Jahrome Hughes magic himself as he went to the line.

The Storm iced the victory when Moses Leo scooped up a charged down field goal attempt and went on a 45m solo effort to go through the middle to score. The Melbourne debutant, Angus Hinchey, converted from in front to give the visitors a 46-20 win.

Next week, the Storm head back to Melbourne for a grand final rematch with the Broncos at AAMI Park on Thursday night, whilst the Dragons head to Parramatta for a clash with the Eels.

Penrith prevail to continue dominance over Cronulla

Rob CROSBY

A clinical performance from Nathan Cleary has seen the Penrith Panthers come away with a 26-6 victory over the Cronulla Sharks in Bathurst.

Having a hand in multiple tries, scoring one of his own and dictating terms with a precision kicking game, the Penrith co-captain was at his vintage best as the victors extended their record over the Sharks to nine wins from ten matches throughout the 2020s.

The win was the Panthers' seventh from 12 visits to Carrington Park since 2014, much to the delight of a sold-out crowd.

Making an immediate statement with a momentum-shifting 40/20 from Cleary, the Panthers took advantage of their fortuitous field position through Brian To'o (6th minute), who finished off a right-side shift for first points.

With the hosts holding a slender 6-0 lead for much of a closely matched opening half, a penalty late in the half paved the way for Tom Jenkins (35th minute) to score, after the Panthers went from sideline to sideline with a series of well-worked passes to give the winger his third try in two matches.

The Panthers struck a pivotal blow only seconds out from halftime when Billy Burns stripped the ball from Luke Garner's grasp, allowing Cleary (39th minute) to swoop on the loose ball close to the try line to establish an 18-0 lead.

Continuing the one-way flow of points following the resumption with Jenkins (44th minute) running onto a pass from Casey McLean to collect his second, the Panthers left edge duo appeared to reverse their roles minutes later only for the bunker to rule Jenkins impeded the Sharks' defence from contesting a kick.

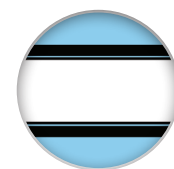

The Sharks managed to finally penetrate the Panthers' defence midway through the second half when Sione Katoa (57th minute) ran onto a pass provided by Bathurst junior Will Kennedy out wide.

Dylan Edwards was unable to get his name on the scoreboard with the bunker ruling a double movement against the fullback, while a late penalty goal from Cleary rounded out a comprehensive 26-6 result.

Next week, the Panthers will face the Roosters at Allianz Stadium on Friday night, while the Sharks will return to Ocean Protect Stadium for a Saturday night clash with the Dolphins.

Ponga and Brown go down as Newcastle embarrass Manly on home soil

AJ LUCANTONIO

Despite losing Kalyn Ponga and Dylan Brown to potentially long-term injuries in the first half, the Newcastle Knights have put together a terrific and tenacious 20-point verdict over an embarrassing Manly Warringah Sea Eagles outfit at 4 Pines Park.

Newcastle quickly made Manly pay for a kickoff blunder from Luke Brooks. On the ensuing set, the Knights were aggressive and attacked down the left-hand side. Kalyn Ponga injected himself brilliantly, and quick hands from Bradman Best saw Greg Marzhew go over in the left corner. The Knights crossed for a second try inside the opening 15 minutes. Ponga was causing carnage at first receiver before allowing Dylan Brown to drag in the left edge defence to send Dom Young on his way to the corner.

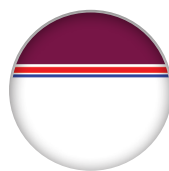

Manly had to respond next and it was a physical tackle that forced the error from Jermaine McEwen. Jamal Fogarty was brought to the club for experience and fed a dummy to Trey Mooney and burnt Phoenix Crossland for pace to get a much-needed four-pointer back for the home side. Manly were building momentum off Newcastle errors and quickly levelled the scores. Tom Trbojevic charged straight over the top of Crossland from the scrumbase to slam the ball down for his side.

Newcastle found a way to break all momentum Manly generated with an early shift off a strong yardage carry from Marzhew. Sandon Smith went deep into the line to send Best on his way, he found Ponga in support and fended away from Jason Saab to score the try to extend the lead for the Knights. It was bad news for the visitors with Ponga limping off the field minutes later with an aggravation of a hamstring injury.

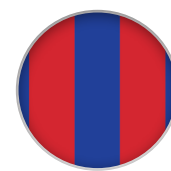

Brown had to step up in the absence of Ponga following a hamstring injury and did so in style. A terrific step fooled the Manly middle defence before unleashing a flick pass to KP's replacement Fletcher Hunt to score for the visitors for their fourth try of the first half. It was a double whammy for the visitors in the shadows of half time. While all eyes were on Brown to stand up, Sandon Smith grabbed the ball with both hands to lead his team around the park. His bomb was spilled by Tom Trbojevic in a good tackle by Marzhew and Tyson Frizell scooped it up to end a 28-game try drought. But then it was disaster with Brown limping off with an MCL injury.

With Newcastle dropping like flies, Manly simply had to capitalise. From a terrific bust by Brooks down the left touchline, the Sea Eagles quickly shifted right to Tom Trbojevic. Despite a good read by Smith, he got a pass away to Haumole Olakau'atu to charge over the line for the first points of the second half. A second error from Brooks off a kickoff gave the Knights cheap field position. Smith dragged the defence over on the left edge of Manly and Hunt was able to draw the defenders over to find Young who trucked over Tom Trbojevic on his way to the line.

A penalty goal from Smith in the final ten minutes gave the Knights a 36-16 victory and an undefeated start to the season. Meanwhile, Manly are in all sorts of trouble with two losses at home to start the season.

Dolphins fightback to beat spirited Titans

Andrew FERGUSON

The Dolphins have come from 14 points down to score 18 points in 26 minutes to come from behind to beat a spirited Gold Coast Titans performance.

The Titans defence kept the Dolphins scoreless in the first half and even denied them tries in the second half, but they eventually became their own worst enemies late in the game, turning over possession and ill-discipline in defence to let the Dolphins back into the game and eventually win.

The play early on was as dismal as the attendance (a paltry 16,073 at Suncorp Stadium) with both sides dropping the ball, giving away penalties and simply failing to build any pressure, or take advantage of the other sides mistakes. This bumbling period lasted 33 minutes, with the only score in that time coming from a Lachlan Ilias penalty goal in the 8th minute.

Jojo Fifita scored the first try of the game when a Dolphins dropped ball was picked up by Arama Hau, who then offloaded back inside to Fifita in support, who then raced 30 metres to score in the right corner. Ilias converted with a superb sideline kick.

At halftime, the Dolphins had an 8-0 lead and looked to be the better of the two sides in what was a very lacklustre first half.

4 minutes after play resumed, the Titans almost crossed again, but Hau was held up. Shortly after the Titans received a penalty and from the ensuing set, while camped on the Dolphins line, Sam Verrills at dummy half ran back and to the middle then turned the ball inside to Cooper Bai who ran towards the right, spotted a massive gap in the Dolphin's goal line defence, and wandered through it to score a ridiculously soft and easy try. Ilias converted to give the Titans a 14-0 lead.

The Dolphins fightback began in the 52nd minute when a the drop-out by the Titans got batted down and Kulikefu Finefeuiaki caught it before racing 15 metres to score. Jamayne Isaako converted.

Isaako looked certain to score 7 minutes later, but brilliant cover defence from Keano Kini knocked the ball out of his hands just a metre shy of the line.

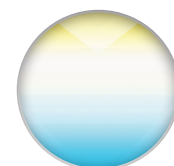

The Dolphins added to their tally in the 68th minute after a brilliant 70 metre run by Hamiso Tabuai-Fidow. On the next play the Dolphins shifted the ball hard to the left and Jake Averillo scored in the corner. Isaako nailed the conversion and the deficit was reduced to just 2 points.

Less than five minutes later, Isaiya Katoa placed a perfectly weighted and placed shallow bomb which Tabuai-Fidow raced through and caught cleanly before falling across the line to score a brilliant try, to give the Dolphins the lead for the first time. Isaako converted.

The Titans hung on grimly and tried as they might to get more points but ultimately, neither side managed to trouble each other or the scoreboard and at full time the Dolphins scored an unimpressive 18-14 victory.

Kelly HOLLIS

The Canberra Raiders return home to GIO Stadium for the first time in 2026 as they prepare to face a Canterbury Bulldogs outfit fresh off a bye.

Historically, this matchup has leaned in favour of the Green Machine, who have won five of their past six clashes against the Bulldogs in the nation's capital. Both sides enter Round 3 with narrow one-point victories to their name earlier in the season, though their paths here have been very different. Canberra were brought crashing back to earth last week, while Canterbury have had an extended break to regroup following their Vegas opener.

There is no shortage of intrigue surrounding this contest. The Bulldogs arrive amid off-field distractions, with Bronson Xerri's reported unrest and subsequent omission adding another layer of uncertainty to their preparation. Meanwhile, wet weather is forecast in the nation's capital, placing added scrutiny on GIO Stadium's surface and potentially shaping the style of play. With Canterbury coming off an 18-day break and Canberra eager to respond in front of their home crowd, the clash presents a fascinating contrast in momentum and readiness.

There were very few positives for Canberra in their 40-6 loss to the Warriors in Auckland. Despite opening the scoring through Kaeo Weekes, the Raiders struggled to maintain control, missing key opportunities in the first half before being overrun. Their inability to halt the Warriors' momentum was a major concern, and both Ricky Stuart and captain Joe Tapine were vocal about the need for improvement. For a side that finished as minor premiers in 2025, it was an uncharacteristically flat performance.

The Raiders will be looking for a strong response at home, and the return of veteran prop Josh Papalii is a timely boost. He slots straight back into the starting front row, with Morgan Smithies shifting to the bench. Canberra will be hoping a more composed middle-third performance can lay the platform, while their spine, led by Weekes, looks to rediscover its attacking spark. With a home crowd behind them and Ricky Stuart celebrating his 300th game as a first-grade coach, expect a far more physical and determined showing.

Canterbury haven't taken the field since their thrilling 15-14 golden point win over the Dragons in Las Vegas. In a scrappy but entertaining contest, Stephen Crichton proved the difference, slotting the winning field goal with seconds remaining. The Bulldogs showed resilience but were far from perfect, with handling errors and lapses in discipline preventing them from putting the game to bed earlier.

Heading into Round 3, the Bulldogs face a different challenge after an extended break. The biggest talking point is the omission of Bronson Xerri, with Enari Tuala coming into the centres for his first appearance of the season. Defensive concerns on Canterbury's right edge remain, which could be targeted by Canberra's left-side attack. While the rest may have refreshed the squad, there are question marks around match fitness and cohesion after 18 days without game time.

Who to watch: Kaeo Weekes is electric at the back for Canberra and has already shown he can slice through defensive lines with ease. His speed and support play make him a constant threat, and he looms as a game-breaker once again.

Jacob Preston is a barnstorming back rower who can find the line. If his partnership with Galvin continues to improve, his try tally is expected to increase in 2026, and for this reason, he is one of the first players picked in my SuperCoach team!

Favourite: The betting markets have this one virtually dead even, with little separating the two sides.

MY TIP: Honestly, if you want a tip for this one, flip a coin! But I still have to give you one to finish off this preview... so I'm going to go with the Raiders. Surely, a Ricky Stuart spray is going to have to work sooner or later to fire up this Green Machine! Canberra by 8.

Andrew JACKSON

After bouncing back from Round 1 disappointment, the Roosters will be looking to prove they are a genuine premiership threat this week when they play the undefeated Panthers at Allianz Stadium.

Penrith's slow start to the 2025 season is a distant memory at this point, with Ivan Cleary's side signaling they are back with a vengeance in 2026 after bowing out of September in the preliminary finals last year.

This time around, there have been no signs of complacency from the once four-time defending premiers, who opened the season with a 26-0 shutout of Brisbane and followed it up with a comprehensive 26-6 win over Cronulla.

What makes Penrith's 2-0 start to the season all the more impressive is the fact this was supposed to be the club's hardest run of the year.

Instead, the Panthers have seemingly embraced the challenge to quickly prove they will be right up there with the top teams come the pointy end of the year.

The Roosters, on the other hand, have struggled to live up to expectations having opened the season with a humiliating loss to the Warriors.

They responded last Friday with a tight win over the Rabbitohs, but need to make a statement against Penrith to prove marquee man Daly Cherry-Evans was worth somewhat

THINGS TO KNOW

- Penrith have won 14 of their last 18 games against Roosters (since 2016) and 12 of their last 14 (since 2019)
- Penrith has scored at least 20 points in all of their last 12 games against the Roosters, and average 30.58 ppg against the Roosters in their last 12 clashes (since 2020)
- DCE won his first 3 games against the Panthers in 2011-12. He hasn't had back-to-back wins against them since. He won his last game against Penrith.
- Daly Cherry-Evans has 98 Tries in NRL

mortgaging the club's future on.

Both teams have major inclusions for this week's game with Reece Robson a surprise early inclusion from injury for the Roosters, while Liam Martin is back for the Panthers.

The Panthers have recent history working in their favour, having won 11 of the past 12 clashes against the Roosters including a 10-game win streak from 2020 to 2024.

Who to watch: This shapes as an early Origin shootout, with Dylan Edwards and James Tedesco squaring off at fullback.

Tedesco has polled three Dally M votes in both games to open the season, including the heavy loss to the Warriors, which speaks to just how consistent he is. Even in defeat, Tedesco is constantly among the Roosters' best and is a big reason why they are able to keep so many games close even if the new-look combination of Sam Walker and Daly Cherry-Evans remains a work in progress.

The tackle-busting Roosters machine ended 2025 on a high to position himself as the favourite for the fullback jumper, but Edwards seems refreshed and refocused after a tough end to last season. Edwards is his own worst critic and recently told reporters his finish to 2025 was "sub-par" but the Panthers fullback has started to look a lot more like himself this season, sitting second on the Dally M leaderboard after two rounds with nine points.

Favourite: Given recent form, the Panthers are well-backed to open the season 3-0 for the first time since 2022.

MY TIP: It is hard to go against the Panthers given the way they are defending. They have more than enough points in them to match it with the Roosters too. Penrith by 10.

Beth NICHOLLS

One team is looking to get their third win in a row, the other is staring down the barrel of a potential three losses to start the season. And no, the reigning premiers aren't the team looking to get three on the trot.

To close out the Friday night matches of Multicultural Round, the Broncos travel down south to take on the Storm, for the ultimate 2025 Grand Final rematch.

Melbourne have been on a flying start to the season, already having scored 98 points in their opening two games. The Storm have bounced back from a devastating end to 2025, along with many roster changes, to come out strong.

Trent Loiero returns the lock after serving his two-match suspension from the 2025 Grand Final, which sees Jack Hetherington drop back to reserves. Alex Macdonald is eyeing a return from concussion and has been named on the extended bench, whilst Shawn Blore is still facing time on the sidelines after injuring his ankle in NSW Cup. Making his NRL debut last week, Cooper Clarke retains his spot on the bench.

After being kept scoreless by the Panthers in Round 1, the Broncos seemed to start strong against the Eels last week, but in the end, they lost the game 32-40. Brisbane's errors compounded and gave the Eels countless opportunities to score, which they capitalised on.

Running onto the field as a Bronco for the first time, Grant Anderson takes on his former club, with Deine Mariner shifting from the wing to centres and Gehamat Shibusaki being

THINGS TO KNOW

- Brisbane have won their last 2 games against the Storm. They've only achieved 3 straight wins against the Storm once – when they won 4 straight from 2002-2004. That was also the last time Brisbane recorded back-to-back wins against Melbourne.
- Brisbane have just 5 wins from 28 games in Melbourne against the Storm.
- Melbourne have won 41 of their 52 games since 2009 played in the opening 3 rounds of the season.
- Ben Hunt has 47 club tries for Brisbane dropped to the bench. Despite leaving the field early last week with a potential rib injury, Adam Reynolds has been named to play, however Jack Gosiewski is out due to HIA protocols. Xavier Willison starts the game, and Brendan Piakura is named in the number 18 jersey.

Over history, this battle was one that tipped the scales heavily to the Storm's side, but recently the Broncos have had a bit more luck go their way, beating them both in Round 27 and the Grand Final of last year. Though, the Broncos at AAMI Park is a bad omen, with Melbourne having won their last nine games at home against the Brisbane visitors.

Who to watch: The two electric fullbacks will be the key to their respective sides' success.

Moving into the No.1 jersey fulltime after the departure of Ryan Papenhuyzen, Sua Faalogo has already scored two tries and made one try assist this season. Featuring in seven of the Storm's games in 2025, Faalogo is a scintillating piece of Melbourne's spine and continues to dazzle.

Known for his ups and downs, Reece Walsh will be looking to right his wrongs after having a rough start to the season. Walsh's errors have cost the Broncos deadly points these last two weeks, and if Brisbane want to win, they need him to be on point. He has proven before that he is a valuable part of the spine, so it's not out of each.

Favourite: Storm are favoured to take home the two points.

MY TIP: Melbourne have always been a strong team, but they are starting this new season on point, and will be hard to beat. On the opposite side, the Broncos are lacking cohesion and need to remember the basics, otherwise they risk giving their opponent too many easy opportunities for points. Melbourne by 4.

Andrew FERGUSON

On paper this looks like 2 undefeated, form teams squaring off in a top of the table clash. But in reality, injuries have robbed the Knights of their two marquee players, while the Warriors injury toll continues to rise.

Last weekend the Knights accounted for a miserable Manly outfit 36-16, but it also saw fullback Kalyn Ponga suffer from a hamstring injury and new recruit, half Dylan Brown, succumb to a knee injury.

Ponga has been ruled out til Round 10, while Brown will be sidelined for at least a month. These injuries completely changes the Knights attack, playing style and structure for at least the next month. Last year, they proved that they were unable to adapt to injuries, so to be dealing with their 2 most integral attacking weapons could well be diabolical for the Knights.

The Warriors on the other hand have proven to be remarkably resilient. They went into Round 1 without their halves Luke Metcalf and Te Maire Martin, as well as centre Rocco Berry and middle forward Mitch Barnett and absolutely thumped a full-strength Roosters outfit 42-18.

Those same players who missed Round 1 were joined by back-rower Kurt Capewell last weekend and the Warriors destroyed last years Minor Premiers Canberra 40-6.

This week could prove to be too tall an order as they will be without fullback Charnze Nicol-Klokstad and half Chanel Harris-Tavita who both suffered concussions last week as well as Metcalf, Martin, Berry, Barnett and Capewell.

THINGS TO KNOW

- Knights have won just 1 of their last 11 games at McDonald Jones Stadium (and 19 of their last 48 (since R5, 2022) and 48 of their last 124 (since R5, 2015)
- Warriors have won 25 of their last 39 games against the Knights (since 2005)
- Jackson Ford will play his 100th NRL game
- Tanah Boyd has 149 Goals in NRL
- Sandon Smith will play his 50th NRL game
- Dane Gagai has 48 club tries for Newcastle
- Roger Tuivasa-Sheck has 47 club tries for the Warrior
- Mitchell Barnett's next match will be his 50th club game for the Warriors

The Knights started the season strong after their miserly campaign last year, opening with back-to-back victories against the lowly Cowboys 28-18 and the wonky Manly side last week 36-16. They have tough run over the next several weeks with games against the Warriors this weekend, then the Bulldogs and Raiders, followed by a revamped Wests Tigers, Roosters and Penrith – and are looking like they will have to take on all those teams without Ponga and Brown.

Fletcher Hunt shifts to fullback to cover Ponga, Fletcher Sharpe comes into the side to cover Brown, Sandon Smith shifts from five-eighth to halfback, Tyson Frizell and Mat Croker swap roles, with the former starting at Lock and the latter moving to the bench, while Thomas Cant, Francis Manuleleua and Tyson Gamble are all on the bench.

For the Warriors, Taine Tuapiki moves to fullback, while Luke Hanson comes into the side at five-eighth. Marata Niukore returns from injury via the bench, where he'll be joined by Morgan Gannon. Mitch Barnett is named as an extended reserve but isn't expected to play.

Who to watch: Young Warriors five-eighth Luke Hanson will be making his NRL debut in this game. The 22-year-old is a quality ball playing half, equally at home at halfback as he is at five-eighth and is expected to ably support and assist halfback Tanah Boyd. Boyd himself has been in stellar form in his two games thus far this year and won't see his side as being weakened by injuries, but instead will be eyeing off an opponent lacking the bulk of their attacking power.

The Knights three-quarter line is arguably the most dominant ball carrying, metre making backline in the competition. With no Dylan Brown and Kalyn Ponga, don't be surprised if the Knights look to muscle their way through the Warriors defence instead of trying to finesse their way around.

Favourite: The Warriors enter this match as favourites.

MY TIP: The Warriors resilience and the Knights missing Brown and Ponga compels me to pick the Warriors, and by plenty. Warriors by 22.

Sharks look for bounce back against rusty Dolphins

The Cronulla Sharks are looking to bounce back from a rough trip to Carrington Park in Bathurst when they return to Ocean Protect Stadium to host the Dolphins.

Cronulla were awesome in Round 1 in their thrashing of the Titans but they were quickly brought back down to earth with a thud after Penrith put them in the vice grip for much of the contest. The Sharks had no answers after Nathan Cleary's early 40/20 and they were on the back foot trying to establish any momentum from there. The bright spot was Jesse Colquhoun's strong performance up front in a pack that was soundly beaten while the halves completed a vanishing act in the second half.

To beat the Dolphins, they just need to attack the footy well. The Dolphins have a leaky defence, especially around the middle third and that gives the likes of Addin Fonua-Blake and the powerful back five of Katoa, Ramien and Iro a chance to punch holes through the Dolphins defence. Elsewhere, their defence was mostly solid. Apart from a collapse after half-time, the Sharks did a good job containing Penrith's lethal attack. That will again have to be on their game against a Dolphins offence that can score just as many as they tend to concede.

For the Dolphins, despite claiming their first win of the season against the Titans, Isaiya Katoa declared his side's performance as "scrappy" this week and will look to make amends against a Sharks side they have a good record against since entering the competition. There would be some defensive reads that coach Kristian Woolf would need to address, particularly his side's goal line defence which leaked that Cooper Bai try just after the break.

THINGS TO KNOW

- Sharks have won 36 of their last 49 games at Ocean Protect Stadium, including their last 8 straight.
- The Sharks average score in their last 8 games at home is 35-14
- Dolphins have 3 wins from 11 trips to Sydney, conceding 28.7 ppg in those matches.
- Kodi Nikorima has 47 Tries in NRL
- Braydon Trindall will play his 100th NRL game
- Selwyn Cobbo has 49 Tries in NRL
- Jamayne Isaako has 48 club tries for the Dolphins
- Jake Averillo will play his 50th club game for the Dolphins

But to defeat the Sharks, it will have to be a collective focus on attack and defence. Despite the Titans leaky start in Round 1, they answered a lot of questions thrown at them by the Dolphins attack and they didn't get rewarded until late. So their attacking execution will need to remain on point against a Sharks side that will look for a rebound. Expect the likes of Tabuai-Fidow and Farnworth to get quality service.

Onto team news and as expected, Craig Fitzgibbon has opted for a 1-19 approach. Teig Wilton is named in the reserves and could play if he passes through fitness procedures. The Dolphins too are unchanged with Seb Su'a on the six man bench as opposed to the rookie Brian Pouniu.

Who to watch: It's been a ruthless start for Kulikefu Finefeuiaki on the edge for the Dolphins. Having won the edge spot, Finefeuiaki has been impressive on the right edge running off Katoa's shoulder. He has averaged over 175 metres to start the season and will be on the tip sheet of the Sharks defenders. Expect him to continue to charge forward and cause carnage running off Katoa.

For the Sharks, the focus is on Jesse Ramien. Yes, the centre is getting attention because he is in a real prove it situation at the moment. Having been caught meeting prospective bidders for his services, Ramien crashed back to earth after a sound Round 1 performance with a brain-snap fuelled performance that'll make Cody Walker proud. Expect a bounce back from him as he works on Herbie Farnworth.

Favourite: The bookies have leaned on the Sharks as favourites for this one. Despite the Dolphins claiming two of the three meetings of the two sides.

MY TIP: Cronulla were really poor in Bathurst in terms of their attitude and willingness to compete so there will have to be a dramatic improvement in that department. The Dolphins will be up for this one and try to turn their poor Sydney record around with a commanding performance away from Brisbane. PVL Ball rules say this match has try scoring potential and there's a chance the game could be decided with a scoring raid in the final 20 minutes. Dolphins by 12.

Souths looking for bounce back win after record breaking night

In Round 3 of the NRL premiership we will see the South Sydney Rabbitohs host the Wests Tigers at Accor Stadium on Saturday night at 7:35pm.

Souths will be looking to rebound from their disappointing loss against the Sydney Roosters where they went down 26-18. The night was bittersweet for the foundation club however as winger Alex Johnston broke Ken Irvine's record to cement himself as the all time leading try scorer in first grade history.

The Bunnies have made a few changes as they look for their second win of the season. Jamie Humphreys has been named at halfback for the first time this year which sees Jayden Sullivan revert to the bench. Tallis Duncan has also been named to start on the edge, pushing Euan Aitken to the bench.

Wests Tigers had to be a bit patient to see their team this year and you could say it was worth the wait. The merger club put on an absolute clinic as they demolished the North Queensland Cowboys 44-16.

Highly touted youngster Heamasi Makasini made his debut in front of the Leichhardt Oval and new signing Kai Pearce-Paul announced himself to the Tiger army by scoring a double.

THINGS TO KNOW

- Souths have won 12 of their last 16 games against the Tigers.
- The Tigers have gone into a game as a top 5 side just 18 times since Rnd 8, 2014 and have won just 3 of those games, the last win coming in Rnd 2, 2019. They've lost all 5 games as a top 5 side since then.

RUGBY LEAGUE project

Taylan May picked up a shoulder injury in the Cowboys matchup and he is replaced by Jeral Skelton for this one. Patrick Herbert slots into the interchange in Skelton's place.

Tigers will be riding the high of last weekend's big win at home and Souths will be stinging to get back in the winners' circle after going down to the Roosters. Key matchups will be crucial in this one with Dave Fifita going up against Kai Pearce-Paul and Keaton Kolomatangi doing battle with Terrell May. The battle of five-eighths between Cody Walker and Jarome Luai will be an exciting watch as well.

Who to watch: All eyes will be on Makasini for this one as he goes into this game with a tricky matchup with Euan Aitken. The centre had a good debut despite not crossing over for a try as he ran for 131 metres and had 4 tackle busts, missing just one tackle in the process. The Wests Tigers faithful will be hoping he can replicate his trial form.

Jamie Humphreys is the one to keep an eye on for this matchup as he returns to the side following a suspension. He will be the third halfback for Souths in as many games this season and he'll be looking to lock down the spot with a strong performance against the Tigers.

Humphreys enjoyed a mixed bag of debut for the Bunnies last season as he started off with some strong games, including nailing the winning field goal against the Dragons but unfortunately struggled with injuries and suspension. He'll be looking to make the position his own this year as Wayne Bennett has indicated the jersey is up for grabs.

Favourite: South Sydney go into this one as favourites with the home ground advantage and the larger sample size of performances to go off as opposed to the Tigers.

MY TIP: With heavy rainfall expected in Sydney over the weekend I'm expecting this to be a close one. Both sides boast seasoned playmakers and exciting strike weapons but it will come down to who can handle the conditions the best. South Sydney by 4.

Sunday afternoon will see CommBank Stadium shine as a fired up Parramatta play a desperate St George Illawarra Dragons who need a win to kickstart their season.

Parramatta play at home with the sun gleaming down on the sacred turf of CommBank Stadium, having upset the reigning premiers 40-32 last Thursday night.

A shocking start saw multiple choice words spewing out of every Parramatta fan in Australia, only for the Eels run down a galloping Broncos attack. Jonah Pezet showed why Brisbane bought his services from 2027 with two try assists and a try of his own, while Isaiah Longi lit up the Broncos edge defense.

The Eels defensive line is cause for concern, conceding 84 points in just two weeks, but it's already a better start than most predicted for the competitions most unpredictable franchise. They have a chance to shore up the barracks against a Dragons side who are firing down the middle, but can't finish a game to save their lives.

Arguably duded in Las Vegas against the Bulldogs, the Dragons had the Melbourne Storm on the ropes before an all time capitulation saw the Red V go down 46-20.

Leading by two points with 20 minutes remaining, the Dragons let in five unanswered tries to see a win drift off the Wollongong coastline. Injuries to their halves didn't help the cause, but it showcased an all too familiar problem for St George - the inability to put a game to bed.

THINGS TO KNOW

- Eels have won 13 of their last 17 games against the Dragons (since 2013)
- Shane Flanagan has now coached 50 games for the Dragons, with a win rate of 38%, and an average score of 20-26.
- Dragons have lost their last 6 games, conceding at least 40 points in 4 of their last 5 games.
- Valentine Holmes has 447 Goals in NRL, and 49 for the Dragons
- Tyrell Sloan has 47 Tries in NRL

RUGBY LEAGUE project

Clint Gutherson returns to a place he used to call Parradise, as the Dragons look to secure their first win while the Eels chase a date with the top half of the table.

J'maine Hopgood returns to the Parramatta side having spent a week on the sidelines with suspension. His return to the starting side sees Jack Williams go to lock and Jack De Belin head to the bench. Brian Kelly stays in the reserves after being a late out last week.

Jacob Liddle returns for the Dragons on the bench after a hamstring injury delayed his start to the season, with Kyhkan King-Togia heading to the reserves. Hamish Stewart is named to start but may end up on the bench again come game time.

Who to watch: Isaiah Longi seems to be improving with every game he plays for the Eels, no matter what the score is. Last week, Sua Faalogo ripped apart the Dragons with a hat trick in 12 minutes. Longi has a running game that rivals the Storm fullback, possibly with a better passing game and a brilliant ability to copy with pressure under the high ball. While we likely won't see a hat trick from him, he will be the magic man in what could be a lightning Eels attack.

If the forwards for the Dragons can get a roll on early, Damien Cook will be extremely hard to control. The Eels were decimated by Harry Grant in round one, and while Cook is starting to lose a little pep in his step, the running game remains ever so elusive from dummy half. With a knack of scoring against the Eels in previous years, he will have to step up to give the Dragons their best chance.

Favourite: Parramatta have the backing at home after that last-start win.

MY TIP: CommBank Stadium can be a bit of a tricky place to play. The afternoon sun blinding the right wing, the Eels fans blaring, it's brutal. Parramatta are coming into this game with a huge wind in their sails, while the Dragons are licking their wounds. The said, the Eels forward pack has been awful to start the year. The Dragons will roll through the Eels in the middle - but they won't roll through the try line. The Eels attack will be too good in a high scoring affair. Parramatta by 6.

High temperatures and high stakes in all-Queensland showdown

The North Queensland Cowboys and Gold Coast Titans will be vying for their first wins of the season as Round 3 draws to a close in Townsville.

Having clocked up plenty of kilometres on the road over the opening fortnight of the season, the North Queensland Cowboys will be desperate to atone for back-to-back losses in their first home appearance for 2026.

Coming off a dismal showing against the Wests Tigers, going down 44-16 at Leichhardt Oval, last Saturday, coach Todd Payten has resisted against making mass changes with Reuben Cotter returning in place of Matt Lodge and Zac Laybutt included on the extended interchange after serving a two-match suspension.

The Cowboys have enjoyed a dominant record over the Titans during the past decade, winning 14 out of 19 meetings, including six out of ten matches contested during Payten's tenure.

In the time since Queensland Country Bank Stadium opened against the backdrop of the COVID-19 pandemic in 2020, the Cowboys have won their first home match of the season twice in six seasons.

Coming into Round 3 with a 0-2 record for the fifth time over the past ten seasons, the Gold Coast Titans will be desperate to get off the bottom of the premiership ladder.

Showing vast improvement from their opening round performance to lead 14-0 shortly after halftime, only to go down 18-14 to the Dolphins last Sunday, coach Josh Hannay has

THINGS TO KNOW

- The Cowboys have conceded 30.5 points per game across their last 19 NRL games (Since Rd 9, 2025)
- The Titans have conceded 30.4 points per game across their last 34 NRL games (since Rd 20, 2024)
- Cowboys have won 16 of their last 21 games against the Titans (Since 2014)
- Chris Randall will play his 100th NRL game

received a welcome boost with Jayden Campbell named as part of the six-man bench for his first appearance of the season.

The Titans have struggled historically in Townsville, winning four out of 18 appearances overall and boast one win from six visits to Queensland Country Bank Stadium.

Versatile forward Chris Randall will make his 100th appearance in first grade on Sunday night; the former Newcastle hooker joined the Titans three years ago playing 70 games across a variety of positions.

Who to watch: In a team that has been off the pace over the opening two rounds, a rare shining light for the men from North Queensland has been Braidon Burns. Averaging well over 150 running metres each week to go with 14 tackle breaks and a try, the 29-year-old journeyman has relished his opportunities across the backline after being handed a lifeline by the Cowboys two years ago. Set to become a free agent at season's end, Burns can expect to attract plenty of interest if recent performances are indicative of bigger things to come this season.

Lining up for his 100th appearance in first grade on Sunday evening, Chris Randall will be hoping his personal milestone can bring about a collective victory for the visitors. Making an eye-catching debut with 71 tackles as a hooker for Newcastle six years ago, the 30-year-old has found a home in the forward pack, averaging over 30 tackles to start the year in the number 13 jersey. Showing great tenacity to reach his century over the last seven seasons, look for Randall to offer more with the ball in hand if the Titans are to come away with their first win of the season.

Favourite: With both side sitting at the bottom of the premiership ladder, yet to register a victory after two rounds, the home ground advantage should be the edge the Cowboys need to open their 2026 account.

MY TIP: While both sides have shown defensive frailties, conceding over 30 points on average, to start the season, the Cowboys have proven to be better placed in a high-scoring shootout. North Queensland by 10.
